

Girls Going to 2 Schools to Be Guests

Girls in Indianapolis who will enter Purdue and Indiana universities this fall, are to be entertained by the Butler Alumnae chapter of Alpha Chi Omega sorority, with a swimming party this afternoon at Meridian Hills Country Club.

A buffet supper tonight at the home of Mrs. Verne A. Trask, 160 East Seventy-first street, will follow the swim.

At serving time the guests will be seated at tables arranged under large beach umbrellas. Place cards will be miniature water balls, and other appointments will correspond.

Miss Norma Davidson is chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements. She is being assisted by Mrs. Trask, Mrs. Cleve Fix, Misses Charlotte Wainwright, Jane Hall, Janet Johnston, Ruth Lindeman, and Dorothy Lambert.

The chapter entertains annually for the girls about to enter the two universities, where active chapters of Alpha Chi Omega are located.

MANNERS AND MORALS BY JANE JORDAN

WHAT are you afraid of? Drag out your fears for Jane Jordan to see and she will help you to overcome them.

Dear Jane Jordan—I have been going with a young man for almost two years. We are both very much in love. He wants me to marry him, and I would like to, but I am afraid to. I am afraid of the future, of the children, of the work, and of the discussion of bills in the legislature.

The second reason is a very personal one and very intimate. I am afraid of the future of my marriage. I know how to put it in words. I am afraid of marriage. I do not feel as if I could go through with it. I have a very strong sense of duty, and I feel that I should have no fear of marriage to him. I do love him. He is a very good man, and I possess all the fine qualities a girl could desire in her husband. Why, then, I am afraid of something that so many think nothing of?

Dear Just Me—I do not believe it is possible for you successfully to sacrifice love and marriage for your needy family, no matter how great your will to do so. You can not assault nature with impunity. She will have her revenge in the form of nervous breakdown or physical and psychological conflicts, which destroy your usefulness as a human being.

Hard as it seems for you to desert your family, it is better for everybody concerned if you do. After you are married, you can find many ways to help your mother. It isn't as if you were quitting her completely.

You Still Can Give Mother Aid. The second part of your question is far more important and will cause you trouble unless you get straightened out. The fear of the physical side of marriage used to be more deeply rooted in the emotions of girls than it is today. Modern enlightenment on sexual subjects has gone a long way toward putting this bugaboo to flight.

The cause of the fear lies in the polluting veil of secrecy which the puritans have drawn around the subject of sex. When the physical facts of life are relegated to the back stairs, it is not a cause for wonder if girls get the idea that there is something shady about the whole business.

'Bees and Flowers' The shamed, dutiful mother telling her daughter the facts about life, has wrecked many a marriage before it was made. Neither is the "bees and flowers" school of information adequate preparations for a vital healthy married life.

You should begin at once completely to re-educate your whole attitude toward love and marriage. The libraries are full of sane, wholesome, intelligent books, with the purpose of educating the populace and abolishing the idea that there is anything obscene or fearful in the physical functions of life.

Edward Carpenter's "Love's Coming of Age" is one of the finest things that has been written about the relations of men and women.

Sex Source of Finest Art, Poetry. "Sex" is not only the source of some of the finest poetry and art, of heroisms, sacrifices, dreams; it also is the source of a very important human experience. In sex-love, through physical sympathy and intimate union, we draw into ourselves as in no other way the understanding of another human personality, and the knowledge that two very different creatures can live together in exquisite harmony. It gives, as nothing else can, the beauty of human partnership in love, of mutual abandonment of distrust for mutual joy.

Dear Jane Jordan—Will you please try to dispose of $2,000 interest we have in a property so I can pay my debts? I am frantic from this predicament. We have a debt. Debts are piling sky high. If you could or would help, it certainly will be appreciated.

Dear Mrs. C—I am sorry, but I am powerless to help you. You are not alone in your predicament. In these times, personal property has ceased to be an asset. Instead, it is a liability. The rapid decline of real estate values amounts to confiscation.

If I knew how to solve the problem, it would be worth thousands of dollars to me. But I do not. Smart-people than I am have tried and failed.

Plan D. A. R. Parley Mrs. Roscoe O. Byrne, state regent of the Daughters of the American Revolution, and Mrs. R. P. Shepherd, regent of the Schuyler Colfax chapter, were in South Bend last week making plans for the state meeting which will be held there in October.

Chapter to Meet Alpha chapter, Phi Sigma Theta sorority, will meet tonight at the home of Miss Florence Wilkins.

WHAT'S IN FASHION—

Shirt-Sleeved Men Look Smart

Directed by AMOS PARRISH

NEW YORK, July 12.—"Whew! what a hot day!" And off come men's coats. Which is O. K. That is, if the shirt beneath are as good-looking as the coats. And they ought to be, with all the slick ones to pick from.

First kind that pops into mind, of course, is the cool-looking white broadcloth. Cool-looking, too, if it's one of those ounce-light summer materials, with soft, easy-on-the-neck collars.

"Shirt sleeves" can mean something good-looking, too, if you wear plain colors. Blue or tan . . . or the new dark blue, dark brown and gray we've spotted here and there.

Nice Stripes Popular

Or maybe you agree with a well-dressed man we heard say: "I like a nice stripe." And then he treated himself to several of those English stripes . . . very fine and closely spaced, and in two or three colors.

We've seen some candy stripes, too. (They're the kind that are spaced more widely.) But the very far apart stripes . . . one-half to one inch . . . are fast fading out.

Lots of men are finding that the new mesh shirts let in more breezes than any kind they've ever worn. Small allover holes, you know, in a fine loose weave. You can get them in white or the usual blues, tans and grays.

For sports, there's no need to roll up sleeves and turn down collars. They come that way, sports shirts with turn-down collars. Some even have zip fastenings instead of buttons.

Turned Down Collar Correct

Even evening shirts can be cooler for summer. It's quite correct to put away your wing collar and wear a turned down type. Starched, of course. Or you can wear a narrow bosomed skirt under your dinner coat. With attached, semi-strapped collar.

Keep away from heavy designs, though. Evening shirts are smarter and cooler-looking either plain or finely striped or figured.

Whether you take the air in mesh or wear broadcloth and madras, when you keep up a stiffly starched evening attitude or go in for the less formal summer shirts, remember that coolness is a matter of fit.

Have plenty of room across the shoulders and around the neck, and be sure your shirts are the kind that don't change size every time they come from the laundry.

Sweaters Gay, Intriguing

BY JOAN SAVOY

NEA Service Writer

THERE is something gay and intriguing about sweaters this season which will put you in the play spirit as soon as you pull one over your head. Sweaters no longer are just knitted garments. Each one has a distinctive design of its own and a smart way of adapting itself to the summer program. The fitted look is an important feature.

Copenhagen blue stands out against a White Indian design in one sweater which features an oblong neck, slightly puffed sleeves and a blouse that gets its fullness above the normal waistline. The

The girl at the right is as interested in the sport she is watching as other people are in her large mesh sweater, which is an interesting sun-tan color, especially becoming to sun-browned skins. It has a V-neck and long sleeves.

The girl who is smiling knows that her sweater, which gives an ombre effect by means of black, gray and white zigzags, is taking plenty of tricks of its own. It also features long sleeves and a V-neck.

Both of the long-sleeved sweaters use pearly to lighten the wrists and band the neck.

Midsummer Weddings Continue to Occupy Society Spotlight

Mid-summer weddings continue to occupy the center of the stage in society's interest. The week-end saw the announcement of many marriages which have taken place during June and July.

The wedding of Miss Maxine Deane to Harry E. Patterson, which took place June 30 at the home of the Rev. R. T. Gwyn, has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Deane, 109 North California street. Mr. Patterson is a graduate of Purdue. He and Mrs. Patterson are at home in Thornton.

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Norma Dickey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey Dickey, 3768 West Washington street, to Ward Ratcliff. The wedding took place June 24.

F. W. Cherry, 322 South Walcott street, has announced the marriage of his daughter, Miss Edith Cherry, to L. K. Lindberg.

Marriage of Miss Evelyn Alice Starr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar L. Starr, 3729 Salem avenue, to Richard W. Ross, was an event of July 2. The ceremony was performed in the North Methodist Episcopal church.

The marriage has been announced of Miss Virginia White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Clarke White, Albany, N. Y., to Robert Lee Shumaker, son of Mrs. Fred I. Shumaker, 3917 North Capitol avenue. The bride's home was formerly in Indianapolis.

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Mary Waggoner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Waggoner, 917 North Hancock street, to William S. Roberts. The wedding took place in June. The bride couple is at home with her parents.

Women Are Looking to Golf Meet

With less than a week remaining to pare scores for the women's state golf tournament at the Coquillard course in South Bend, women from all parts of the state are gathering at the hostess city to acquaint themselves with its pitfalls and hazards.

Miss Frances Kottman, who attended St. Mary's college, will renew friendships as the guest of Miss Dorothy Gustafson, who will be playing on her home grounds. Miss Dorothy Ellis, Carolyn Hitz, and Ruth White will be in the lineup.

Other young players well known in Indianapolis because of their championship brand of golf in state tournaments here are Miss Alice Bell English of Lafayette, who will be the guest of Miss Carolyn Coen, and Miss Geraldine King of Wash.

Some of the veteran players who will take part under local colors are Miss Elizabeth Dunn and Mesdames C. A. Jaqua, Glen Howe, George Stewart, Myrtle Schortle, E. A. Crane, Sidney Fenstermaker, E. William Lee, J. C. Patten, Carl H. McCaskey and H. M. Bennett. Miss Mary Gorham and Mrs. A. A. McClamroch, both of Frankfort, are claimed virtually by Indianapolis, as both play for the Highland Golf and Country Club.

Parties are being planned for the evenings by the South Bend women, according to Mrs. Harry L. Cooper, president of the state association. Following the first day's play, a dinner will be held. Another is scheduled Wednesday after the Gene Sarazen-Tommy Armour exhibition match.
