The Rev. J. Ambrose Dunkle will perform the ceremony before an improvised altar before a large bay window. White tapers in seven branched candelabras will be arranged at the sides. Gay Accessories Smart Gifts

Directed By AMOS PARRISH

NEW YORK, June 22.—The great American national summer sport is on—week ending. Guests are puzzling over what to give their hostess. (Hostesses hope it won't be a book they've already read or the candy and salted nuts that are off the diet list.)

Smart summer accessories easily solve the week-end gift problem. And one of the most timely ideas is flowers.

Don't think that's a case of carrying coals to Newcastle, either, if you're week-ending in the country. Because it's artificial flowers, we mean.

Boutonnieres Are Gay

Those gay little boutonnieres of plaids, checks, crisp pique, felt, gingham. They look so cheery on a sports dress or suit.

Or lovely soft flowers—big ones of organdy or mousseline de soie, made into a corsage or shoulder spray for her favorite afternoon or evening dress.

Cups are a fine accessory gift for any time of year. Right now a bright colored sports clip for her hat or dress is in order.

Metal clips, too—a whole set that can be used instead of buttons on any dress and transferred from one to another.

A Pair of Three

A brilliant clip dresses up her tailored suit or evening gown. Particularly swank for the tailored costume is her initial (she may wear it on her handbag, too), while the new heart shape illustrated is intriguing if you're feeling sentimental.

A pair of clips is even smarter than one. And if you expect to have a very grand week-end and so feel particularly generous, make it a set of three... two small and one larger.

Then she can follow the example of Claude Colbert, smartly dressed sophisticated screen star, and wear two on her hat and one on her scarf (as illustrated).

Chalk White Jewelry

If she goes in for bright colored costumes, chalk white jewelry is a fine gift. Multi-strand necklaces of tiny beads with large clasps are newest.

Women whose wardrobe is mostly sports clothes like those necklaces or wooden beads. They're usually made to look like a flat collar as sketched and often you'll find whole ensembles of necklace, bracelet and handbag... all of wooden beads.

Bright color accents make a white costume twice as smart. That's why so many women like bright colored beads. Plaids (one is sketched), stripes, plaid colors... all are in fashion.

Scarfs Are Important

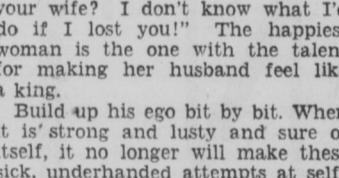

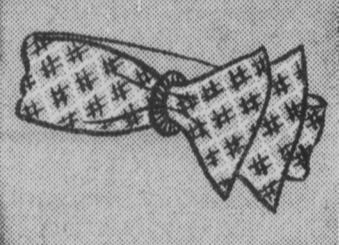

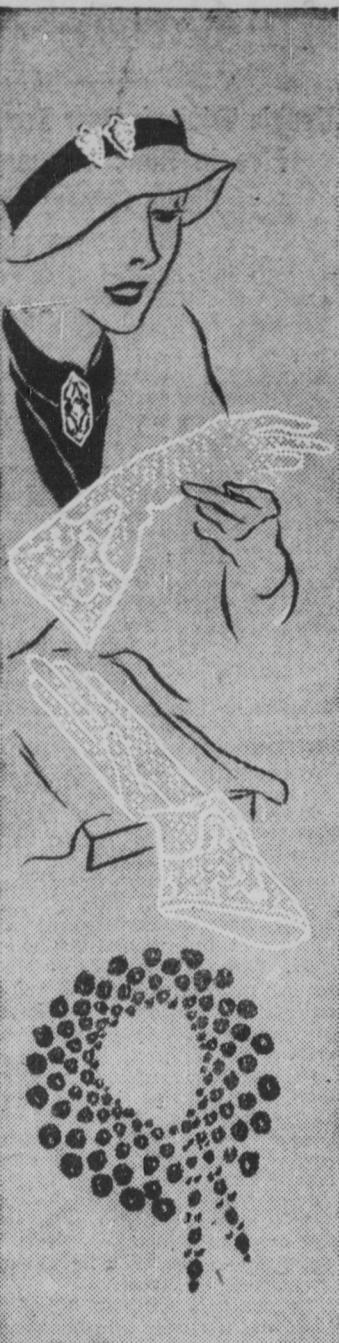

Scarfs—awfully important this summer. One of the favorite ways of getting color contrast.

If you know sizes, the new mesh gloves will be welcome. A pique or lace cuff is a new touch like a king.

Any week-end hostess will appreciate gifts like these. And remember—they're just as smart packed in your own week-end bag.

City Couple Are Married at St. Joan's

The rectory of the St. Joan of Arc church was the scene at 11 this morning of the wedding of Miss Bernice Mull, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Mull, 531 North Delaware street, and Ralph H. Thompson.

The Rev. Maurice O'Connor officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a light peach embroidered net dress over peach taffeta. The dress, fitted tightly, flared into a very full flounce just below the hip line. It was designed with puff sleeves. The satin girdle was caught at the front with a turquoise blue buckle. She wore white slippers and lace mitts. Her picture hat of peach hairbraid was banded with a turquoise blue velvet ribbon. She carried an arm bouquet of Delta Gamma roses and lilies of the valley.

Wore Blue Slippers

Mrs. Robert T. Miller, matron of honor, wore a blue net gown with puff sleeves and full skirt embroidered with yarn flowers. She wore blue slippers and blue picture hat. She carried an arm bouquet of yellow roses.

Miss Virginia Ganbeck of St. Louis, cousin of the bride, wore a pink net gown fashioned similarly. She wore a pink hat and pink moire slippers and carried pink roses. Both attendants wore gold filigree bracelets studded with seed pearls, gifts of the bride.

The best man was Edwin Sheppard. Mrs. Mull was dressed in pink lace fashioned with a close fitting jacket. She wore a pink hat and pink slippers. Mrs. Thompson's gown of pink lace was designed with a jacket with full sleeves.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was held at Avalon Country Club for the immediate families and the bridal party. The table was centered with a two-tiered wedding cake decorated in pink and blue.

Graduate of Butler

A reception was to be held from 3 to 6 this afternoon at the Mull home. Miss Mary Virginia Clark and Miss Ann Cooper were to preside at the serving table, centered with a plateau of pink roses and blue delphinium. Tall white tapers in silver holders were to light the dining room. Miss Phyllis Sharpe and Miss Jean Golding were to assist.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson were to leave immediately for their home at 601 East Main street, Crawfordsville. Mrs. Thompson's travel dress is a tailored white sport crepe with a touch of yellow trimming. Her accessories are white.
