

BREAD ALONE IS PROBABLE DIET OF BONUS ARMY

Mess Funds Are Reduced to $17; Police Chief Quits as Treasurer.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—A diet of bread alone was in prospect today for the hungry and destitute thousands of the bonus expeditionary forces.

Only $17 remained in the mess fund of the veterans' army. Pelham Glassford, police superintendent, resigned as custodian of the fund.

Glassford arranged with the Red Cross to provide flour made from farm board wheat. One local bakery agreed to take 5,000 pounds of this flour daily. Authorities were trying to obtain the use of army facilities to bake more bread.

The police superintendent told the veterans he could be of no further service as their treasurer because "there appears to be no possibility of replenishing these funds sufficiently to meet food requirements."

He said the people of Washington opposed any prolonged occupation of the city by the bonus force, and he again urged them to go home.

We'll Eat Somehow

The 12,000 or more men ensconced in ramshackle buildings and makeshift camps remained as cool as ever to the evacuation proposal.

"We'll eat somehow," they hoped, "and if we don't—well, we might as well starve here as at home."

They were cheered by arrival of new reinforcements: 200 from San Francisco, 120 from Brooklyn and fifty from Chicago. Police said only fifteen left the city Monday.

Anxious to end dissension among the veterans over leadership and policy, the executive committee moved up from next Monday to this Thursday the date for the proposed bonus convention.

The convention will re-elect Walter W. Waters as commander, or choose a successor. He resigned because his orders were disobeyed.

A contingent of 115 men defied the committee's order to move from Camp Meigs to other quarters.

Food Supply Menace

Authorities consider presence of the veterans at this camp a potential menace to the city's food supply, much of which passes through a nearby market.

"This is government property and we are not going to move unless they use force," declared E. P. Wagner of Erie, Pa., the camp commander.

Six men were expelled from the main bonus camp on the Anacostia flats for distributing literature of the Communist-fostered Workers' Ex-Servicemen's League.

Two of them, Herbert Young of New York and Joseph Vacillotti of Passaic, N. J., were beaten, and escorted to the Maryland state line. The veterans turned the others over to Washington police, who promptly released them.

Veterans Camp Here

Carrying the designation of Delegation No. 2, the second wave of Portland (Ore.) war veterans advanced to the city today en route to Washington to join comrades in the "passive attack" for bonus legislation.

The contingent pitched camp in Camp Sullivan while representatives sought aid from local American Legion posts to continue the journey.

Leaving Portland on June 9, the thirty-nine men, commanded by R. C. Foster and G. O. Dean, followed an itinerary which included Vancouver, St. Paul, Peoria, Danville and Crawfordsville. The early portion of the trip was in box cars supplied by railroads, while the later stages were by truck.

The group called at police headquarters, where Mayor Herbert Fletcher informed them that no facilities were at his disposal for further transportation. He advised the party to establish temporary headquarters at Camp Sullivan.

Her Friends Try to Help Her . . . but she won't Listen . . . she Doesn't Care

"What am I going to do . . . I'm so nervous I could simply scream." How often have you felt this way yourself?

These Hysterical Women!

CRYING . . . sobbing . . . laughing! Tears in her eyes one minute . . . smiling the next! What a state to be in! She has no control of herself . . . the slightest thing drives her to distraction.

Tired out all the time . . . overwrought . . . nerves strung to the breaking point, she tries to do her work.

She looks old, haggard. She is irritable, unreasonable. Her friends try to help her . . . she won't even listen. She has reached the point where she doesn't even care.

How pitiful it is to see her suffering . . . when it is so unnecessary! Constant headache, backache and dizzy spells are robbing this woman of youth, beauty and health.

If she would only give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a chance to help her . . . how well and happy she could be.

This simple remedy has benefited 98 out of every 100 women who have reported using it.

Don't think that your troubles are any different. Don't think that this medicine won't help you. Listen! Give it a chance and watch those headaches and backaches yield to its tonic action.

The new tablets are so easy to take. They slip into a handbag as neatly as a compact. And what relief they give during those "trying times"!

But whether you prefer the Compound in tablet form or in liquid form, at least, try it! Let it prove that it can do for you what it has done for others. See for yourself what blessed help it can really be.

FOUR SPEEDERS FINED UNDER $1 PER MILE RATE

Six Cases Continued Out of Fourteen Put on Docket.

Four speeders were fined today by Municipal Judge Clifton R. Cameron, penalties being assessed on a basis of $1 a mile for every mile above the limit.

In all, there were fourteen speeding cases on the docket for the day. Six were continued and four were not called.

Speediest of the speeders was Erwin Coburn, Ravenswood, who was doing forty-eight miles an hour. He had only the excuse that he was driving on a straight stretch of pavement and no other vehicles were near. He paid a fine of $18 and costs.

Fine of $10 imposed on Noble A. Dale, 1146 Churchman avenue, was suspended, but he paid costs. Vincent Keller, 635 North Capitol avenue, said he was driving forty-three miles an hour taking medicine to a sick child. He paid costs and a fine of $13 was suspended.

Fourth offender was Theodore Trevin, Butler university student, charged with speeding and running a stop sign. He was fined $13 and costs on the first charge and $1 and costs on the second. All the penalty was suspended.

Fines of $1 and costs were paid by each of six motorists who failed to stop at preferential streets, and one paid a $1 fine for disobeying a traffic signal.

THEY TELL ME

Ben Stern

CHICAGO, June 28.—Well, 200 Hoosiers, the majority from Indianapolis, got into the big show here without tickets and that's going some.

But thanks are due to the gate-men on No. 5, who were "instructed" as to their duties by Dick Werneke, when a member of the Indiana Democratic Club came up to crash the gate.

Breaking into the stadium is a tough job, but somehow or other they got in. When the impromptu and spontaneous demonstration for prohibition repeal broke out during Senator Barkley's keynote, there they were, parading about.

In fact, from all appearances, there was a Hoosier involved in the fight in the Texas delegation.

The keeper of the Texas section sign wouldn't let it be carried in the repeal demonstration and held to it for dear life.

Suddenly one of the Indiana marchers made a dive through the air and grabbed the sign. He went down in the fight that occurred, and when the debris was cleared away it was found that the sign was torn.

While the faithful dyes attempted to patch it some of the repeals grabbed up a pole, and, with a pencil "Texas" written on a piece of paper stuck upon it, joined the parade.

The Indiana boys were on their feet cheering when John Raskob, national chairman, paid his respects to the ability of Jovett Shouse and participated in all the noise whenever the party's national leaders were praised.

Those Hoosiers who remember "Alfalfa Bill" Murray's trip through the state several months ago will recall, no doubt, the black muffer which he had draped around his neck at all times.

Well, he has been wearing it here, but today Bill appeared at the convention practically naked. He had forgotten his muffer.

A good story about him is being told by newspapermen who invade his presidential headquarters. If they ask some Oklahoma delegate a question, Bill is sure to bob up with an "Oh, hell, shut up. You don't know anything." And the delegate takes it with a smile.

"Democracy," says Bill, "is a great thing when it is in strong hands."
