

EVERETT SANDERS SLATED FOR CHAIRMAN OF G. O. P.; DAVES BOOM IS LAUNCHED

Chicago Committee Broadcasts Plea to Nominate General for President and Shelve Hoover.

INDIANA INVITED TO JOIN MOVE

Hoosiers Shy Away From Proposal; Watson and Leslie Mentioned for Second Place on Ticket.

BY BEN STERN

CHICAGO, June 15.—Shrouded in deepest secrecy, two events occurred here late Tuesday night and early today that put Indiana in the forefront of the Republican national convention and political picture.

They are: First, Everett Sanders of Terre Haute, former old Fifth district congressman, who resigned to become secretary to Calvin Coolidge, has been selected by President Hoover to be chairman of the Republican national committee.

His election is slated at the first formal meeting of the committee following the national convention, it was learned authoritatively by The Times today.

Second—The movement to draft Charles Gates Dawes for the Republican presidential nomination was started here quietly Tuesday night and the Indiana delegation was the first invited to get behind the movement.

Goodrich Move Fails

It was learned by The Times that President Hoover decided on Sanders after sifting the field, which included Postmaster-General Walter F. Brown, Frank C. Knox, Chicago publisher, William M. Butler, Massachusetts, and Ray Benjamin of California.

He is slated to succeed Senator Simeon D. Fess of Ohio, attempts to put over Ex-Governor James Goodrich of Indiana failed, when it was learned that all the Republican leaders were opposed to any pre-ference or honor being given him and would not get behind him.

It was indicated that Sanders will be chairman in name only, while Postmaster Brown will be the real general for the campaign.

Sanders, chief sergeant at arms of the convention, has been an attorney-lobbyist in Washington since the Coolidge administration terminated.

May Seek Indiana Post

He came to Indiana in the 1930 campaign to speak in behalf of the Republican congressional candidates, and his prospective election is expected to stimulate his candidacy for the post now held by Senator Arthur R. Robinson, which expires in 1932.

Indiana's prohibition repeal plank, adopted at the Republican state convention last week and written by Henry W. Marshall, Lafayette publisher, is the basis of the plank framed today by five wet members of the national convention resolutions committee who were ignored when Senator Simeon Fess, national chairman, selected the subcommittee on prohibition.

Senator Hiram Bingham, repeal leader, declared when he announced the plank, that Marshall's ideas and the Indiana temperance pronouncements were used as a model.

Will Carry Fight to Floor

He added that the six who pleaded themselves against the proposed Hoover plank will fight it in the committee session this afternoon and then carry the battle to the floor on a minority report.

Framers of the repeal plank are Bingham, Marshall, Frank Hitchcock of Arizona, John F. Harris of Florida, Ambrose Kennedy of Rhode Island and Jeremiah Everts of Vermont.

Indiana delegates expressed bitterness because Marshall was not appointed to the Garfield-Fess subcommittee, and asserted that the publisher, in a telephone conversation with Senator James E. Watson, declared he would not recede from his repeal position and that this caused him to be thumbed down when the pro-Hoover plank committee was selected.

Circulars entitled "Can a Republican Win in November?" and signed by the "Republican Citizens' Draft Dawes" Committee of Chicago, "inclosed in an envelope bearing the printed address of the Indiana delegation at the Palmer house, were delivered there by messenger boy during the dinner given by Will H. Hays, movie dictator.

Fearful of announcing what was contained in the circulars, leaders of the delegation destroyed them and made no announcement of their receipt.

Other States Sounded

But it afterward was learned that leaders of forty-six other delegations also were sent similar packets lauding Dawes as a presidential candidate, and declaring that "Hoover can not be re-elected." California delegates did not receive the circulars.

It also was learned that plans of the committee include the staging a demonstration Thursday afternoon after the galleries of the Chicago stadium have been loaded with Dawes boosters of the city, and when nominations for the presidency are asked.

That some belief exists in Washington that Curtis is to be dropped overboard was indicated today when Senator James E. Watson held a telephone conversation with Marshall, resolutions committee member, and was particularly anxious regarding the vice-presidential situation.

He is said to have inquired regarding the movement launched by John S. Moorman of Knox, Michigan City penitentiary trustee, to offer Governor Harry G. Leslie as a vice-presidential candidate.

Marshall declared it would be unkind to the Governor to start such a move and Leslie, upon his arrival for the dinner, said that he "absolutely was not and would not be a candidate."

Telegram boosting Leslie were sent to members of the delegation. Later, it was reported that certain California delegates, who felt that Curtis would not be a great help to the ticket and that a much stronger member of the old guard was needed as a running mate for President Hoover, were considering Watson, because of his position and geographical location and a caucus for that purpose was being discussed.

The "draft Dawes" circular, after asserting that the "sentiment of your erstwhile loyal Republican home folks is anti-Hoover and that a large percentage of the independent voters will vote for anybody but Hoover," declared:

"It is our sincere belief that President Hoover, if renominated, can not win in November.

"We are convinced that the majority of Republican voters do not want him for their standard bearer and that most of you delegates greatly would prefer some one else as the nominee.

"We are convinced that the Republican party should break with tradition for its own good."

Saying that it is merely a custom to renominate a President, it leaders were opposed to any pre-ference or honor being given him and would not get behind him.

After continuing a discussion of the "foolishness of renominating Hoover, the circular adds:

"May we then offer a suggestion—we have right here in Chicago a candidate who has the qualities President Hoover lacks.

Called Ideal Candidate

"The man knows nothing of this appeal made by a few of his admirers. He has not in Chicago a candidate who has the qualities President Hoover lacks.

After getting all ready for a good swim in the Rhodius pool today, and after patching up all the moth holes in their swimming suits, they learned late Tuesday that a leak had sprung in the tank.

The leak was discovered Tuesday when the pool was given its baptism to water for the 1932 season.

H. W. Middlesworth, recreation director, announced that the leak will be patched, and the pool ready for use by Thursday.

Center Township Assessor Names Group to Hear Complaints.

John C. McCloskey, Center township assessor, today announced appointment of a review board to hear complaints on township real estate appraisals.

Complaints on assessments in the mile square will be heard by John Kirch and George T. Wheldon; complaints on factories and industrial buildings by W. M. Miller and Samuel J. Preston; and residential property complaints by Norbert J. Fox and Noble C. Hilgenberg.

Steele died from gunshot wounds and blows said to have been inflicted with the handle of a revolver. The dentist first told police the injuries were caused by burglars who entered their bedroom Sunday night.

He later confessed, police said, that he had attacked his wife when she tried to shoot him over an argument concerning systems of playing rummy.

Steele is alleged to have said that it was the first serious dispute in many years of married life.

ASKS FOR OLD SCHOOL RIGHTS

Williams Favors Giving County Heads Power.

Plea for the restoration of authority to county superintendents of schools was voiced today by Charles O. Williams, secretary of the Indiana State Teachers' Association, in an address to the semi-annual meeting of the Indiana County Superintendents' Association at the Lincoln.

Greater efficiency, economy and educational value were cited as advantages of the plan.

Major Norman A. Imrie of Culver military academy, in a speech on "What America Needs," stated that "Light, Heat and Power" were the requisites as symbolical of greater intelligence, sympathy and aggressiveness.

The afternoon speakers were to include George C. Cole, state school superintendent, and representatives of the state department. Ben Watt, Republican nominee for the office of state superintendent of instruction, was introduced to the meeting by Fred T. Gladden, president of the Association.

EX-COP IN DEATH TRIAL

Former State Policeman Accused of Fairground Killing.

NEWCASTLE, Ind., June 15.—State testimony in the trial of Carl Springmire, former state policeman, accused of slaying Staley Coomes at the Fayette county fair last September, was continued today, with Raymond Springer, Republican gubernatorial nominee, defending Springmire. Springer presented the opening argument after a jury of farmers was accepted.

Has No Sign of Asthma Now

"I suffered with asthma for over a year," says Mrs. Helen Skaggs, 717 E. 11th St., Indianapolis. "Much of the time I was unable to do anything and could not sleep at night. The first cough of Naevo brought relief. In all, I took 9 bottles, and my asthma is gone. I haven't had a sign of it for three months now, and am feeling fine."

Don't Irritate Your Intestines

Some laxatives are irritating to the sensitive intestinal nerves. Others increase intestinal bulk (like fodder), part of which always remains behind to ferment and decay. Others "lubricate," coating intestinal walls with oily fluid, which may interfere with digestion. Don't take a chance.

Use French Lick Salts, the remarkably efficient systemic regulator. Easily and naturally, it produces thorough elimination; tones and regulates all body secretions and excretions, promotes normal functioning of all these delicately-balanced processes, causing them to work harmoniously. Quickly relieves even stubborn constipation. Makes you feel FINE!

French Lick Salts is a blend of the same health-giving mineral salts found in the spring waters at famous French Lick Springs. In cool water it effervesces merrily, is as pleasant-tasting as a fine fountain drink. To keep "regular," take a little at least once each week. If you are reducing, take French Lick Salts as an aid. TRIBUNE CALLS FOR TAX CUT

Huge Headlines Warn U. S. of Disaster.

CHICAGO, June 15.—For the second consecutive day the major news of the Republican national convention was overshadowed on the front page of the Chicago Tribune today by a full-length, two-column editorial, carried under a page-wide headline in type more than an inch high.

The heading read "Half Bolshevism; Half Free," and urged the Republican party to pledge a cut in federal government costs of not less than $750,000,000. Tuesday's editorial called for repeal of the eighteenth amendment.

"The national convention this year may be the last one held in the United States by a free people," the editorial read in part. "No one who has watched the course of events in this country in recent years can doubt that the nation is at the parting of the ways. We can restore to free men the right to live their lives as they see fit. . . . We can accept the open notion that the state is, of right, supreme over the individual. . . .

"The government extorts its revenue from the citizens and then uses the income to harass business, thus further reducing the possibilities for profit. . . .

"Without profits, business men can not repay their debts and can not accumulate capital needed for expansion. That, in turn, causes unemployment."

In a Nutshell

BY HENRY McLEMORE

CHICAGO, June 15.—Scorning the temptation of straddle or side-step the issue, the Republican convention Tuesday came out flat-footedly and unequivocally for the American flag and Abraham Lincoln.

Confidence was destroyed, he told the convention, by the situation in the house of representatives.

"The nation is asked to accept confusion as a national policy and disorder as a rule of government," he said, speaking of Democratic bids for victory.

"The Democratic party is a mob of fueds and of factions unable to bring order out of chaos in its own ranks."

He reviewed Republican accomplishments beginning with the days of Lincoln and the building of the transcontinental railroads and ending with "the dreary battle against world-wide depression."

"In Lincoln's day," he recited, "the people stood loyally by their President, who brought them out of the shadow of disunion. In Hoover's day, the people stand loyally by the President, who is bringing the country out of the shadow of vast economic adversity."

He digressed to defend the Republican tariff.

SNELL BRANDS DEMOCRATS AS 'FAULT FINDERS'

Calls Foes 'A Mob of Feuds' as He Becomes Chairman of Convention.

BY MORRIS DE HAVEN TRACY
United Press Staff Correspondent
CHICAGO, June 15.—Representative Bertrand H. Snell of New York sounded the trumpets of expected victory before the Republican national convention today.

Delivering his address as permanent chairman of the convention, he gloried with eloquence the record of President Herbert Hoover and his administration; compared his methods with those of that other engineer President, George Washington; and ridiculed the Democrats as "100 per cent perfect" in the role of a "fault-finding, caviling minority opposition."

"We never have become a disorganized mob under the pressure of great emergencies," he cried referring to the Republican party.

"We never have offered quack remedies for national disorders."

"Hoover Only Leader"

The speech was an old-time, ringing burst of oratory designed to fire the enthusiasm of Republicans and send them forth as a fighting force, determined to bring victory from the ballot boxes in November.

As did Senator Dickinson, the keynote, Snell avoided all reference to prohibition.

Snell reviewed the story of the present session of congress and the failure of the Democratic leaders to hold their forces in line.

"This much must be stated to their credit," he cried, "as long as they followed the leadership of the one man in America who furnished leadership in this great crisis—Herbert Hoover—they functioned in splendid fashion."

"But when they set out to carry forward their own program they exhibited colossal incapacity, hopeless division and disintegration with the result that there was complete collapse of their party machinery."

"Chaos in Own Ranks"

LONG MOBILIZES 'PAY ROLL ARMY' IN TAX BATTLE

1,600 Parade to Relief Hearing; Assailed by Press.

By United Press
BATON ROUGE, La., June 15.—Sixteen hundred state and city employees from New Orleans, who mobilized under "secret orders," rushed to the state capitol and thronged the senate chamber during an open hearing on tax relief, were back at their jobs today.

The demonstration, termed editorially the "parade of the pay roll brigade," and purportedly authorized by United States Senator Huey P. Long, drew scathing fire from newspapers.

The demonstrators, from almost every branch of public welfare work, received "marching orders" when they reported for work Tuesday. A sixteen-coach train carried them from New Orleans to Baton Rouge.

A climax was reached when twenty New Orleans policemen, fully equipped with tear gas and riot guns, sped out of town to reinforce the "brigade."

The "brigade" reached the senate chamber to find 200 representatives of the Louisiana Taxpayers' Association at the open hearing on state economy proposals. Senator Long dominated the assembly, and ridiculed the taxpayers.

spite of world-wide adversity," he shouted.

And then he recalled George Washington.

"Washington as an engineer, solved stupendous and vexatious problems for the benefit of mankind," he said.

"It was said of Washington today, as it is said of Hoover today, that he was not a politician. In the baser sense he was not, but in the higher sense he had the profound political instinct of statesmanship and his statesmanship was good politics. The substratum of Washington's statesmanship was his engineering experience, his practical accomplishment and his profound human sagacity."

"President Hoover's mind is the mind of an engineer. He first gets his facts and then he acts. No engineer has attained success by deciding his problems on a basis of expedience."

"Herbert Hoover, the engineer President of the United States, is solving and will solve stupendous and vexatious problems, as did our first engineer President, for the benefit of all mankind."

REPEAL PLANK DEMANDED BY PENNSYLVANIA

Resolution Carries, 55-17; War Rages in Other State Caucuses.

By United Press
CHICAGO, June 15.—A resolution placing the Pennsylvania delegation on record as favoring immediate modification of the Volstead act and repeal of the eighteenth amendment was carried at a state caucus today, 55 to 17.

The resolution, introduced by James M. Hazlett, Philadelphia, provided for the state delegation to reconvene immediately after adoption of the national platform and voice its wet sentiments.

Joseph Mackrell, leading Pennsylvania wet, has prepared a resolution demanding withdrawal of Tuesday's adoption of the resolution to resubmit the prohibition question.

Mackrell charged that the resolution was passed by "trickery" during the absence of many unalterable wets. His resolution will be introduced after the national convention session this afternoon.

Battle in Illinois Caucuses

The Illinois delegation, deadlocked over election of a national committeeman, engaged in a battle that reminded former Mayor William Hale (Big Bill) Thompson of Chicago of the 1924 Democratic convention.

"What is this?" the picturesque 200-pound leader asked, "another Democratic convention? It sounds just like Alabama's twenty-four votes for Oscar Underwood."

Ballot after ballot was taken without result, and today it seemed the Republican national committee might be called upon to decide the issue.

Contestants were Frank L. Smith, respected United States senator, who was leading on the thirty-first ballot; Governor Louis L. Emmerson, Roy O. West, present member of the national committee, and George Harding, Chicago leader.

Wisconsin Delegates Clash

As a relaxation from their monotonous task, the Illinois delegates took off to recommend a platform plank calling for repeal of the eighteenth amendment.

The never-ending struggle between Wisconsin regulars and the La Follette faction of the party broke out anew.

The regulars presented a resolution to the credentials committee condemning the nine La Follette members of the delegation for refusal to pledge support to the party nominee and platform and refusal to rise in tribute to the convention to the national colors and President Hoover.

A flat demand for ouster of the La Follette group was overruled by a majority of the regulars, who feared this might make martyrs of the progressives.
