

Golf Bugs Take Up Bowling

Women golfers of Indianapolis are flocking to the Times free bowling school, being conducted through Thursday at three of the city's principal alleys by Mrs. Floretta D. McCutcheon, world's leading woman bowler.

The golf enthusiasts are finding that bowling meets their demand for a winter sport perfectly and they are showing great enthusiasm over the lessons being given by Mrs. McCutcheon.

Overflow crowds have been the rule at the Parkway alleys, Thirty-fourth and Illinois streets; the Uptown, Forty-second and College, and the Fountain Square alleys.

There still is time to get some valuable instruction in the ten-pin pastime, if you've been unable to attend any of the classes thus far. Every woman in the city, whether novice or experienced bowler, is invited.

If you're a beginner, Mrs. McCutcheon will teach you the fundamentals of the game. If you're a fair bowler, she'll give you suggestions that will improve your game.

Just look over the schedule below, choose the alley and the time most convenient for you, and then mail the blank to take alley.

What's in Fashion?

Greta Garbo's Military Coat

Directed By AMOS PARRISH

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—Shoulders back. Head up. Swinging along. That's the way you and other smart women are going to look when you go walking in the spring sunshine in the new 1932 costumes. Neat as West Point cadets every body admires. Slick as Greta Garbo, whom we recently saw walking on Fifth avenue in one of the new military coats of black and gray tilted with wide revers.

Garbo had the right idea when she chose that coat. It's the military silhouette, in coats and dresses... that's the fashionable one for daytime this spring.

Clean-cut in outline. Wide, square shouldered. Waistline nipped in. Hips narrow. Skirt straight.

But it isn't masculine looking... despite these vigorous lines. For one reason, these new coats and dresses fit so smoothly and snugly that they emphasize the feminine curves of the figure. And for another reason, there's plenty of soft detail in these costumes. That's something you'd never find in a real soldier's uniform, would you?

Tucks and Buttons
Many tucks, for example—used in the bodice or sleeves or shoulders. Fine little things that look handmade, by a clever dressmaker. Bits of fagoting (ladylike, that). Lots of buttons (another "dressmaker" idea) or are of bone or even wood.

You're going to see more soft scarfs this year than you saw even last year. And you saw plenty of them then, you'll remember. They help keep these new costumes feminine.

Revers High and Wide
But you'll notice that most scarfs are fastened down in some interesting way. The ends slipped under the belt or under a buttoned-down revers. Or held fast by a clip. That's so the end won't blow and mar the neat, unbroken outlines of the silhouette.

Revers, this spring, are high, wide and handsome. Wide on dresses. Even wider on coats and suits. Make you think a little of an officer's overcoat—though no army revers were ever as wide as these, certainly.

That's another feminine accent—the width. It keeps them from being too military and severe. Lots more military details, too. Epauleted sleeves, pockets, double-breasted overcoat effects, some deep gauntlet cuffs. But all of them softened and made to look feminine.

Federation Executive Is Appointed

Appointment of Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker of Austin, Tex., former president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, as international relations chairman of the National Council of Women is announced today by Miss Lena Madson Phillips of New York City, federation president.

Program developed by Mrs. Pennybacker for this committee will be in line with the broad new policy of the national council, which was adopted at a meeting of the board in December.

As an affiliated group of twenty-two of the leading women's organizations of the United States, with a membership approximating 5,000,000, the council will endeavor to correlate the work of the various committees of its member organizations.

Plan World Fair Aid

With a view to putting the new plan into operation, Mrs. Pennybacker is calling an immediate meeting of the international relations chairman of the member organizations connected with the council.

One of the immediate projects of international aspect which is engaging the attention of the national council, and of Mrs. Pennybacker's committee is an international congress of women to be held in connection with the Century of Progress Exposition at Chicago in 1933.

Miss Merica Hoagland, chairman of the state committee of the international congress, announced committee appointments as follows at a board meeting of May Wright Sewall state council Monday at the Lincoln.

Mrs. Edna E. Pauley, patriotic societies; Mrs. Mary E. Kynett, publicity; Dr. Edna Hatfield Edmondson, Bloomington; education; Mrs. David Ross and Mrs. Earl Peck, Ft. Wayne; local and state leaders of Photoplays, and Mrs. T. G. Hadden, Bloomington, May Wright Sewall historical sketch.

Dr. Schweitzer Speaks
Appointment of Mrs. C. W. Foltz as general chairman of the state convention here in April also was announced by Mrs. Pauley, president.

Dr. Ada E. Schweitzer, among the several speakers on the program, spoke on child welfare work, and discussed the need of providing recreation for children during these times of economic stress, as well as the necessary food and clothing. Providing proper recreation is constructive building for the future, Dr. Schweitzer stated, as a method of crime prevention.

Mrs. Florence Roddick Boys discussed the need for feeding undernourished children. Another speaker, Dr. Edmondson, praised the fine morale of young people shown during the depression and spoke of student life as being a period of chastening. Mrs. Felix T. McWhirter, chairman of Better Homes in Indiana, spoke on that movement and announced that the week of April 4 has been designated as Better Homes week.

Daily Recipe SCALLOPED LIVER AND POTATOES

1 pound liver, sliced thin
Salt and pepper
Flour
2 tablespoons bacon fat
1 quart thinly sliced potatoes
1 small onion, minced
1-2 cups milk

Salt and flour the liver and brown slightly in the bacon fat. Place a layer of the raw potatoes in a greased baking dish, sprinkle with salt and pepper, add some of the liver and onion and continue until all are used. The top layer should be of potatoes. Pour on the milk, cover and bake for one hour in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.), or until the potatoes are tender. At the last remove the cover and allow potatoes to brown on top.

SELF INSURANCE AND THE OSTRICH

The old story about the ostrich applies to the municipality, state or industry that thinks self-insurance affords real protection.

As long as there is no loss, it looks as good as any. But let disaster come—

STOCK FIRE INSURANCE

is a business—conducted by insurance organizations that have back of them a wealth of experience and resources to give each policy genuine stability. It not only pays when loss occurs, but provides protective services which have led to steadily decreasing insurance costs over a long period of years. Ask your agent about it.
