ON HONEYMOON

Vacation days aren't lazy days for the younger members of society. Instead of seeking the proverbial hammock under a shady tree, they plan days filled with activity.

The outdoors is claiming its devotees. Society girls and co-eds on vacation can be found at their favorite haunts which, in most cases, doesn't mean a tea party.

Old and young alike will be found at the old swimming hole whether it be at the country clubs or nearby resorts. Miss Ruth

Mrs. Lewis Hornaday Pickett

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hornaday Pickett are on a honeymoon here going to Des Moines, Ia., where they will be at home. Their wedding took place June 22. Mrs. Pickett was Miss Frances Walters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Walters, 5934 College avenue.

Peony Soil

Peonies will do well in a light soil, but they prefer one that is somewhat heavy. Good drainage is essential.

A center through the bridal paths is the object of Miss Charlotte Twitty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Twitty, 3319 North Meridian street (upper center), and Miss Ruth Peterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Peterson, 4400 North Pennsylvania street (lower left), who were caught on their mounts from the Meridian Hills riding stables.

Miss Ruby Hill, 3120 Graceland avenue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Hill, spends her hours of recreation on the Butler university tennis courts. Miss Hill was runner-up in the women's tennis tournament held before the close of school at Butler.

Miss Dorothy Ellis, 3750 Carrollton avenue, can be found most any time on the golf course of the Meridian Hills club. Dorothy will be remembered as putting up a fight against Miss Elizabeth Dunn, city golf champion, in the semi-finals of the recent city championship tournament. She promises to be a serious threat for honors in local golfing activities.

Golfing laurels seem destined for the Ellis family, as Dorothy's brother Don won the men's golf championship title at Butler where both are students. Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Ellis are their parents.

Miss Betty Lou Myers, 4815 Washington boulevard, finds "two-wheeling" a diverting pastime. It's not only a change but a cheap form of locomotion, she contends.
