

Courses at Y. W. Draw Near Close

Classes at the Central Y. W. C. A. are holding final meetings with the arrival of spring, and before the opening of summer activities at the association. The class in gardening held its closing session this morning, and the "New Roads in Reading" group which meets tonight will terminate its series at the end of the month.

"Green Hell," by Julian Duguid, and "Jungles Preferred," by Miller will be reviewed by Mrs. Bjorn Winger for the "New Roads in Reading" group at 6:30 tonight. The group will continue its meetings during April. The talks are open to single admission.

Mrs. Archer C. Sinclair, of 3620 Totem lane, gave the closing talk in the series on gardening at the Central Y. W. C. A. this morning. She discussed and illustrated the simple underlying principles governing the relationship of the grounds to the house and the importance of planning the grounds as a whole.

Mrs. Sinclair is a graduate of the Loretto School of Landscape Architecture of Groton, Mass.

A luncheon program of readings of one-act plays was to be given by the senior class in self expression of the Y. W. C. A. educational department today. The readers are: Mediamas Arthur R. Dewey, W. J. Teter, Mark M. Covart, E. H. Davis, Bessie Herrlich and Miss Helen Becker. Mrs. Leo K. Pesler is the Y. W. C. A. instructor in self expression.

Buttons Will Be Supreme in Newest Fashions for Spring

BY JOAN SAVOY
NEA Service Writer

THIS spring, the question of "Who's got the button?" is answered easily. The answer is: "Almost every modish woman." For Dame Fashion literally has buttonholed all her chic children, and the smart lady who once was content to "button up her overcoat" now finds herself doing the same thing to trim, military new daytime frocks. And sometimes to formal gowns, too!

If you think buttons aren't going to be the supreme decorative element of the season, just knock on wood. In fact, you can knock on the wooden buttons of the novel outdoor-and-indoor dress which Barbara Schwinn has sketched today.

Just look at them, as the slim, young woman steps into her roadster for a spin through the countryside. See for yourself to what lengths buttons can go—all the way from the neck to the wrist! And between buttons, the skin plays peekaboo with the spring sunshine.

Beautifully molded to the figure, the circular skirt gives a graceful movement to the costume. The dress is of dyed twine with an interesting pattern of hand-woven angora. It is very successful in teter denegre or midnight blue with red buttons.

Above the high, fitted waistline is a blouse with high neckline and large sleeves that betray the Russian influence.

Add one dash of bluetip-tilted sailor—and serve to an admiring public!

Bride-Elect to Be Honored at Bridge-Shower

Mrs. Kurt Ehler, 4919 Kenwood avenue, will entertain tonight with a bridge party and kitchen shower in honor of Miss Anne Daugherty, whose marriage to Robert Hunter Slater, Louisville, will take place on April 16, in the McKee chapel of the Tabernacle Presbyterian church. Spring flowers will be arranged about the home and will center the tables at serving time. Appointments will be in pastel shades to correspond. Mrs. Ehler will be assisted by her mother, Mrs. E. K. Erber.

Guests will include: Mrs. Harry Daugherty and Misses Letha and Matilda Daugherty, mother and sisters of the bride-elect; their house guest, Mrs. Harry Kay, Wisconsin, Ill.; Mrs. Carl Daugherty, the bride-elect's sister-in-law; and Mesdames Walter Baker Williams, Eugene Whitehill, Maurice Lunte, Lee Seaway, Misses Nellie Richardson, Marion Whitney, and Gertrude Hardesty.

Card Parties

Altar society of St. Philip Neri church will have a card party at 2:30 Wednesday at the church auditorium. Mrs. H. B. Magee is in charge.

Ladies' society of Holy Angels church will give a card party at 2:30 Wednesday at the hall, Twenty-eighth street and Northwestern avenue.

St. Patrick's Social Club will give a card party at 8:30 Wednesday night, and at 2:30 Friday afternoon at the church hall. Mrs. John Murphy is in charge.

Luther Mothers' Club will give a card party at 2 Thursday at the clubrooms, 1309 West Market street. Parent-Teacher Association of School 15 will give a benefit card and luncheon party Wednesday night at the Bond bakery, 326 West Vermont street. Mrs. L. O. Royer is president, and Mrs. Frank J. Baase, chairman of the committee, in charge.

CLIPS ELIMINATE DANGER OF LOSS

Clips or buttons... which will you use to fasten your newest dress or jacket? The clip certainly has one advantage over the button... buttons don't always come back from the laundry while clips don't have to go there, as they are easily removed and replaced.

Metal clips are some of the smartest for this military season. Stars, triangles, circles, discs... in fact, almost any shape you want.

FITTED CAPES ARE NOVEL FASHION

Elbow-length fitted capes—either matching the dress or contrasting with it, and worn with contrasting blouse—are a novel, new fashion. They're in the same fashion class as jacket dresses or jacket and skirt outfits, but the cape gives the outfit a newer look.

Mrs. Bingham Marries

Mrs. Katherine Kidder, 311 East Fifty-first street, announces the marriage of her daughter, Mrs. Katherine Kidder Bingham, to George Cameron Lehmuth, Hartford, Conn. The wedding took place Monday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burrows, Winnetka, Ill. Mr. and Mrs. Lehmuth will reside in Hartford.

Pledge Rites Set

Formal pledge services will be held Wednesday night by Alpha Chapter, Omega Tau sorority, in the Oak room at Selig's for Mrs. W. F. Durbin, Mrs. Hylton Mendenhall, Misses Norma Campbell, Catherine Cooney, Winifred McKinley, Jeanette Mead and Mildred Wilson. They were entertained.

Gives Luncheon Bridge

Mrs. Sol Anowitz, 2334 Ashland avenue, entertained today with a luncheon-bridge party at her home. Spring flowers were used about the house and centered the luncheon tables. Appointments were in shades of green. Twelve guests were entertained.

Church Group to Meet

Calendar Circle of First United Lutheran church will hold its April meeting at 2:30 Thursday at the church parlors. Mrs. George Gramer will read a paper, "American Women" and Milton Dike, the Christ church "boy soprano" will sing.

SIMPLE SPORTS TYPE FROCK

Myriads of lovely cottons, linen, crinkle or flat crepe silk would make up charmingly in this model.

It's exceptionally lovely to complete your spring ensemble, whether you choose a plain or a printed crepe silk.

Carried out in cotton pique, diagonal woolen type cottons or in linen, it will tub and tub and always come up smiling. Its simple styling makes it easily laundered.

The panel skirt that extends into a bib-like effect in the bodice gives youthful slowness to the figure.

Style No. 369 is designed in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20 years, 36, 38 and 40 inches bust. Size 18 requires 2 1/2 yards 39-inch material.

Order our new Fashion magazine to show you the way in design, colors, etc.

Price of book 10 cents.

Price of pattern 15 cents in stamps or coin (coin is preferred). Wrap coin carefully.

NEW YORK, April 5.—"Rainy tomorrow," the weather bureau probably will say very often in the next few weeks.

"Well, what of it?" will be the comeback of the woman who knows that her new raincoat is one of the slickest fashions in her wardrobe.

For raincoats are getting to look more and more like twin sisters of regular street coats. They have the high side fastenings flanked with a row of buttons.

Epaulets broaden their shoulders. They fit with the trim precision of the new spring coats. And they come in the best street coat colors as well as in bright reds and blues.

Scarf Raincoat Clever

You can even have Lyolene's popular scarf coat in a soft, sleek waterproofed fabric. The scarf ties at the neck, passes under the side fastening and appears in loops just above the belt.

No need to worry about its bright plaid folds wilting in the rain. They're of the same material as the rest of the coat.

If you want to put bad weather in its place very effectively, you'll have one of the white capped coats. With the cape lined in dashing red. Or maybe just a plain white double-breasted coat with white hat and umbrella.

Just Like Sports Coats

But it's the two-time coats in waterproofed tweeds and polo cloths that are getting a hand from most smart women. You see them motorizing or walking, in big-pocketed, raglan polo coats piped in leather, and you never guess till a shower comes up that the fabric has a duck's back quality.

Accessories that go out in the rain can be just as gay as these coats. Our free bulletin on "How to Look Smart in the Rain" tells you how to choose these so you won't have the old rainy day look. Send the coupon for this bulletin.

MANNERS AND MORALS BY JANE JORDAN

EVERY letter that Jane Jordan receives will be read carefully and studied. Every problem is important, and a solution will be suggested in this column.

Dear Jane Jordan—Less than a year ago, I would have dreamed with reverence that romantic love was unquenchable. I was of the opinion that although one's love was not reciprocated, it still would endure. Life has taught me otherwise. Romantic love can die. Even the best of us are subject to emotional lulls and depths of such a love.

I was not romantically in love with the man I married, but he has all the qualities that make for true companionship and I adore him! Which brings back the old adage, "As is he, so is that sinner."

Dear Cleopatra—Thank you for your letter which I devoutly hope will help many others now in the throes of a frustrated affection. I receive innumerable letters from boys and girls who have been disappointed in love. They swear by all that's holy that they never can love again.

People seem to feel that there's something noble in their fidelity to a love that failed. The searchlight of modern psychology reveals this worn-out Byronic pose for what it is. Cowardice, not constancy, holds them to their love.

Such people are self-deceived. By contrasting their faithfulness with the unfaithfulness of the beloved, they partially contrive to restore a feeling of superiority. They should face these facts squarely: That the pleasures of the martyr are negative; that it is unhealthy to idealize any form of defeat; that joy is the child of achievement, and victory the best road to happiness.

The chances are that these rejected lovers would not have been happy with the object of their affections. It was better for them to have discovered the instability of the loved one before a marriage was contracted.

Instead of thanking their lucky stars for saving them years of pain, they retreat from life by refusing to recover. They seek to avoid the future by hanging on to the past, but moves on to the next experience with hope in his heart.

Young people who disagree are welcome to tear into me with letters. Be sure to explain your case and tell me your reasons for disagreement. I will make you think hard, try it.

Dear Lonesome Lover—The only solution I can see for you is financial independence from your father. Then you can live where you choose and have the normal friendship with young people which are your birthright. Don't let the present scarcity of jobs deter you. Seek work with determination and courage. Write me when you feel blue and ready to give up. As for your love affair, you will find your answer in the letter to Cleopatra. Think it over and write again.

Dear Bewildered—I can not tell you what caused the young lady to change her mind overnight about marrying you, but I can tell you that such a weathervane personality is not the type on which you should center your emotions. Women always will flirt and experiment before they settle down to permanent love partners, but I do not like this girl's peculiar attitude toward a promise. At least she owed you an explanation. Don't let the experience lick you or deter you in your search for a happy companionship. The world is full of women and most of them want men. So cheer up.

Dear Girl Out-of-Work—I am sorry that I can not find a job for you, but that is not in my province. I suggest that you put your request in the regular want ad department and see if you do not get a response. If you have any emotional troubles on your mind in addition to financial ones, I will be glad to advise you, if you will tell me what they are.

Mrs. Guy H. Shadinger and Mrs. Thor G. Wesenberg will be at home to members of the Women's Faculty Club of Butler university from 3 to 5 on Wednesday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. Wesenberg, 429 Buckingham drive.

Liquid Shampoo

Save all little pieces of good castle soap or other bland soap. Shave up these pieces, melt them in a little hot water and put in a few drops of your favorite perfume. Cry and bottle the mixture. It makes an excellent liquid shampoo.

Cheer Sick Children

Picture books that show children how to make shadows on the walls with their hands are excellent gifts for bed-ridden tots. Blunt scissors and big advertising pictures also can keep them happy until they get well enough to get up.

KEEPS little AILMENTS from growing into BIG ONES!

It may be just a coated tongue tonight... with dull eyes, bad color and breath. But by these symptoms Nature is telling you that you may have a sick child tomorrow. Help tonight is simple. Tomorrow it may be harder. A single simple dose of Castoria is usually all that's needed to bring relief; it often keeps a serious illness from developing. Castoria, you know, is the children's own remedy—made specially to give the gentle help their delicate organs must have. It is a pure vegetable preparation; contains no harsh drugs, no narcotics.

In any starting illness such as a cold, a little fever, a food upset, a first dose of Castoria is always a wise precaution. It's never hard to give children to take Castoria. They love its taste, and are grateful for the relief it always brings to tied-up systems.

For babies or for older children, depend on Castoria's gentle regulation. It has kept many a little ailment from growing into a serious one! Genuine Castoria always has the name Chas. H. Fletcher on the package.

Chas. H. Fletcher.

Miss Katherine Mulvey will entertain Wednesday night with a party shower, and Mrs. Raymond Cain and Mrs. Louis Webber of Williamsburg will entertain Saturday. Chi Sigma sorority will give a party in her honor April 13. Hostesses who have not set dates for their parties are Miss Lauretta E. Grumann and Miss Cornelia Cooney.

MATINEE MUSICALE TO INSTALL HEADS

Mrs. Harvey B. Martin is receiving reservations for the annual luncheon and business meeting of the Indianapolis Matinee Musicale Friday at the Propylaeum, when officers for 1932-33 will be installed. Mrs. Robert I. Blakeman, retiring president, will preside.

Mrs. Martin has been in charge of arrangements, and has announced that the program will be given by the Mu Phi Epsilon Patroness ensemble. Members of all sections and guests are invited to attend.

VENETIAN BLINDS SMART, PRACTICAL

For the summer sun room the Venetian blind is proving to be not only a practical affair, but a decorative one. They are especially smart when the strip of fabric at the side is painted to match the color of the wall. For instance, white blinds with a green stripe against a green wall.

Eyelets Embroidered

Here's a cool-looking fashion for you... eyelet embroidered shoes. The shoes may be of fabric or of kid with the eyelets embroidered in them just as they are on the fashionable eyelet batiste.

Guimpes Revived

Lots of youthful dresses are being made to be worn with real old-fashioned guimpes. Several guimpes can be chosen to go with one dress... some white and some in color... making different costumes.

Daily Recipe POPOVERS

- 2 eggs
1 cup bread flour
1 scant cup milk
1-3 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon melted butter
- Heat oven to 450 degrees Fahrenheit.
- Mix and sift flour and salt. Beat eggs slightly in a bowl with a Dover beater. Add melted butter and continue to beat until the mixture is smooth and full of bubbles. Heat muffin pans until hissing hot and grease them thoroughly.
- Fill each pan half full of popovers and place at once in preheated oven. Bake for twenty minutes at this temperature, then lower the temperature to 350 degrees F. and continue baking for 20 minutes.
- Turn off heat and let stand in oven for five minutes. Serve at once.
- The popovers should be nicely browned, more than double in height, very light and hollow inside.
