

MID-STATE TRIO WINS LIVESTOCK JUDGING CROWN

Johnson County Team Takes $200 Trophy in State Fair Contest.

Herman Hendricks and William A. Moore of Franklin and Donald Harbert of Whiteland, constituting the livestock judging contest of Johnson county, won over forty-nine other teams in the annual junior judging contest at the Indiana state fair Monday.

Announcement of their record was made today in the Coliseum when O. L. Reddish, president of the board of agriculture, gave them the $200 trophy offered by the Indianapolis Belt Railway and Union Stock Yards Company.

They also received $200 to defray their expenses while representing the state in the national livestock judging contest at the International Livestock Exposition at Chicago next December.

The Cass county team placed high in judging dairy cattle, and will carry the state's honors to the Dairy Cattle Congress at Waterloo, Ia., next month. This team, which gets $150 to pay expenses, consists of Walter Clary, Lucerne; William Fultz, Royal Center; Robert Hopper, Onward, and Paul Elliott, Lucerne, alternate.

Scholarships Awarded

Scholarships to Purdue university, worth $100 and $75, respectively, were given to the two high-scoring individuals in all classes of livestock, with Kingan & Co. as the donor. These scholarships went to Spencer Bogue of Arlington and Donald Zehr of Remington.

Besides these major awards, the three high scoring individuals in each of the three districts of the state were given trips to the stock show and club congress at Chicago.

These trip winners were: Henry Wolf of Ligonier, Raymond Straub of Brookston, John Boumar of LaPorte, John Donnelly of West Terre Haute, Ralph Butler of Russiaville, Lowell Prazler of Muncie, Roy Elliott of Rising Sun, Myron Cole of Vevay and Charles Stevens of Oaktown.

Medals Go to Boys

Medals went to the boys who made the highest score in judging the different classes of live stock. These winners were: Raymond Butlerbaugh of North Manchester, Allen Cravens of Knightstown, Dwight Cottingham of Attica, Carl C. Miller of Gaston and Roy Elliott of Rising Sun.

Professor C. F. Gobble of Purdue university supervised the contest and several members of the instructional staff there had charge of the judging work in the different departments of the fair, and made the official placings. Each boy had to judge and give written reasons for his placings on several rings of cattle, horses, sheep and hogs. Nearly 200 boys were in the contest.

NAB 'TRAFFIC TERRORS'

Three Face Liquor Charges After Perilous Whole Neighborhood.

Three Negroes were arrested Monday night after, police said, they spread a reign of traffic terror over a few blocks in their automobile, backing over a pedestrian, demolishing traffic, crushing several fenders and finally colliding with another automobile.

Arrested in the 400 block, West Sixteenth street, were Robert Vaughn, 30, of 325 West New York street; Sylvester Vaughn, 19, of the same address, and Taylor Hou-chens, 20, of 433 West Sixteenth street, all facing liquor charges. Farleigh Bradshaw, Negro, 2101 Wendell street, the pedestrian, suffered hip injuries.

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—Remarks by J. P. Morgan that "I don't know anything about any depression," and Calvin Coolidge's sage suggestion that work will solve the unemployment problem are among "niti-witticisms of the notable," which are to be presented in book form Sept. 21 as the latest contribution to hard times literature.

The volume, "Who's Hokey," compiled by George Novack and Arthur Zipser, according to its publishers, E. P. Dutton & Co., also lists among its ludicrous quotations the following:

L. F. Loree: "I believe a commerce depression to be the normal consequences of progress."

Roger W. Babson: "Unprecedented prosperity is coming."

Harvey Firestone: "Depressions are good things; we always come out of them with some benefits."

Henry Ford: "If this period of convalescence through which we have been passing must be spoken of as a depression, it is far and away the finest depression that we have ever had."

COOLIDGE OUT TO AID HOOVER

Magazine Article Satisfies President's Friends.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—Former President Calvin Coolidge has thrown his influence in favor of the re-election of President Herbert Hoover.

He made known his attitude in an article in this week's Saturday Evening Post entitled "The Republican Case."

The endorsement was emphatic. It left no doubt as to Coolidge's belief that Republican victory highly is desirable.

When Coolidge said his successor should be re-elected "for what he has done, and for what he has prevented," he satisfied the most demanding of the Hoover inner circle.

COPS RUN DOWN CROOK SUSPECT IN WILD CHASE

Hotel Guests Aroused as Pursuers, Pursued Dash Through Halls.

Guests of the English were aroused early today during a chase through hallways and unoccupied rooms which resulted in arrest of Robert Helm, 32, Negro, 751 Colton street, following a burglary in the supply room of the Rainbow beauty college, 207-211 North Illinois street.

Elevators and stairs of the hotel were used by participants in the chase which ended on the fourth floor when Helm ran into the arms of Sergeant Walter White in trying to escape from Lieutenant Leo Troutman.

A yell, "Get that man," by John Greer, 2065 North California street, merchant policeman, started the chase. White and Troutman were in a car in the 200 block, North Illinois street. They heard the yell and saw a Negro run in the direction of the hotel.

Turned in pursuit, a front tire of the police car burst when it struck a curb, but continued on its way.

Helm dashed into the hotel lobby, the officers in pursuit. He went up a stairway, followed by Troutman. White took an elevator.

The Negro went to the fifth floor, but, seeing White, fled to the fourth floor. Troutman was coming upstairs with a drawn revolver. Helm again ran to the fifth floor, only to run into the arms of White, and the chase was over.

Helm, a former convict, is charged with burglary and vagrancy. Although armed with an automatic pistol, Helm made no attempt to shoot.

In possession of the Negro, police found the pistol, four pencils, a bill fold containing $12, pair of pliers, two notebooks, a prayer book,

Pigeon Fan

Let the sun come out. Let it get hot. For Miss Mary Alice Reynolds, 414 Congress avenue, won't fret if she can just stroll into the poultry building at the Indiana state fair long enough to get a fan-tail pigeon like the one shown.

Using Mister Pigeon as a fan is another trick, but Miss Reynolds swears she can do it as easily as Thurston can pull a cage of pigeons out of his sleeve.

bottle of brilliantine, a knife, fifty-four 3-cent stamps, eighteen 2-cent stamps, a purse containing $1.20, old coins with a face value of 99 cents and a Canadian penny.

The loot taken from the beauty college supply room was owned by employees, according to H. R. Fulton, manager. It included the brilliantine, pencils and notebooks.

Police suspect Helm in three other burglaries.

FARM BOARD TO HOLD SURPLUS GRAIN, COTTON

Selling Will Be Curtailed in Effort to Bolster Market Prices.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—The farmer's fear that federal farm board holdings of surplus grain and cotton would be sold and depress the present market of rising prices, was removed today.

The farm board's announcement that it would sell neither cotton nor grain this year, was viewed here as an attempt to give a psychological stimulus to business generally, especially in rural sections.

It came six days after the Reconstruction Finance Corporation loaned $50,000,000 for the purpose of withholding surplus cotton from this year's market.

The board said that the Cotton Stabilization Corporation would sell none of its estimated 2,000,000 bales until March 1, 1933, and that the American Cotton Co-Operative Association would withdraw its present stocks of the 1930 crop July 31, next year.

The Grain Stabilization Corporation's estimated 3,000,000 bushels of wheat will be kept off the market until at least the first of next year.

The Cotton Stabilization Corporation recently decided to sell within the next twelve months 650,000 bales of its holdings. It already has sold 300,000 bales. The remainder will be withdrawn from sale with the exception of minor amounts already consigned to foreign countries, or cotton that may be sold at 12 cents or more a pound on the basis of New York future prices.

A few sales of surplus grain to foreign countries—sales which will not affect the market price of grain—also are planned.

"Nature in the Raw is seldom MILD"

ERIC THE RED

"Nature in the Raw"—as portrayed by Harland Frazer... inspired by that marauding Viking chieftain whose vandalism branded him as the "Terror of the North" (975-1000 A. D.).

—and raw tobaccos
have no place in cigarettes

They are not present in Luckies
... the mildest cigarette
you ever smoked

WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.

"If a man write a better book, preach a better sermon, or make a better mouse-trap than his neighbor, tho he build his house in the woods, the world will make a beaten path to his door."—RALPH WALDO EMERSON.
Does not this explain the world-wide acceptance and approval of Lucky Strike?
