

State Film Indorsers in City Parley

Annual convention of the Indiana Indorsers of Photoplays will be held Friday in the palm room at the Claypool. It is the sixteenth annual session of the organization.

The meeting will open with a round table discussion at 10:30, on "Pictures, Good and Bad," and "Has Censorship Helped in Getting Better Productions?"

Reports will be given by Mrs. R. E. Hinman, chairman of the state W. C. T. U.; Mrs. H. H. Sloan, chairman for the State Federation of Women's Clubs; Mrs. Julia Bell Tuteville, resolutions committee, and Mrs. G. A. Brattin, for the nominating committee.

Speakers Are Listed

Speakers for the morning session will include the Rev. Ernest N. Evans, on "The Church and Motion Pictures"; Charles Metzger; Mrs. Ferd Lucas, on "Pictures in a College Town"; Mrs. Earl Peters, on "The Public Listening In"; Walter Hickman, dramatic critic for The Indianapolis Times, on "The Value of Newspaper Criticism to the Public"; Miss Miriam Bell, critic for the Indianapolis News, on "Stage and Screen"; Corbin Patrick of the Indianapolis Star, on "Reaction of the Public to the Newspaper Critic"; and Robert Rudeaux, on "Blue Ribbon Pictures."

Luncheon will be served at 12:30, with Mrs. Peters presiding. There will be a musical program. Speakers will be B. V. Sturdivant and David C. Liggett.

Band of 30 Children

The program Friday night will be a frolic at 7:45, with music by a rhythmic band of thirty children, sponsored by Mrs. J. D. Burnett. There will be a skit, "Please Pass the Cream," by Mrs. W. J. Holmes, Mrs. Ann Halsip, and Laymen Stoneycypers, and colonial music followed by the dancing of the minuet by pupils of Ruth Anna Kersting. The program will be concluded with a playlet by Mrs. W. D. Long, "George Washington and Martha Return," with Mrs. Long, Mrs. T. R. Stoncking, Mrs. T. W. Demmerly and Miss Ruth Hoover taking part. Mrs. Ruel Sexton will sing.

A number of tables have been reserved for the luncheon by various clubs and hostesses. A partial list follows:

At the table reserved by the Woman's National Organization of Retail Druggists, Mrs. Albert Fritz will be hostess. With her will be Mesdames William Freud, William Albersnier, R. C. Snoddy, J. I. Kelly, Edward H. Niles, James Sproule, Edward Ferger and W. S. Steadfield.

Mrs. Carl will be hostess for a table for the Cedars of Lebanon. Mrs. R. R. Mills of Greenfield will have guests from a school in Irvington. The Amicitia Club will be represented by Mrs. N. M. Worming as hostess, with Mesdames Albert Bretthauer, E. D. Cracross, Rufus O'Harrow, Edna Sharp, Cash Graham, Edna Potts and Harry Gates.

Schools Represented

Schools 76 and 30 will be represented by Mrs. Frank Gaylord and Mrs. S. A. Jones, respectively, and groups from the Parent-Teacher associations.

Mrs. Badger Williams will have at her table Mesdames Edward Hunt, William Ellery, J. W. Sherman, George Connally; school No. 3 will be represented by Mesdames Henry Adams, J. W. Salter, C. P. Bratten, Harry Spencer and R. A. Siminore.

Mrs. Theodore Wagner, honorary vice-president of the indorsers, will have at her table Mesdames Samuel H. Fletcher, Ernest De Wolf Wales and R. G. Iazuras.

Mrs. J. H. Orndorf is entertaining a group at her table.

All parent-teacher clubs and organizations are invited to attend the luncheon. Mrs. E. L. Burnett is in charge and will receive reservations.

Daily Recipe

RHUBARB PIE

4 cups raw, sliced unskinned rhubarb
1 tablespoon water
2 tablespoons cornstarch
1 cup sugar
1-8 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter

Pasty

Simmer the rhubarb and water for a few minutes and drain. When the juice has cooled, add the cornstarch, which has been mixed with the sugar and salt, and cook until thickened. Add the rhubarb and butter and mix thoroughly. Pour the hot fruit mixture into a baked pastry shell, add the top sheet of dough and bake until moderately hot over (375 to 400 degrees F. for 25 to 30 minutes, or until golden brown).

25% Cut
in ROUND TRIP
BUS FARES

Go Any Day—
Return in 60 Days

Extraordinary new rates! Round trip fare is double the one-way fare less 25 per cent. Go round!

NEW ROUND TRIP FARES

NEW YORK $27.00

ST. LOUIS 7.50

PHILADELPHIA 24.00

WASHINGTON 22.50

CLEVELAND 12.00

PITTSBURGH 12.00

COLUMBUS, Round Trip 56.75

LOS ANGELES, One Way 41.00

Lowest fares to hundreds of cities!

All Tropic Air are heated through express buses. Write today or phone RILEY 9666.

GREAT EASTERN TERM

110 W. WASHINGTON

GREAT EASTERN

Short Line System

Modish Ideas for the Cotton-Pickers

Keeping cool in cottons is a grand solution this year to hot-weather problems. And the new meshy lace weaves add chic and that indefinable scrunchy crispness that makes you feel fresh on the meanest hot day.

For days in the sun, there is a lisle mesh frock, with beltline and short-sleeved cuffs made adjustable by ribbed weave. The collar too is made adjustable, by two small bows that tie. It is a cute dress, easy to wear, easy to launder and pack.

For the golfer or the girl who never feels quite right without a jacket, there is a three-piece chalky white cotton mesh suit with a tuck-in blouse with close-to-the-throat neckline and buttons down the front. The cardigan also buttons and mesh cuffs hug the wrist. The beret is of the same weave as the suit.

Homecoming Is Set June 1st at Nurses Home

OUR out your heart to Jane satisfaction is not legitimate and shows that you have your values twisted somewhere.

Jordan, who will help you to see the truth about yourself. Write your letter now and it will be answered as soon as possible.

Dear Jane Jordan—I am very bitter toward all men in general. Why is it that all the men I have ever known are devils who go scouting free while the woman is left to hold the sack? I am not on my cross-complaint.

Don't you think there's a man who acted this is a contemptible cad? I feel that he is not a man at all, which makes me rest assured that he never shall see it again. I am a little worried about this man. I earned that much by going through him right.

JUST LOU.

Dear Just Lou—No, my dear, I do not think you are right. I do not discount your suffering and distress one particle, but your spirit of revenge is regrettable and helps me to see why your marriage failed.

Too often husband and wife have a wrong idea about what constitutes these "rights." They confuse the unworthy demands of self-importance with the more genuine qualities of self-respect. Self-importance arises from a wish to impress others. Self-respect is an honest judgment of one's own qualities and never is injured by foregoing self-importance.

Only a woman who was not entirely sure that she was right would want to impress her husband in the fact that he is the sole offender in the case by the drastic measure of depriving him of the right to see his child. If you're absolutely sure that you are not at fault in any way, you do not need this additional proof of it.

Dear Jane Jordan—I am very bitter toward all men in general. Why is it that all the men I have ever known are devils who go scouting free while the woman is left to hold the sack? I am not on my cross-complaint.

Don't you think there's a man who acted this is a contemptible cad? I feel that he is not a man at all, which makes me rest assured that he never shall see it again. I am a little worried about this man. I earned that much by going through him right.

JUST LOU.

Dear Just Lou—No, my dear, I do not think you are right. I do not discount your suffering and distress one particle, but your spirit of revenge is regrettable and helps me to see why your marriage failed.

Too often husband and wife have a wrong idea about what constitutes these "rights." They confuse the unworthy demands of self-importance with the more genuine qualities of self-respect. Self-importance arises from a wish to impress others. Self-respect is an honest judgment of one's own qualities and never is injured by foregoing self-importance.

Only a woman who was not entirely sure that she was right would want to impress her husband in the fact that he is the sole offender in the case by the drastic measure of depriving him of the right to see his child. If you're absolutely sure that you are not at fault in any way, you do not need this additional proof of it.

Dear Jane Jordan—I am very bitter toward all men in general. Why is it that all the men I have ever known are devils who go scouting free while the woman is left to hold the sack? I am not on my cross-complaint.

Don't you think there's a man who acted this is a contemptible cad? I feel that he is not a man at all, which makes me rest assured that he never shall see it again. I am a little worried about this man. I earned that much by going through him right.

JUST LOU.

Dear Just Lou—No, my dear, I do not think you are right. I do not discount your suffering and distress one particle, but your spirit of revenge is regrettable and helps me to see why your marriage failed.

Too often husband and wife have a wrong idea about what constitutes these "rights." They confuse the unworthy demands of self-importance with the more genuine qualities of self-respect. Self-importance arises from a wish to impress others. Self-respect is an honest judgment of one's own qualities and never is injured by foregoing self-importance.

Only a woman who was not entirely sure that she was right would want to impress her husband in the fact that he is the sole offender in the case by the drastic measure of depriving him of the right to see his child. If you're absolutely sure that you are not at fault in any way, you do not need this additional proof of it.

Dear Jane Jordan—I am very bitter toward all men in general. Why is it that all the men I have ever known are devils who go scouting free while the woman is left to hold the sack? I am not on my cross-complaint.

Don't you think there's a man who acted this is a contemptible cad? I feel that he is not a man at all, which makes me rest assured that he never shall see it again. I am a little worried about this man. I earned that much by going through him right.

JUST LOU.

Dear Just Lou—No, my dear, I do not think you are right. I do not discount your suffering and distress one particle, but your spirit of revenge is regrettable and helps me to see why your marriage failed.

Too often husband and wife have a wrong idea about what constitutes these "rights." They confuse the unworthy demands of self-importance with the more genuine qualities of self-respect. Self-importance arises from a wish to impress others. Self-respect is an honest judgment of one's own qualities and never is injured by foregoing self-importance.

Only a woman who was not entirely sure that she was right would want to impress her husband in the fact that he is the sole offender in the case by the drastic measure of depriving him of the right to see his child. If you're absolutely sure that you are not at fault in any way, you do not need this additional proof of it.

Dear Jane Jordan—I am very bitter toward all men in general. Why is it that all the men I have ever known are devils who go scouting free while the woman is left to hold the sack? I am not on my cross-complaint.

Don't you think there's a man who acted this is a contemptible cad? I feel that he is not a man at all, which makes me rest assured that he never shall see it again. I am a little worried about this man. I earned that much by going through him right.

JUST LOU.

Dear Just Lou—No, my dear, I do not think you are right. I do not discount your suffering and distress one particle, but your spirit of revenge is regrettable and helps me to see why your marriage failed.

Too often husband and wife have a wrong idea about what constitutes these "rights." They confuse the unworthy demands of self-importance with the more genuine qualities of self-respect. Self-importance arises from a wish to impress others. Self-respect is an honest judgment of one's own qualities and never is injured by foregoing self-importance.

Only a woman who was not entirely sure that she was right would want to impress her husband in the fact that he is the sole offender in the case by the drastic measure of depriving him of the right to see his child. If you're absolutely sure that you are not at fault in any way, you do not need this additional proof of it.

Dear Jane Jordan—I am very bitter toward all men in general. Why is it that all the men I have ever known are devils who go scouting free while the woman is left to hold the sack? I am not on my cross-complaint.

Don't you think there's a man who acted this is a contemptible cad? I feel that he is not a man at all, which makes me rest assured that he never shall see it again. I am a little worried about this man. I earned that much by going through him right.

JUST LOU.

Dear Just Lou—No, my dear, I do not think you are right. I do not discount your suffering and distress one particle, but your spirit of revenge is regrettable and helps me to see why your marriage failed.

Too often husband and wife have a wrong idea about what constitutes these "rights." They confuse the unworthy demands of self-importance with the more genuine qualities of self-respect. Self-importance arises from a wish to impress others. Self-respect is an honest judgment of one's own qualities and never is injured by foregoing self-importance.

Only a woman who was not entirely sure that she was right would want to impress her husband in the fact that he is the sole offender in the case by the drastic measure of depriving him of the right to see his child. If you're absolutely sure that you are not at fault in any way, you do not need this additional proof of it.

Dear Jane Jordan—I am very bitter toward all men in general. Why is it that all the men I have ever known are devils who go scouting free while the woman is left to hold the sack? I am not on my cross-complaint.

Don't you think there's a man who acted this is a contemptible cad? I feel that he is not a man at all, which makes me rest assured that he never shall see it again. I am a little worried about this man. I earned that much by going through him right.

JUST LOU.

Dear Just Lou—No, my dear, I do not think you are right. I do not discount your suffering and distress one particle, but your spirit of revenge is regrettable and helps me to see why your marriage failed.

Too often husband and wife have a wrong idea about what constitutes these "rights." They confuse the unworthy demands of self-importance with the more genuine qualities of self-respect. Self-importance arises from a wish to impress others. Self-respect is an honest judgment of one's own qualities and never is injured by foregoing self-importance.

Only a woman who was not entirely sure that she was right would want to impress her husband in the fact that he is the sole offender in the case by the drastic measure of depriving him of the right to see his child. If you're absolutely sure that you are not at fault in any way, you do not need this additional proof of it.

Dear Jane Jordan—I am very bitter toward all men in general. Why is it that all the men I have ever known are devils who go scouting free while the woman is left to hold the sack? I am not on my cross-complaint.

Don't you think there's a man who acted this is a contemptible cad? I feel that he is not a man at all, which makes me rest assured that he never shall see it again. I am a little worried about this man. I earned that much by going through him right.

JUST LOU.

Dear Just Lou—No, my dear, I do not think you are right. I do not discount your suffering and distress one particle, but your spirit of revenge is regrettable and helps me to see why your marriage failed.

Too often husband and wife have a wrong idea about what constitutes these "rights." They confuse the unworthy demands of self-importance with the more genuine qualities of self-respect. Self-importance arises from a wish to impress others. Self-respect is an honest judgment of one's own qualities and never is injured by foregoing self-importance.

Only a woman who was not entirely sure that she was right would want to impress her husband in the fact that he is the sole offender in the case by the drastic measure of depriving him of the right to see his child. If you're absolutely sure that you are not at fault in any way, you do not need this additional proof of it.

Dear Jane Jordan—I am very bitter toward all men in general. Why is it that all the men I have ever known are devils who go scouting free while the woman is left to hold the sack? I am not on my cross-complaint.