

LARGE DONORS RALLY TO HELP OF DRY LEAGUE

Indiana Organization Has Not Curtailed Its Work,
Says Superintendent.

Contributors of large amounts to funds of the Indiana Anti-Saloon League have stood by the organization "like a rock wall" and prevented it from suffering the inroads of depression.

That was the assertion today of L. E. York, superintendent of the Indiana organization, commenting on recent stories that the Anti-Saloon League of America faces financial disaster.

The Indiana league, York said, is solvent and fast is paying off a small indebtedness. It has no notes in the hands of the national league, he added.

"Due to the faithfulness of our larger contributors," York said, "our income today is approximately 80 per cent of what it was a few years ago, despite the depression."

Work Not Curtailed

"While we have faced some delinquency in payment of smaller pledges, our larger contributors have stood like a rock wall, increasing, rather than decreasing, their pledges."

"We have not had to curtail our work or our staff."

York said the Indiana league, in 1931, received pledges and cash amounting to $41,680.92. Cash receipts were $35,515. At present the league has $22,412 in unpaid subscriptions, he added.

The difference in the figures is accounted for, he said, by the fact that some of the cash received was pledged the previous year, and that some of the pledges, paid quarterly or semi-annually, were made late last year and are not yet due.

In 1927, he said, cash and pledges totaled $54,000.

Gain in Pledges Expected

"We have found we can depend on collecting approximately 80 per cent of our subscriptions," he declared.

"In the various towns and cities we have visited this year for pledges, we have found a gratifying response, in some instances total pledges exceeding those of last year."

We expect this year's contributions to exceed those of 1931 because this is a presidential year and more money is needed."

The Indiana league, he explained, pays no "dues" to the national league, but, instead, helps the national league to raise its own funds in this state.

HOLD FLINT MAYOR IN LIQUOR GANG ROUNDUP

Police Chief, 11 Others Charged With Rum Plot.

By United Press
FLINT, Mich., Feb. 19.—Mayor William McKeighan and twelve others named in wholesale indictments returned by a federal grand jury at Bay City Thursday were free on $2,000 bond to fight charges of conspiring to violate the national prohibition laws.

The mayor, avowed candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor, was arraigned in Bay City Wednesday night along with Police Chief Caesar J. Scavarda, also acting city manager; Mrs. Lillian Ordway, a policewoman, and four police officers. Pleas of not guilty were entered for them.

BOOTLEGGING BIBLES IS NEWEST RACKET

American Publishers Fight Influx
From Foreign Firms.

By United Press
NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—"Bootlegging" of Bibles into the United States from Europe has brought a protest to the American Paper and Pulp Association.

American publishers contend they can not meet foreign competition, as depreciated currency has made possible the shipment of cut-rate Bibles to America.

Candidate

The Rev. J. S. E. McMichael.

By Times Special
CONNEERSVILLE, Ind., Feb. 19.—The Rotary club of Connersville has endorsed the Rev. J. S. E. McMichael, pastor of the First Presbyterian church here since 1921, for Indiana district Rotary governor.

Election will be held at the state convention in Indianapolis Monday and Tuesday. He is a graduate of Westminster college, New Wilmington, Pa., with the degree of A. B. and of the Xenia (O.) Theological seminary.

Interstate Compact Will Be Asked in Congress.

By Scripps-Howard Newspaper Alliance
WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—An interstate compact to restrict and control petroleum production will be proposed to congress in the near future.

The measure is being drawn by the legal subcommittee of the oil states advisory committee, which has assembled in Washington.

The subcommittee consists of C. C. Murray of Oklahoma, cousin of Governor W. H. Murray and chairman of the oil states advisory committee; Warwick M. Downing of Denver and Kenner McConnell of Columbus, O.

Ten states are involved in the movement to set up an interstate body for conservation of oil, gas, and natural resources, modeled upon the seven-state Colorado river compact, which paved the way for the Boulder dam project.

DIGEST POLL LED BY REPEAL VOTERS

(From The Literary Digest of Feb. 20, 1932)

State	Favor Contin- uance of 18th Amendment	Favor Repeal of 18th (Prohibition)	Total
Georgia	1,684	3,588	5,252
Illinois	493	2,901	3,454
Indiana	1,909	3,540	5,449
Maryland	2,208	10,616	12,824
New York	32,338	224,877	257,215
North Carolina	4,999	7,142	12,141
Ohio	6,005	15,064	21,069
Virginia	1,669	4,477	6,146
	51,285	272,265	323,550

The vote for "Repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment" outnumbered that for "Continuance of the Prohibition Amendment" by more than five to one in the first scattering returns from eight states of the Literary Digest current nation-wide straw ballot on prohibition.

Of the total of 323,550 votes received in this first tabulation, 51,285 are for prohibition and 272,265 are for the repeal of the prohibition amendment, or 15.85 per cent "dry" and 84.15 per cent "wet."

The eight states represented in the initial returns of the poll include New York, Virginia, North Carolina, Maryland, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana and Ohio.

In this early tabulation New York is the wettest of these states, with a percentage of 87.43 for repeal, and North Carolina is the driest, with a percentage of 41.17 for continuance of the eighteenth amendment.

Illinois and Maryland are second and third in wetness, with wet percentages of 85.73 and 82.79, respectively.

Second and third in dryness of the states reported are Indiana and Georgia, with dry percentages of

500 TEACHERS WILL MEET AT BALL COLLEGE

Commerce Instructors to Attend Annual Sessions in Muncie.

By Times Special
MUNCIE, Ind., Feb. 19.—More than 500 teachers of commerce in high schools and colleges of Indiana and several from other states will be in Muncie Saturday to attend the twelfth annual conference. Miss Winifred West of Broad Ripple high school, Indianapolis, chairman of the conference, will preside at all sessions, which will be held in assembly hall, Ball State Teachers college.

The conference is held each year prior to the Indiana state high school commercial contest, scheduled this year for April 30. Professor M. E. Studebaker, head of the department of commerce at Ball college, is director of the conference and contests.

"Motivation in the Teaching of Business Subjects," will be the general theme of the conference. Dr. Paul S. Lomax, professor of education, New York university, will be the principal speaker. His address, which will be given at 9:15 Saturday morning, will be on the subject, "Motivation as a Creative Force in the Teaching of Business Subjects."

Other talks in the morning session will be "Motivation in Bookkeeping," by Eldon Johnson, Huntington township high school, and "The High School Commercial Club as a Motivating Factor in Secondary School Business Education," by Miss Beulah Buchanan, Mishawaka high school. Luncheon will be served in Lucia hall.

At the afternoon session three talks will be given, followed by a round-table discussion. Speakers and their subjects are: "Motivation in Shorthand," by Vernal H. Carmichael, Ball college; "Motivation in Junior Business Training," by Elvin S. Syster, North Side high school, Ft. Wayne, and "Motivation in Typewriting," by Miss Jennie Ruel, Madison high school.

An educational exhibit of class projects, used in motivating class work, and furnished by commercial teachers in all parts of the state, will be on display. The exhibit is in charge of Earl Clevenger of the department of commerce.
