Coolness Wins in Men's Garb
Directed By AMOS PARRISH

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—We've been checking up lately to see just how far this cool wave in men's clothes has gone. And it's spread pretty far. At all the boardwalks and other vacation resorts . . . and in town, too.

All over we've seen an unusual percentage of linen suits. (Remember how they used to be reserved only for after-business hours when you wanted to make an impression on the best girl?)

Lots of men like the double-breasted ones such as you see at the left in the picture. And even more are wearing single-breasted linen suits.

And mesh shirts! A couple of years ago men would have hesitated to wear anything so out of the usual run of things. But not this year!

Not just white mesh shirts . . . but the blues and grays that are giving men a different idea of their complexions.

And who'd expect pastel socks to blossom out so profusely? Men have taken to them as they do toiced tea after a set of tennis . . . or a piece of pie any old time at all.

You see them, clocked or plain, wrapping a touch of blue, or green, or tan around hundreds of vacationing ankles.

Anklets, too, have been seen a lot, since so many men have taken to slacks for golf.

Lots of trousers which you would take to be channels turn out, on closer inspection, to be corduroy. It's not the heavy corduroy you usually think of, but a cool, crisp kind that doesn't soil so easily as flannel or serge. Some like them all white . . . some in fine stripes.

An olive-tan gabardine coat often tops off these corduroy trousers.

Yes . . . everything lightweight, cooler, more colorful, has been on the up and up this summer. White shoes. Narrower garters. Light-weight suspenders. Hatbands on semitailors showing narrow stripes of color through the black. Cool, small-patterned foulard ties.

Now's Ideal Time to Jar Your Jelly

BY SISTER MARY
NEA Service Writer

EVERY glass of jelly made this summer means added interest to winter meals. So as you find bargains in fruits, take advantage of them and turn them into luxuries for next winter.

Current jelly is easy to make and one of the best to have on hand. It's delicious with roast lamb or mutton and adds a piquant touch to many a dessert or sauce.

Rich in that peculiar jelly-making factor, pectin, currants make a perfect jelly without the use of commercial pectin. Current jelly is sure to "jelly" and the fruit is splendid to combine with non-acid fruits lacking in pectin.

Even so, currants are no exception to the rule that fruit for jelly-making should be underripe rather than overripe. Jelly made from overripe fruit has a tendency to be "syrupy" and granular.

PLAIN CURRANT JELLY

Wash currants and pick over. Put just enough water in a smooth, broad preserving kettle to prevent sticking before the juice begins to flow from the fruit.

Add fruit, cover and bring quickly to the boiling point. Reduce heat and crush with a wooden potato masher. Simmer until currants look white.

Turn into a jelly bag and allow juice to drip through. Do not squeeze for this first extraction of juice. Measure juice. For each cup of juice use three-fourth cup sugar.

Heat sugar in a warm oven. Put juice into a broad sauce pan and bring quickly to the boiling point. Boil five minutes and sift in sugar.

Do not let the boiling stop while adding sugar. Boil rapidly until the syrup "sheets" from the spoon. If a very little water was used to cook the fruit it will take a very few minutes to cook the jelly.

Remove from the fire, skim if necessary and pour into hot sterilized glasses. Cover with a thin layer of paraffine. When cold cover with a second layer of paraffine.

Flower Mission Stresses Need of Tuberculosis Hospital

Monthly reports of officers of the Indianapolis Flower Mission made at the regular meeting of the board of directors today in the Architects and Builders building, stressed the desperate need of hospital facilities for advanced cases of tuberculosis, and the public's growing interest in the problem.

Mrs. James D. Ermston, corresponding secretary, read a copy of resolutions passed at a recent meeting of the Indianapolis Exchange Club.

The resolutions state that no place in Indianapolis, or Marion county, are there facilities for segregating advanced tuberculosis cases, that such cases cared for in homes, particularly in home which are in impoverished circumstances, constitute a distinct menace to the health of the community, and that the Flower Mission has offered to build on the city hospital property a hospital unit for the care of such advanced cases.

The resolution urges the city council and city board of health to accept the Flower Mission offer and to appropriate sufficient funds, under the emergency clause of the budget law, if necessary, to maintain the hospital until built.

Mrs. Fred Noerr, district visitor, in her monthly report to the board, stated that 4,984 quarts of milk had been placed in patients' homes in July. The number of quarts has increased each month for the last year. She reported that she made 238 calls and placed fourteen special diets. The Flower Mission extends aid to patients in their homes in the absence of hospital facilities.

Mrs. David Ross, president, presided. Reports were made by Mrs. James H. Lowes, treasurer; Mrs. Ermston and Mrs. C. M. Turner, recording secretary.

Wedding Is to Be Held at Church

The Central Universalist church will be the scene at 4 today of the wedding of Miss Winette Jennings, daughter of Mrs. Lena B. Ebert, 3137 Ruckle street, to Charles Howard Barclay.

The ceremony will be read by the Rev. E. J. Unruh before the altar, banked with greenery and lighted with cathedral tapers.

The bride, to be given in marriage by her cousin, Harry E. Jennings of Newcastle, will wear Lanvin model of white lace, fashioned with cowl neckline.

She will wear a large mesh straw hat banded by white velvet, and carry an arm bouquet of Sweetheart roses, blue delphinium and white roses.

She will be attended by Mrs. Meredith Everett Davis of St. Petersburg, Fla., who will wear light blue printed chiffon, modeled on princess lines. Her accessories will be pink, and she will carry pink roses.

Harold Moody Barclay, brother of the bridegroom, will be best man, and Marvin S. Cochran, usher.

Mrs. Ebert will wear a flowered chiffon gown and a corsage of cream colored roses.

Mrs. Oscar Voght, organist, will play preceding the ceremony. Mrs. Charles Fitch will sing "In a Luxembourg Garden," and "For You Alone."

An informal reception will be held at the church. The couple will take a short wedding trip, the bride traveling in a blue triple sheer suit, with blue and white accessories. They will be at home after Aug. 8 at 2328 North Delaware street.

Out-of-town guests will be Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jennings, Mr. and Mrs. Florence Thornburgh, Misses Mary Woodbury, Louana Steele, Anna Lizezy and Ame Vance, all of Newcastle, and Mr. and Mrs. Spurgeon Forsythe of Steubenville, O.
