

MARRIED MEN HELD IN DEATHS OF FARM GIRLS

Two Drowned After Beer
Party in Isolated River
Nook, Escorts Say.

By United Press
ROCHESTER, Minn., July 23.—Deaths of two young farm girls, whose partially clad bodies were found in the Zumbro river, today brought arrest of two married men, said by police to admit escorting the young women on a beer drinking party.

Manslaughter charges were being prepared.

The bodies of the girls, Louise Prigge, 22, and Frances Polkowski, 21, both of Millville, Minn., were recovered from the river. Cause of death has not been determined.

The men, whom officers said confessed accompanying the young women on a "pick up" date, were Reuben Krueger, truck driver, and J. E. Sally, mechanic, both of Plainview, Minn.

The story of the fatal evening was reconstructed by crime bureau operatives from statements of the men.

The men "picked up" the girls at Rochester Tuesday night and invited them to go for a swim. The young women demurred at first, saying they had no swimming suits, but finally consented to go to the isolated spot on the Zumbro river on the assurance none could see them there.

The party went to the river bank and spent the evening. They drank beer "spiked" with alcohol for some hours. Finally the girls wandered away from their escorts. Miss Prigge, according to the story told the operatives, fell over a drop off the assurance none could see them there.

The men, after a vain attempt at rescue, fled panic stricken, taking the girls' clothing with them.

Co-Ed's Death Is Suicide

It was believed that Miss Stevens became hysterical over university examinations and took her life, in fear she would fail in the test.

Reapportionment Shifts Electoral Vote

In thirty-two of the forty-eight states, the ballots which Mr. and Mrs. Voter will cast for President next November will differ in value from those of four years ago. For the congressional reapportionment based on the 1930 census reduced the number of congressmen in twenty-one states and increased the number in eleven others, making corresponding gains and losses in the electoral vote of those states. The above map shows the reapportionment of electors for 1932, together with gains or losses from 1928 figures.

In California, where the number of electors was increased from thirteen to twenty-two, each ballot cast at the polls next November will count almost twice as much in the final electoral college result as in 1928. Each state has as many votes in the electoral college as it has senators and representatives.

BOOM TUNNEY FOR SENATOR

Farley Gives Approval to Gene's Candidacy.

By United Press
BRIDGEPORT, Conn., July 23.—Gene Tunney as a Democratic candidate for the United States senate was discussed generally today after James A. Farley had approved his candidacy.

The former heavyweight boxing champion of the world "has all the equipment necessary for the office," Farley said, while here on a visit in the interest of Franklin D. Roosevelt's presidential campaign.

Connecticut Democrats are seeking a colorful figure to lend interest to their state ticket. Tunney has shown an interest in politics. He has shown some interest in public office.

The state has a democratic Governor, but senators Walcott and Bingham are Republicans. Tunney, Democratic leaders believe, could displace one of these and add strength in the state to the national ticket.

COPS HELD SLAYERS

Four Indicted for Third-Degree Death.

By United Press
MINEOLA, L. I., July 23.—Four Nassau county policemen were under indictment today for murder in connection with the death of Hyman Stark, bandit suspect, victim of "third degree" torture.

Ten true bills were handed up by the grand jury Friday night. The number of indictments they contained was not revealed. Nor would District Attorney Elvin N. Edwards name those indicted. The bills were impounded at his request.

Edwards announced the indictments will be arraigned Monday, with possibility that their trials will begin Aug. 8.

Stark's death was caused by a fractured windpipe. It was charged that a deputy police chief, standing with one foot on his neck, the other on his stomach, had "rocked" back and forth.

PAY CUT PROPOSAL STIRS SHERIFF'S IRE

Low Wages Never Brought
Prosperity, Is Sumner's
Plea to Council.

Opposition to wage and salary reductions is expressed in a letter to Sheriff Charles (Buck) Sumner to county councilmen with the assertion that "in this, or any other county, low wages never brought progress or prosperity."

Sumner asks consideration of his views by the councilmen when they meet in a few weeks to fix the 1933 budget, which, it is said, may include reduction in pay of county employees, which last year was reduced 10 per cent.

"In order that there may be no misunderstanding in reference to my position on the present salary and wage-cutting craze, I desire to make my position clear to the people of Marion county," the sheriff said.

"Our business leaders and politicians, who believe that normal times will be restored or people by wage cuts soon will learn that they have killed the goose that laid the golden egg," he said.

"It must be obvious to all well thinking people that there will be no enduring prosperity in this country until wages take an upward trend."

He described himself as "one person who does not agree with that group which for years has contended that $1 a day is enough for a working man."

Barnes and Mrs. Moss were sweethearts when the Civil war broke out. He enlisted and was killed. Although she married twice and had eight great grandchildren, Mrs. Moss guarded until death the daguerotype of her first sweetheart.

AVERT FIGHT AT SENATE HEARING

Holmes, Strey Almost Scrap
Over Utility Bill.

Favorable report on the Municipal Rights League bill, removing municipally owned utilities from public service commission jurisdiction, was accepted by the senate Friday without debate.

Chairman C. Oliver Holmes (Rep.), Gary, staged a stormy committee hearing on the bill Thursday night by getting into an altercation with Senator Charles L. Strey (Rep.), Wabash, author of the measure.

Holmes ordered Strey to stop talking, and threatened to call the doorman and put him out of the committee room. A fist fight was averted by the intervention of Senator Chester A. Perkins (Dem.), South Bend.

Jap Jones, director of the Municipal Rights League, spoke on behalf of the passage of the bill, and William P. Evans, attorney for the Public Service Company of Indiana, opposed it.

Evans also declared against municipal ownership as being "against the best interest of taxpayers."

TEXAS BALLOTS TODAY

Prohibition Is Issue; "Ma" Ferguson
In Governor Race.

By United Press
DALLAS, Tex., July 23.—The question of a prohibition referendum was submitted today to Texas Democrats.

In addition to selecting party nominees for state and congressional offices, primary election voters were given a special ballot on which to register either "yes" or "no" as to whether congress shall be asked to resubmit the eighteenth amendment to the states.

Featuring the election is the three-cornered battle among Governor Ross Sterling, candidate for a second term; former Governor Miriam A. (Ma) Ferguson, and Thomas F. Hunter.

LEGISLATORS FLAT- BROKE, IT SEEMS

Nobody Making Any Money
Out of Lawmakers,
They Claim.

It isn't a drinking legislature. That fact was established today at the special session of the general assembly by the corridor custodians of the gastronomical appetites of the solons, the soft-drink stand.

"It's the poorest business we've had at legislatures," said Jes Hill, owner of the stand, "they're just not drinking or eating."

"Why, if we sell fifty sandwiches and five cases of pop, we're lucky in a day. And the legislators must be feeling the pocket pinch before they'll stand for soda pop at 10 cents a bottle—we had to come down to a nickel, and still there's no business," he said.

And the "shine-em-ups" of the legislative bootblack, Richard Ritter, is proving to be an art that no one listens to.

"They just don't get their shoes shined. I ain't made 70 cents a day. And they spoiled all my business by barring lobbyists. That was my trade all the other four legislatures and I'm going to get me a representative and have him repeal that rule," Ritter declared vehemently between shouts of "shine, Mister."

Nor are the Democrats and Republicans writing back home to the "folk" as they did of yore.

G. R. Jackson, card-writer and fancy "curly-cue" artist at addressing envelopes, says his business is "slow."

"The Democrats haven't anything to write home about and the Republicans are afraid to write home and you can see what happens to my job of addressing letters and writing calling-cards," he sighed.

WETS ELATED; SEE DEFEAT OF 30 HOUSE DRYS

Unexpected Court Rulings
Will Add to Repeal
Strength, Is Claim.

By RAY TUCKER
Times Staff Writer
WASHINGTON, July 23.—An unexpected gain of about thirty wet members of the house was predicted by anti-prohibition leaders today as a result of reapportionment difficulties confronting congressional candidates in Kentucky, Missouri, Minnesota and New York.

The supreme court's decision in the Minnesota reapportionment case has forced representatives in that state and Missouri to run at large. So must two additional members in New York, three in Texas and others in other states.

Now a federal court in Kentucky has handed down a decision having the same effect on the Blue Grass state's eleven legislators.

Democrats to Benefit

With the urban, wet vote likely to determine the outcome in these sections, it is predicted that anti-prohibition candidates will be favored over their dry opponents.

Democrats are expected to benefit more than the Republicans from the situation, and a gain of at least fifteen votes are counted on in Minnesota, Missouri and Kentucky.

The two successful, at-large candidates in New York are almost sure to be wet, as the state has voted that way several times. Moreover, Democrats claim they will sweep out all Republican members except possibly five.

JAPANESE HINT AT NEW ATTACK

Veiled Warning Is Given of Trouble in Jehol.

By United Press
WASHINGTON, July 23.—Authentic dispatches from Manchuria today quoted a Japanese military spokesman as saying that if Chinese Marshal Chang Hsueh-Liang sent troops into Jehol province, it would be regarded as a hostile act.

The Japanese are reported to have sent two companies into the Jehol province of China to rescue a Japanese officer, said to have been captured by Chinese bandits. This act has created wide resentment in China, where it is viewed as an infringement of Chinese sovereignty.

American officials, while silent publicly, privately are disturbed over the new episode in the far eastern trouble.

HUNT BANK BANDITS

Scottsburg and Metamora
Gang Believed Same.

Two bank robberies in southern Indiana Friday, in which the loot was $5,500, are believed by authorities to have been committed by one gang which is being hunted today. Description of the automobile used in the robberies is the same.

Loot of $4,397 was obtained Friday afternoon from the Scott County State bank at Scottsburg and the cashier, Robert Blunt, was shot in an arm and beaten severely when he fought three bandits. The cashier, W. H. Montgomery, president, and two women employees, Misses Margaret Swan and Hazel Gillespie, were in the bank when the robbers entered.

A bandit who was driven by a chauffeur in livery obtained $1,200 Friday morning in a robbery of the Farmers bank at Metamora. George Lennard, cashier, was the only person in the bank when the robber entered.

DOMINIONS ASK ENGLAND FOR TRADE FAVORS

Restriction on Imports Is Demanded; U. S. Seems
Safe on Steel.

By CHARLES M. MCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent
OTTAWA, Ontario, July 23.—Three principal dominions have demanded that Great Britain restrict imports chiefly from the United States, Argentina and Russia, and increase imports from Canada, New Zealand and Australia.

These forcible demands that the mother country give them preference in importing meat, wheat, wool, dairy products, wines, base metal, sugar, fruit and lumber have been made with the British empire economic conference only two days old.

Other demands are to follow.

Their very nature is evidence of Great Britain's foresight in sending seven of her most capable cabinet members and more than seventy assistants to Ottawa to deal with the trade problems arising here.

Willing to Make Concessions

Each dominion is willing, for a consideration, to make concessions that will favor British manufactures over those of the United States.

Each demand, in turn, favors its products that would strike at the empire trade of all the nations mentioned.

The first committee of the conference, at on promoting trade within the empire, will hold its next meeting Monday. The demands will be discussed then.

The speeches of Prime Minister R. B. Bennett of Canada and J. G. Coates of New Zealand, and the statement handed the conference Friday night have given all delegates, particularly those of Britain, more than sufficient material for study.

Though in the multiple proposals by dominion delegates, the United States will be affected in some degree, there are formidable natural obstacles in the way.

U. S. Favored on Steel

An instance is the effort to stimulate British steel exports to Canada. Distance and identity of specifications, types of material and ways of doing business favor the United States.

Of the articles mentioned by the dominion chiefs, meat is expected to be the most important.

Buttlers say that Stanley Bruce, leader of their delegation, is willing to compromise on everything, but that he will insist that Britain in some way concede effective special treatment for meat.

Bruce is said to favor arbitrary limitation of the Argentine export to England as the most practical, because he feels that England can't Argentina as a close friend of the family, to share in a market which is limited to Britain's consuming capacity.

Investments Are Great

Against this is the factor of Great Britain's investments in Argentina, Greece, Sweden and Canada.

Bruce's statement was a strong one, but there's talk that Coates will make stronger ones before the conference goes much further.

American experts believe that the conference delegates as a whole are determined to work out a series of agreements that will stimulate, in some measure, empire trade—and that they will succeed.

They agree, however, that so far as things have gone, there is no reason for serious worry by American business.

BANK LOANS WILL BE PUBLIC, SAYS GARNER

Speaker Contradicts Robinson on Corporation Issue.

By Scripps-Howard Newspaper Alliance
WASHINGTON, July 23.—The monthly reports of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation will be made public monthly, Speaker John Garner decreed today.

"Reports of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation," Garner wired here in reply to an inquiry, "must and will be made public every thirty days, because that is the law, and was so understood at the time it passed the house."

This directly contradicted Democratic senate leader Joseph T. Robinson, who, in an attempt to quiet last-minute opposition to the relief bill, said the publicity clause did not mean immediate revelation of the amounts of loans made and securities accepted by the corporation.
