

W. O. NELSON OF ANDERSON HEADS LEGION

State Department Ends Session After Asking Bonus Payment.

By Times Staff
KOKOMO, Ind., Aug. 3.—Committed to immediate bonus payment, the Indiana department, American Legion, closed its annual convention here Tuesday, following election of officers by both the legion and auxiliary.
Department delegates to the annual national convention to be held in Portland, Ore., were instructed to vote for immediate payment of the bonus in full.
Failure of the legion to take any stand in regard to the "bonus army" riots in Washington last week may be laid to legion Democrats, according to reports current today.

Democrats Are Blamed

Prominent Republicans, trying to vindicate the action of President Hoover in calling out the army, sought to put a resolution before the convention condemning the bonus army, it was said.
The measure was killed by the resolutions committee, and the Republicans could not muster sufficient strength to carry the question to the floor of the convention, it was said.
William O. Nelson, Anderson, is the new state commander. Three ballots were necessary to make him victor over V. M. Armstrong of Indianapolis.

Other officers are J. E. McCurdy, La Porte, northern vice-commander; Maurice Barr, Princeton, southern vice-commander; Howard P. Robinson of Franklin, finance officer; Wilbur Donner of Greencastle, judge advocate; the Rev. S. J. Ryder of the St. John the Baptist Catholic church, Ft. Wayne, chaplain; and Karl Burkhardt, Peru, chief of police, sergeant at arms.
Delegates to the national convention are Ralph F. Gates, Columbus City, retiring commander; C. A. Davis, Tipton, adjutant; Nelson McCurdy, and Alvin Hall of Danville.

Fail to Cut Salary

District commanders are George Hush East Chicago, First; Leonard Warner, Star City, Second; Earl Long, Elkhart, Third; Robert Bursee, Ossian, Fourth; Maurice C. Tull, Kokomo, Fifth; Frank Davidson, Crawfordsville, Sixth; Tillman J. Bough, Linton, Seventh; Ray J. Coudret, Evansville, Eighth; Frank Kossa, Jeffersonville, Ninth; Andrew Gaudin, Ellettsburg, Tenth; C. A. Thompson, Summitville, Eleventh; and Guy G. Meyer, Indianapolis, Twelfth.
After considerable debate, salary of the adjutant remains at $3,600 a year and expenses. An effort to reduce the salary to $3,000 and $800 for expenses failed. Dues remain unchanged, despite an effort to vote a 25-cent a year raise.
Trophy for greatest increase in membership, gift of Gates, was won by the French Lick post; for largest increase over last year, Hammond post, and for outstanding community service, Halliday post of Kokomo.

City Officials Ready to Swing Ax on Budgets

Council Meetings Postponed, Awaiting Actions of State Assembly.

City officials are expected to make a belated start, within the next week or ten days, on compilation of the civil city budget for 1933.
Meetings of city councilmen and other officials to study budget requests has been delayed, awaiting outcome of the forty-day special session of the legislature, which will end Aug. 16.

Various department heads, it is understood, have been advised to submit budgets on the basis of their needs and without salary cuts, in order that proportionate cuts may be made by the budget committee.
While it is certain that serious reduction must be effected in the budget, it is impossible to forecast the nature or amount of these reductions, said Mayor Reginald H. Sullivan.

The bill passed by the house of representatives Monday, providing a sliding scale of salary cuts, with provisions for a 10 per cent slash in the total salary budget, would mean a $20,000 drop in the city budget for salaries alone, equal to about 4 1/2 cents in the levy.

Of this amount, more than half would be sustained by police and fire departments, with a total pay roll of approximately $2,450,000.
In addition, the city budget makers must take into consideration the $82,000,000 center township realty valuation cut, announced several weeks ago.

WOMEN PLEAD FOR CHANCE TO FIGHT BOLIVIAN

War of Amazons Looms in Between South American Rivals.

By United Press
ASUNCION, Paraguay, Aug. 3.—Paraguay mobilized today for war against Bolivia, with women pleading for a chance to fight in the ranks.
President Jose P. Guggiari signed a mobilization decree calling for army reserves of men between the ages of 22 and 29 and officers between 20 and 50, after issuing a manifesto declaring that "the entire nation must rise to arms."
The manifesto blamed Bolivia for provoking war. It said Paraguay's attempts at peaceful settlement of the Gran Chaco dispute had been fruitless.

Several hundred women of the city of Concepcion appealed to the government for a chance to "use arms for the fatherland." They took an other not to use rouge, powder or perfume "until the Chaco is freed of Bolivian forces."

The presidential manifesto indicated the Paraguayans counted the oppressive heat of the Chaco as aid to their soldiers, claiming that Bolivians used higher altitudes, could not stand it.

A statement said 600 Bolivian infantrymen deserted and flew across the Pilcomayo river, suffering from the heat and sickness caused by the low altitudes.

Amazons' War Looms

By United Press
LA PAZ, Bolivia, Aug. 3.—A mounting spirit of war brought demands from women that they be permitted to serve in military activity in defense of Bolivia today after the government indicated there was little hope for arbitration of the Gran Chaco frontier dispute with Paraguay.

In many districts of the interior, Bolivian women were offering themselves for active service in case of necessity. Frequently, the offers were accompanied by the declaration:

"The Bolivian woman always has proved herself in crisis of family or nation."

Work to Avoid War

By United Press
WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—The nations of the Americas were expected to join today in sending a note of transcending importance to Bolivia and Paraguay apparently near war.
Latin-American diplomats felt certain that every neutral nation to the south would join the United States in representations to the disputants.

According to reliable information, these representations will be sensational in nature, and they are expected to consolidate Pan-American nations in support of a new peace doctrine designed to be as far-reaching in effect as the Monroe doctrine itself.
Where the administration has departed from conservative paths, as in the case of the farm board and federal subsidy to banks, corporations, railroads, etc., it will be contended that the gravity of conditions required novel remedies.
Hoover again will hold the World War and world conditions responsible for the depression.

HOOVER TO SEE BOTH WAYS ON DRY LAW ISSUE

Acceptance Speech Drafted to Placate Both Wets and Prohibitionists.

BY RAY TUCKER
Times Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—President Hoover's acceptance speech next week will set forth a prohibition program which is expected to rally Republican wets and dries behind the Hoover-Curtis ticket.

It was learned today that Hoover will interpret the party's prohibition plank, which he forced the convention to adopt, as eliminating the worst evils of prohibition and retaining its best features.

This is counted on to satisfy the Wadsworth-Butler group of wets in the northeast. In an appeal to the dries, he will denounce the Democratic repeal platform as lacking a constructive side and making possible the return of the saloon.

The acceptance address virtually is completed, and probably will be sent to the printer today. Hoover has prepared it with great care, writing and rewriting more often than he usually does. He has submitted parts of it to various advisers, with Ogden L. Mills, secretary of the treasury, as his chief critic.

In general, it is understood, the President will raise the cry that his party is safe and sane, whereas his opponents have no program. The administration's foreign and domestic policies will be praised as a far-reaching effort to bring back economic recovery without departure from "rugged Americanism."

Economic measures advanced at home and abroad, including the Cymran moratorium, will be eulogized as steps essential to prevent the depression from becoming a panic.

Where the administration has departed from conservative paths, as in the case of the farm board and federal subsidy to banks, corporations, railroads, etc., it will be contended that the gravity of conditions required novel remedies.
Hoover again will hold the World War and world conditions responsible for the depression.

TRAIN -KILLS YOUTH

Seek Identity of Negro Fatally Hurt Here.

A Negro youth, who gasped the name "Russell, Wilkes" as he lay on the Monon railroad track at Sutherland avenue early today, after being struck by a southbound freight train, died several hours later at city hospital.
Deputy Coroner E. R. Wilson is withholding verdict in the case until several witnesses have been questioned. Examination of the youth, who suffered head and body injuries, indicates his age between 18 and 20. Dr. Wilson said.
An effort will be made to obtain further identification of the youth, who gave his address as 208 Wills street. There is no Wills street in the city.
William P. Baker, 2443 Bellefontaine street, engineer, told police he saw some one on the track when the train was about 400 feet north of Sutherland avenue. The train was halted in about eight car lengths, it was reported.
