

STATE CHECKS LIGHT COMPANY BOOKS AGAIN

Seek to Learn If Figures in Stock Prospectus Are True Rates Basis.

Books of the Indianapolis Power and Light Company today were being rechecked by public service commission auditors and accountants to learn if profit figures shown in a stock sales prospectus, issued by the company, are true.

Commissioner Harry K. Cuthbertson ordered the recheck in anticipation of city attorneys Thursday filing a petition for reconsideration of the light rate cut petition which the commission last week dismissed without a formal hearing on the basis of the company's plea of decreased revenue.

City officials plan to submit the company's prospectus, claiming $122,000 more profit in the first nine months of 1931 than for the entire year of 1930.

Cuthbertson today reiterated his promise of Monday that, if profit figures shown in the stock prospectus are found to be true, electric light rates here will be reduced at once.

"If we find these figures are true, we will act to reduce rates," he said. "I am willing always to admit my mistake if I have been in error."

"If I have been fooled there will be hell to pay."

Cuthbertson refused to say what action would be taken on the city's petition for rehearing, which is being completed by city attorneys today, but it is understood commission members favor granting the petition because the dismissal order was issued without formal hearing.

INJUNCTION HEARINGS START IN U. S. COURT

United Mine Workers Petition Dismissal of Action.

Hearings on six injunction suits filed by southern Indiana mine operators against the United Mine Workers of America were opened today in federal court before Judge Louis Fitzhugh of the southern Illinois federal district.

The operators filed suit to enjoin districts No. 8 and No. 11 of the mine workers' order from interference with mines operated on the co-operative system. Judge Robert C. Baltzell and Judge Thomas W. Slick disqualified themselves.

The defendants in the suit this morning asked for dismissal of four of the six suits, claiming the federal court had no jurisdiction in the case. Judge Fitzhugh refused to render an immediate decision, but intimated that the dismissal claims were not strong enough.

STATE SENATOR SEEKS CONGRESSMAN POST

Thurman A. Gottschalk, Berne, to Contest Hogg's Seat.

Candidacy for the Democratic nomination as congressman from the Fourth Indiana district was announced today by Thurman A. Gottschalk, Berne, Ind., state senator.

Prominent in Democratic affairs throughout the state, Gottschalk is a member of the state budget committee.

In his announcement, the state senator declared he would support modification of the dry law if elected.

Congressional incumbent from the Fourth district, which recently was altered in reorganization of state districts, is David Hogg of Ft. Wayne. Gottschalk is a tile manufacturer.

Miss Lavonia Hatfield of Frankfort, clerk in the state auditor's office, today announced her candidacy on the Democratic ticket for nomination for Clinton county recorder.

Chicago Truck Driver Protests $263
Fine for Trailer.

In Ripley, Tenn., there's an item for Ripley, if so be that William H. Hinchcliff, Chicago truck line operator, to the public service commission today, is true.

Hinchcliff told Ralph Young, chief of the commission truck division, that he was assessed $263 for running a trailer truck through the town of Ripley. The truck was loaded with batteries, Hinchcliff said.

In addition, Ripley officials threatened to tax Hinchcliff $500 for a billboard attached to the side of the trailer, he told Young.

Hinchcliff also conferred with Grover Garrett, chief of state police, regarding the tax.

State Lacks Copy of Charter

HARTFORD, Conn., Feb. 24.—The state of Connecticut has no copy of the famous charter of the colony of Connecticut, which was hidden in historic Charter Oak here, according to Albert C. Bates, librarian of the Connecticut Historical Society. He claims the only copy now rests in the society's library.

COLD EPIDEMIC HEAVY DRAIN ON SCHOOLS' FUNDS

$5,000 Is Transferred to Employ Substitute
Teachers.

Forced into a new financial crisis
by the recent epidemic of colds, the Indianapolis school board assailed
the state board of tax commissioners Tuesday night for "underestimation" of the school city's fund
needs.

After transferring $2,500 from the regular teachers' salary fund to the substitute teachers' fund two weeks ago, the board Tuesday night found itself confronted with a new resolution for the additional transfer of $5,000 to the substitute teachers'
fund.

"It is unavoidable," said A. B.

Good, business director of the schools. "The epidemic of colds
played havoc in our teaching staff
and the tax commissioners' cut in our substitute teachers' fund is proving a fair example of poor
economy."

Good revealed that only $800 was left in the substitute fund and the $5,000 transfer was urgent.

"Very well," asserted Russell Wilson, school board president, "insert
in that resolution the words 'underestimated by the state board of tax commissioners.' We're not the ones who made the mistake."

"We are borrowing now from the regular teachers' fund and we have three months to go. We may be borrowing to fill that fund before we're through this year."

The board insisted the original substitute teacher fund request would have been adequate to take care of the school city problems in this department for the entire year.

SON HELD FOR NONSUPPORT

Refuses to Give Crippled
'Even a Nickel.'

George Ehlers, 23, life-guard at a hotel swimming pool, who declared
"I won't give her a nickel," was arraigned today on a charge of failing to support his crippled mother.
Mrs. Evaline Ehlers, 54, was placed on probation until June 30 and ordered to pay her $3 a week.

Wiping tears from her eyes, Mrs.
Ehlers stood before Judge William H. Sheaffer in municipal court and told of doing washings and other heavy work, despite her crippled condition, in order to support herself and son in his younger days.

He was made fatherless at 3.
The mother said her son had not supported her since last summer.
"I met him a few days ago and asked him for help, and he said

he would not give me a nickel," she asserted.

"I won't give her a nickel," Ehlers
interrupted.

"Yes, you will," Sheaffer told him.
The court then wrote the probation order. Ehlers immediately paid $6.
The son, a husky six-footer, was neatly dressed for his appearance in court. He said he makes only $45
a month.

The son lives at 529 East Twelfth street and the mother at 917 East
St. Clair street.
