

LOAN SHARKS MEASURE DIES IN HOUSE VOTE

Ballot Count Is 25 to 56
After Lengthy Debate on Bill.

Effort to pass the senate bill reducing the small loan interest rate of 3 1/2 per cent a month to 2 per cent was defeated in the house of representatives late Monday by a 25 to 56 vote after a lengthy debate. Before the bill was put on final passage Representative Herbert P. Kenney (Dem.), New Albany, sought to amend the measure by having the 3 1/2 per cent rate prevail for the first $150 and a 2 1/2 per cent rate on the remainder of a loan.

"Don't the representatives realize that if this amendment is adopted the loan sharks will refuse to make loans for more than $150 and have the borrowers of more than that make two notes?" asked Representative E. E. Eikenbary (Dem.), Wabash.

Hot Argument Wages

Debate was opened by Representative Earl Crawford (Dem.), Milton, who asserted:

"This bill, reducing the small loan rate, has been introduced in every session. It is not the borrowers who introduce the bill, but the fellows looking for a shake-down who are back of this measure."

"Records of the state banking department reveal that the average earnings of the small loan operators subtracting losses and expenses is only 91.3 per cent. There is no provision of the law debarring a small loan concern from reducing its interest rate and twenty-three of these companies in Indiana are charging only 2 1/2 per cent."

Tells of Lobby Attempt

"The reason why no borrower comes to the hearing on these bills is that they have been rebuffed by the loan sharks so that they haven't the funds to come here and they haven't the clothes to get here," Eikenbary retorted. "If the operators can't make money out of the decreased interest rate, they can get out of the business."

"A similar measure failed to pass by a constitutional majority in the 1931 session," declared Representative John D. T. Boid (Dem.), Evansville. "On the night of the vote a lobbyist met me in a downtown hotel and said: 'Boid, what can we do for you to make you change your vote?' That's the way the bill is handled."

DROP LATIN IN GRADE SCHOOLS

Algebra Also to Be Held Until Ninth Year.

A "break" for eighth grade public school pupils in the future is contained in an announcement issued today by Paul C. Stetson, public schools superintendent.

No longer will the eighth graders be required to fight their way through Gaul with Caesar's legions, or struggle with algebraic equations, for in the future Latin and algebra will come only in the ninth year.

However, 8A algebra and Latin classes already organized will continue until the end of the fall semester.

Algebra is to be given in the ninth grade to pupils expecting to enter college, while those not going to college will be given a general mathematics course with emphasis on application of mathematics to such practical topics as taxes, insurance, budgets, banking and percentages.

An introductory language course in the 8A grade has been substituted for Latin. In this, pupils will be given a combination of English grammar with a general survey of Latin, French, German and Spanish, with a view toward helping them make a wise choice of languages in the ninth year.

Reporters Teach Trick to Smart Young Diplomat

By United Press
WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—Francis White, as assistant secretary of state, is a smart young diplomat.

Just 40, he has served in China, Persia, Cuba and South America. He is the Latin-American expert and supervised the famous intricate Tacna-Arica negotiations.

Now he is playing the lion-tameter in the Bolivian-Paraguayan dispute. Soothing the temperamental Latins requires all of his suave, diplomatic technique. He believes in secret diplomacy. His motto is, "You can't negotiate through the press."

But when he attempted carry the secrecy complex to the nth degree, newspaper correspondents showed him a new trick.

After much difficulty they obtained an appointment with him. When the first question was fired, White said: "Now, I'll tell you that in confidence."

"Just a minute, before you do that will you please tell me this?" one correspondent interrupted.

White obligingly answered, and just as he was about to lapse into confidential matter another correspondent interrupted. "Just a minute, before you do that will you please tell me this?"

After a half dozen such questions, White said: "Now from here on everything is confidential."

"You mean you won't answer another single question for publication?" "Not one," White replied firmly.

"Then will you please excuse me from the conference," one reporter said, and walked out to telephone his office. Two others did the same thing.

"Well, if all the correspondents won't stay to hear what I have to say in confidence," White said, "there is no use of my telling it," and the meeting broke up.

WADSWORTH TO TRY COMEBACK

Ex-New York Senator Was Victim of Dry Decade.

By Scripps-Horand Newspaper Alliance

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—The first notable victim of the sentiment which produced the dying dry decade will try to make a comeback in November as an humble candidate for the house of representatives in which he may sit at the tail-end of minor committees.

He is James W. Wadsworth Jr., famous Yale baseball player of the '90's, a descendant of the Wadsworth who was a close friend of Alexander Hamilton, and a buddy of Warren G. Harding. He was the senatorial successor to Elihu Root, a presidential prospect himself before his senatorial defeat in 1926, and a man who defied the Anti-Saloon League at the peak of its power.

Back in 1926 it was predicted that if he won re-election to the senate in New York, he would be the logical Republican nominee for the White House in 1928.

He might have been the man around whom the old guard and New York crowd would have successfully rallied against President Hoover.

Wadsworth refused to pussyfoot on prohibition, when he faced reelection to the senate in 1926, so he lost. To friends who urged him to remain silent and not set forth his repeal views on the eve of election, he said:

"I'd rather lose, than be a hypocrite."

SHOWDOWN IS NEAR
ON R. F. C. REPORTS

Where Full Publicity on Loans Will Be Given to Be Settled.

By United Press
WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—A showdown will come this week on whether South Trimble, clerk of the house, will follow the mandate of Speaker John N. Garner and make public the first report of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Chairman Alton Pomeroy of the R. F. C. today announced that the report will be sent to the senate and house within the next two days.

The two-billion dollar relief act increasing capitalization of the corporation requires transmission of monthly reports to congress.

Senate leaders agreed before adjournment that no publicity would be given the reports, unless the senate are later specifically instructed its secretary to do so.

Both Garner and Democratic Leader Henry T. Rainey, however, have decreed that publicity shall be given every phase of the report.

U. S.' BIGGEST FIGURES JOIN RELIEF DRIVE

Newton Baker Is Heading
Mobilization; Hoover and Smith to Aid.

By Scripps-Horand Newspaper Alliance
WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—Big names were called in again today by the Association of Community Chests and Councils to help put over the National Welfare and Relief mobilization, which gets under way a month hence.

The mobilization plans no national fund, nor national disbursement of funds raised locally.

Its sole purpose is to furnish national leadership and impetus in co-ordinating local relief drives, carried on principally by community chests.

Newton D. Baker heads the mobilization, and today the association announced that he would be assisted by a committee of forty-nine nationally-known men and women, including such persons as Mrs. August Belmont, President William Green of the American Federation of Labor, Felix M. Warburg, Owen D. Young and Alfred E. Smith.

Hoover Will Assist

The mobilization this year apparently is using this national committee to function instead of President Hoover's organization on unemployment relief, which has disintegrated because of lack of funds, and from whose chairmanship Walter S. Gifford, telephone magnate, just has resigned.

But Hoover himself will assist by speaking at a welfare and relief conference to be held here Sept. 15. The President will open the conference at the White House, and community leaders responsible for the raising of local funds for social service work and citizens interested in relief problems will be invited to participate.

Baker and other heads of the mobilization realize that the raising of local funds this year will be much more difficult than last, not only because the depression has depleted the funds of individual givers, but also, because a false notion has gained ground that the federal government, through disbursement of $300,000,000 under the relief act, will handle the situation.

Baker Makes Statement

To correct this fallacious idea, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, which is administering the relief fund, has made clear that it will not make loans to states until they have tapped all their own resources.

Baker made a statement today, also, stressing the importance of local fund raising and local self-help.

"The task ahead of us is the greatest we have ever faced," he said. "Every social agency must co-operate. The national citizens' committee will endeavor to mobilize welfare and relief forces throughout the United States. It will be the duty of this committee to explore and explain the existing need. When we are through, we must have prevented hunger and destitution and the nation's welfare plan from destruction."

"America," Baker declared, "was on trial this year! She must preserve her soul!"

The citizens' committee, headed by Baker and J. Herbert Case, president of the Association of Community Chests and Councils, will have William C. Proctor of Cincinnati, and Dr. George Vincent of New York as its vice-chairmen. Among other members are:

New York—Cornelius Bliss, Mrs. Nicholas Brady, Charles S. Burlington, Harvey D. Gibson, Walter S. Gifford, Thomas W. Lamont, Mrs. Robert E. Spencer, Lillian Wald, Colonel Arthur Woods, Bishop Francis McManis.

Cleveland—Charles E. Adams, Warren S. Hayden, F. W. Ramsey, Rabbi Abba, Hillel Silver.

San Francisco—William H. Crocker, Denver—J. H. Welborn.

Birmingham—Oscar Wells.

Washington—Roy Chapin, secretary of commerce, the Rt. Rev. James E. Freeman, John B. Payne, chairman of the American National Red Cross.

Buffalo—Alfred Schoellkopf.

Pittsburgh—Howard Heinz.

Hemorrhoids

How to End Painful Piles Without Salves or Cutting.

Thousands who have piles have not yet learned that quick and lasting relief can only be accomplished with an internal medicine. Neither salves nor suppositories remove the cause.

Bad circulation of blood in the lower bowel causes piles. The hemorrhoidal veins are flabby, the bowel walls weak—the parts almost dead. To get rid of piles an internal medicine must be used to stimulate the circulation, drive out the thick impure blood, heal and restore the affected parts.

Dr. J. S. Leonard, after years of study, found a real internal pile remedy. He called his discovery HEM-ROID, and prescribed it for 1,000 patients with success in over 900 cases, and then decided every pile sufferer, no matter how stubborn their case, might try his prescription with a money back guarantee.

So why waste time on external remedies or worry about an operation when Hook's Dependable Drug Stores and all good druggists invite you to try HEM-ROID and guarantee money refunded if it does not end your pile misery.—Advertisement.
