

RULE NEGROES MUST DIE FOR GIRL ATTACKS

High Court Upholds Death
Verdict in Freight
Car Crime.

By United Press
MONTGOMERY, Ala., March 24.—The Alabama supreme court today upheld seven of eight convictions in the Scottsboro assault case, resulting from an alleged attack by Negro youths on two white girls. The Negroes had been sentenced to death after a trial under protection of national guardsmen. Attorneys retained by the International Labor Defense appealed the convictions to the state supreme court.

The supreme court set May 13, a Friday, as the execution date.

Charges against the Negroes grew out of an episode on a freight train near Scottsboro, Ala., last March. Testimony at the trial was that Ruby Bates and Victoria Price, white girls, "hoboing" from Chattanooga to Huntsville, Ala., were in a freight car with seven white youths when ten or twelve Negroes jumped aboard.

Fists started to fly. The white youths were thrown from the train one by one. According to the testimony of the girls, the Negroes then attacked them.

Nine Negroes were arrested soon after the freight car incident by a posse which met the train at Painesville, Ala. When the prisoners were thrust into the Scottsboro jail, a mob formed muttering about lynching. National guardsmen were summoned. The Negroes were bundled out into automobiles and taken to Gadsden, Ala., for safe keeping.

Their trial was held at Scottsboro, in the small court house protected by guardsmen with machine guns and bayonets, who kept crowds estimated at 10,000 to 20,000 in order.

The trials were speedy. Eight of the defendants were sentenced to death.

The ninth, only 14, obtained a mistrial on technical grounds. He will be retried at the spring term of court.

Association's Governors Urge Call
