What's in Fashion?

Dining Costumes for Inn or Roof Directed By AMOS PARRISH

idea if you're motoring in the cool of the evening. Much liked, too, by town daylight diners who gather above the city roofs.

Colors are Smart

White is smart for it. So are any of the pastels. And a gay printed sheer makes you look like part of the garden you're dining in.

That's an ensemble chosen by the diner standing in the illustration. (She's carrying her coat.)

Notice how simple this dress is. But the other dress is even simpler. There's only a wide contrasting girdle for trimming. That's because a print is decorative enough in itself.

Pastel linen lace is another lovely material for dresses of this type. And in a very deep pastel sheer . . . raspberry red, dusty rose, deep blue . . . with a contrasting girdle—it's a captivating fashion.

Touch of Contrast Given

What color for the girdle of such a dress? Any contrast that looks well with the dress color. And use the contrast somewhere else . . . in a large chiffon handkerchief or your hat band.

Or the flowers you wear at your neckline could match the girdle. And a clever idea is to have different colored girdles and flowers so as to change off . . . especially if the dress is white or light.

Salads for Summer Are Made Easily

BY SISTER MARY
NEA Service Writer

With the thermometer steadily rising, hearty salads make excellent dishes. They are easy and interesting for the cook to prepare and always are popular.

Meals in which salads play the principal part can be prepared largely early in the morning, allowing the homemaker several hours for something else before lunch time.

Salad materials must be prepared some time in advance of the time they will be needed for mixing and serving; consequently luncheon can be served in short order when it is wanted.

The combination of meat and vegetables always is desirable and aids in maintaining a balanced diet. Macaroni and rice also blend well with meats and fish.

Many salad makers have a tendency to cut their salad materials too fine. Some of the secondary ingredients used mainly for flavoring should be minced finely, but the important materials should not be made too small.

Of course it never should be necessary to cut any article of food in the salad, but an attractive salad should be crisp and definite, each article neatly and uniformly cut.

SUMMER SALAD

One and one-half cups cold cooked green beans, 1 cup cold cooked ham, 1 cup cold cooked tongue, Bermuda onion, green pepper.

Cut ham and tongue in pieces the same size as the beans. Mix and add 2 tablespoons vinegar or lemon juice and 4 tablespoons salad oil beaten with $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon salt and $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon pepper.

Cover and let stand on ice for an hour or longer. When ready to serve drain from dressing. Wash pepper and cut in rings, removing seeds and white pith. Peel onion and cut in slices. Let stand in cold salt water for ten minutes.

Drain and separate into rings. Pile alternating rings of onion and green pepper one above another on a leaf of lettuce. Fill this little pepper and onion cup with the salad mixture and mask with mayonnaise.

LIVER, AND CABBAGE SALAD

This salad is unusual and delicious.

One cup diced cooked liver, 2 tablespoons minced cooked bacon, 1 cup diced celery, 1 cup shredded and crisped cabbage, French dressing, mayonnaise, curly endive.

Marinate liver and bacon in French dressing for one hour. A few drops of onion juice may be added to the dressing if wanted.

Add celery and cabbage and mix lightly. Serve on a bed of endive and top with mayonnaise.

SWEETBREAD SALAD

Sweetbread salad can take the place of chicken salad for party affairs and is much easier and quicker to prepare unless you use canned chicken.

The sweetbreads are prepared as usual; that is, soaked in cold salted water for an hour, simmered in salted acidulated water for twenty minutes and then blanched in cold water. Remove all membrane and connecting tissue and cut in neat dice.

Two cups prepared sweetbreads, 2 cups shredded celery, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup blanched and coarsely shredded almonds, 1 cup peeled and seeded white grapes.

Marinate sweetbreads in French dressing made with a combination of lemon juice and tarragon vinegar. Let stand on ice an hour or longer.

When ready to serve, drain from dressing and combine with prepared materials. Add mayonnaise to make moist and serve in nests of lettuce hearts. Garnish with thin slices of pimento-stuffed olives.

Cucumbers and sweetbreads are a favorite combination. They usually are combined in equal parts and served on lettuce with mayonnaise.
