

INDIANAPOLIS K. C. BLUES TO FINISH SERIES UNDER LIGHTS

Heving Saves Opener by Superb Slab Work

Joe Relieves Bolen in First Wednesday and Noses Out Kaw Ace; Fitzgerald and Sigafos Shine in Field; Second Tilt Tonight.

Emmet McCann's battling Hoosiers were one up today in the series with the Kansas City Blues, and the teams now will turn to night ball, tonight and Friday. The contests under the lights will start at 8:15. Fans on hand at Perry stadium Wednesday afternoon saw a marvelous exhibition of relief hurling by Silent Joe Heving in the series lid after, and the Indians finished on the long end of a 4 to 3 count against the ace twirler of the K. C. staff, Hal Smith.

Joe relieved Southpaw Bolen in the initial inning, put on the brakes and thereafter proceeded to blank the visitors. Joe retired the side in order in five stanzas, holding the enemy to five hits in eight and one-third innings.

Brilliant support was given Heving by Fitzgerald and Sigafos, the Tribe center fielder making a catch on Snyder in the sixth that was hot. Monahan opened the inning with a double and Snyder connected for a low liner that looked good for extra bases, but Fitz came in fast and snared the sphere at his shoe tops. It was a whistling drive.

Indian Notes

Heving was in a deep hole in the second inning Wednesday and escaped. Smith, first up, singled and took third on Marquardt's blow to right center and Marquardt reached second on the throw-in. Hasler lifted a fly to Fitzgerald and the Blues devised to play it. Smith was held at third. Kelly fouled to Riddle, Pick walked, filling the bases, and Grigsby was tossed out by Sigafos.

The Kansas City sixth was featured by three consecutive sparkling defense performances, contributed after Monahan had doubled. Philander, Pincham, and a running catch on Snyder, then a leap by Heving to grab Smith's high bouncer and for the third out Riddle crashed into the stand for Marquardt's foul.

Tait's double in the first session had so much steam behind it there wasn't a chance for Bolen to flag it at his position at short and it whistled to left field and struck Grigsby on the leg and upset him. Smith covered first in the third and made a good catch on a low throw from Monahan to retire Wingard. Rosenberg got a life on Bolen's tumble in the fourth, but was crashed immediately when Riddle hit into a double play.

Goldman was out of luck at the plate, but played a well defensive game at short. Rosenberg's triple in the second was a mighty smack to deep right center.

Hasler came in fast on Tait's slow roller in the third, scooped the sphere and threw it to first, nailing the runner on a close decision.

Wingard saved Kroner an error in the fourth by spearing a high throw with his glove. It was a sure thing. Wingard, from deep short by Goldman, jumped Riddle in the seventh. Goldman judged Bolen's smash in the fifth, but required time to nip the runner by a whizzer.

Following battles with the Blues tonight and Friday night the Indians will open a series with the Milwaukee Brewers on Saturday night.

Smith of the Blues wasn't the only star A. A. flinger to go down Wednesday. Co-hooper Van Atta and Louisville beat Jack Knott.

It is worth suggested that perhaps the "real" reason for the ousting of Rogers Hornsby as manager of the Chicago Cubs was his over-zealousness in supplying his ball players with bullet proof pajamas.

Tribe Knobs Score

The Indians tied up the fracas in the fifth. Heving singled and was forced by Goldman, who attempted to sacrifice. Fitzgerald's hopper got through Monahan and Goldman took third and Fitzgerald made a wild dash and reached second. Kroner's fly to Kelly put Goldman across the plate and Wingard lined to Grigsby.

The Tribe won the struggle in the eighth and Fitzgerald started the victory run on it. He was first up and singled. Kroner sacrificed and Wingard looped a single to center, scoring Fitz.

Hits were eight for the Blues and six for the Indians, with Heving getting two of the Tribe's blows. It was the thirteenth triumph of the campaign for Joe against three defeats. Hal Smith, K. C. star, has won thirteen and lost seven. Bill Hinchman, Pittsburgh scout, was at the stadium Wednesday watching Smith perform.

Show Their Golf Wares

Jose Jurado

Walter Hagen

Two of the world's most famous linksmen will exhibit their wares for Hoosier golf fans at Speedway course Friday afternoon.

One is Jose Jurado, the Argentine star who took time out last year to teach the prince of Wales a few golf tricks. The other is the immortal Walter Hagen—the original "Hag" who has thrilled local fans with his bag of tricks and ability at previous times.

They'll battle Neal McIntyre, Hoosier open champion, and Chuck Garringer, Speedway pro, in Friday's feature at 2:30.

The showman of golf always does his best before the bigger galleries and it is our hope he has a large one to show before Friday. The fee will be $1.10, including tax. The time will be 2:30, and the Indianapolis Motor Speedway course, located on the speedway grounds out West Sixteenth street, is the place.

Jurado is the champion of the Argentine. He had the British open all but won on two occasions only to lose in the stretch. Indianapolis is accustomed to entertaining foreign stars of all branches of the game, and Jurado undoubtedly will be well received.

Avallones will be occupied in their annual stag day tournament Friday. This is the day when women are barred from the grounds and the men have it from midnight tonight until some time Saturday. Bill Hoyer, the man with the reputation for arranging real stag affairs, is in charge again. It is said Alavon is endeavoring to get Jurado and Hagen to visit there in the evening for the dinner and entertainment.

Bill Heinlein, Indiana amateur links champion, will referee the eighteen-hole best ball test.

Bill Dickey Back Again

Lefty Gomez Hopes to Break Losing String With Old Mate.

By United Press

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—New York's Yankees battled the Chicago White Sox today while welcoming their prodigal catcher, Bill Dickey, exiled thirty days for breaking Carl Reynolds' jaw.

Senior Lefty Gomez, the Castilian beanpole, was slated to do the welcoming honors from the mound because Dickey's return means more to the speed ball than to any other member of Ruppert's Rifles.

Unquestionably Dickey, one of the league's two best catchers and a formidable hitter, will strengthen the Yankees.

While the team did not suffer much with reserve catchers working, Senior Gomez, personally, missed Dickey badly. Until Bill was suspended, Gomez had lost only two games, but while Bill was vacationing in Arkansas, the fast ball left-hander accumulated four more setbacks.

The seventh-place Chisox beat the Yanks, 3 to 2 Wednesday in ten innings. Bob Fothergill drove out a long fly in the tenth inning to tag the winning run. This blow tagged Red Ruffing with his fifth defeat in seventeen starts. Ted Lyons held the Yanks to six blows.

Detroit's Tigers nosed out Washington, 2 to 1, after two timely hits by Bill Riel had driven in a run in the fourth and another in the sixth for the Tigers.

Fuchs recalled the unconditional release, guaranteed Shires' salary for the remainder of the season, promised to supply the player with funds to obtain the best medical treatment for his injured knee and advised Arthur to request Judge Landis to place him on the voluntary retired list.

McKechnie wanted to send the crippled Shires to the minors and the player balked. Arthur was injured during an early season game against Brooklyn.
