

STOCKS PROBE ADJOURNED BY SENATE GROUP

Untermyer Is Proposed to Lead Investigation of
'Bear Raids.'

WASHINGTON, April 12.—The senate banking and currency committee today adjourned its stock market investigation until next Monday at 10:30 a. m.

The committee continued its morning session for a short time to conclude the questioning. Proposals that the senate banking and currency committee ask Samuel Untermyer of New York to lead its investigation of alleged bear raids on the stock market were made today by committee members. They complained the inquiry so far had been "a fiasco."

The dissatisfied committee members took the position that in the first day of examination, Richard Whitney, president of the New York exchange, had all the best of the argument and that to support administration charges a skilled cross-examiner is necessary. Short holdings on the stock market from April 1 to April 6 when the administration suspected an unprecedented bear raid was in the making, were revealed today by the committee, showing that the greatest short position was in United States Steel and General Motors.

Short holdings of Steel, April 1, aggregated 384,432 shares and by April 6 it had been reduced to 361,689 shares.

General Motors short interest April 1, was 263,905 shares and on April 6, 262,408.

The figures given out were supplied the committee by Whitney. Similar declines were noticeable throughout the list from the first to the sixth. One or two stocks were outstanding for short turnover. Consolidated Oil had no short interest April 1, but was 35,768 shares short on April 4 and 35,098 shares short on April 6.

Sinclair Consolidated was short 33,853 on April 1 and on April 4 there were no short interests reported.

The aggregate of short holdings on April 1 was 3,279,385; April 4, 3,189,596; April 5, 3,059,658; April 6, 3,063,927. Whitney, resuming his testimony before the committee today, revealed that on April 7 the short interest had declined to 2,849,895

RITZY DRINKING JOINT IS RAIDED BY DRY AGENTS

Restaurant Had 10 Rooms,
Well Furnished; Wine, Whisky Seized.

Federal dry agents, aided by a police squad led by Sergeant Wayne Bear, Monday night raided a restaurant which, it is alleged, has been a popular drinking place for high school pupils.

Raids which started at the Rome restaurant, 3050 Madison avenue, operated by Louis De Fabis, 35, extended to the automobile and home of his brother, Mike, 41. In all, the raiders said they seized 160 gallons of wine, thirty-seven gallons of whisky and seventy-five quarts of beer.

According to the officers, the restaurant is one of the best furnished liquor purveying places in Indianapolis. Ten private drinking rooms are described in a report of the raid.

While the place was being searched, Mike De Fabis arrived in an automobile from which officers said they removed two gallons of whisky and five gallons of wine.

At his home at 3241 Newton avenue, officers said they found 155 gallons of wine in barrels and 55 quarts of whisky in the basement. A reinforced concrete cache beneath the floor of a garage is reported to have yielded thirty-five gallons of whisky in charred kegs.

The De Fabis brothers and Armand Cimoril, 19, a waiter in the restaurant, are held on federal prohibition charges.
