

TALKING IT OVER

BY DANIEL M. DANIEL

(Editor's Note—During the absence of Joe Williams, who is vacationing, Daniel M. Daniel of the New York World-Telegram is conducting the Talking It Over Column.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—The Yankees and the Cubs practically are in and will meet in the world series in the Yankee stadium on Wednesday, Sept. 28. Recognition of that fact is made in the first betting on the classic, which makes the American League champions 2 to 1 favorites.

It is my impression that within the next two weeks those odds will be cut to 5 to 3. The Cubs are not likely to be quite so easy as some of the folk around here figure.

Yes, the Yankees should win. For a while they were considered the favorites to get to work in the third game with the Senators, and again in the double-header with the Athletics, they proved they could raise themselves to their old run-making form.

But the Chicago club is hot. If it retains its current temperature for the world series, it will present quite a problem to the Yankees, especially in those three games which will be played in the Chicago park.

On the other hand, the New York team is extremely hard to beat in the stadium and the fact that the sixth and seventh games of the series, if needed, will be fought out in the Ruppert arena should figure largely in the betting on the series.

You will note that in the Stadium this season the New Yorks won 62 out of 101 an amazing record, particularly high mark for success on a home field.

ADHERENTS of the Cubs get a lot of encouragement out of the recent falterings of Lefty Gomez, star southpaw of the Yankees. While Lefty has been winning—he turned in his twenty-third victory Monday—he has been subject to seventh and eighth inning litters.

Lefty is tired and not in the best shape. It seems to me it would be a fine move on Joe McCarthy's part to put both Gomez and George Pipgras out to pasture for a while. Once the pennant is in the bag, it is likely that Gomez and Pipgras will be skipped a couple of times in the New York pitching schedule.

From Chicago comes the word that the fans out there do not figure Gomez better than number three among the Yankee pitchers for the series. They think the Cubs will win the series, and they think the Cubs will win the series.

Allen, with that side-arm fast ball of his, which has been the mainstay of the nine innings in Monday's nightcap in the stadium, should be especially dangerous in the Chicago park.

If the day on which Johnny won in Chicago happens to be a warm one, the center-field bleachers are full of fans in shirt sleeves. The Cubs will have the time of their lives seeing Allen's "whip-cracker."

WORLD SERIES discussion among the players already waxing hot. Frank O'Doul of the Dodgers, who is quite a hitter in his own right, predicts that the left-handed slugger of the Yankees will have none too sweet a time in the Chicago park.

O'Doul, who hits from the first base side of the plate himself, says he is forced to adopt a crouching stance at Wrigley field which puts him at a disadvantage. He stresses the fact that this is true even with a right-hander working for the Cubs.

You see they really haven't a single southpaw for the classic. Their one left hander, Jesse Marv, has done next to nothing at all in the last six weeks.

While O'Doul is at the Stadium, along comes Waite Hoyt, former Yankee, and now with the Giants.

"All that talk of the Chicago pitchers stopping Ruth, Gehrig, DiCkey and Combs in the Cub field is the bunk," says Waite. "The right field bleacher at Wrigley Field is filled with fans who are betting on the Cubs, or at least on the fact that I am not disparaging the class of the Cubs, or at least on the fact that I am not disparaging the class of the Cubs, or at least on the fact that I am not disparaging the class of the Cubs."

Joe McCarthy, who managed the Chicago club for five years, says: "When you hit them hard in Chicago they go, just as far as they do in the Stadium. It seems to me the decision to Hoyt over O'Doul on points."

Feature Speed Program

Planned at Jungle Park

By Times Special

ROCKVILLE, Ind., Sept. 7.—Work of placing the Jungle Park track, located north of here, in condition for the fifty-mile sweepstakes to be staged next Sunday is under way. The Jungle Park Racing Association is placing 1,500 gallons of oil on the track surface to put it in top condition and eliminate dust.

In addition to the fifty-mile feature, a two-mile race will be run between Everett Rice of Crawfordsville and Harry McQuinn of Indianapolis and a special wheel-change race of five laps will be run with the four fastest cars competing. Each car will change a wheel on one of its laps. The first race starts at 2:30 o'clock.

TECH GRIDMEN DRILL

Four Letter Men Report for Practice; Open at Newcastle.

With four letter men in action, Technical high school's football squad of fifty-five candidates continued light work today at the east side field. Brudey J. Schinger, Fessler and Pardue are the letter men. Another promising youngster is Masaracha, accurate-passing half back. Tech opens its schedule on Sept. 17 at Newcastle.

MORSE, KEENE CHAMPS

Dan Morse and James Keene today held Butler tennis crowns. Morse captured the junior title with a 4-6, 6-1, 6-0, 6-0 triumph over Don Mellett in Tuesday's finals.

Keene trounced Dick Wilson, 6-1, 6-1, in the boys' title tussle on Tuesday, after defeating Bob Emrick in a semi-final tilt.

MILLER, CHARLES TIE
Breaking 93 out of 100 targets each, Miller and Charles tied for first in the feature event at Crooked Creek Gun Club Tuesday. Brendel captured the handicap with 24 out of 25.

SEVEN TWO YEAR-OLD PACERS IN $7,000 FOX STAKE

Record May Fall in Rich Juvenile Race

Three Other Events on Grand Circuit Program at State Fair Oval; Spencer McElwyn, Raider and Senator McKillop Tuesday Features.

Seven sensational juvenile pacers battled today for a purse of about $7,000 in the Fox stake, feature of the third day of Grand Circuit racing at the Indiana fairground oval.

With the best 2-year-olds in the country meeting at the peak of their form, a record performance, surpassing the 2:02½ set last year by Calumet Cheater, is predicted.

Another promising event on today's program was the 2:10 early closing pace, bringing together such stars as Myrtle McKillop, Zombro Hanover, Ray Henley and others. A purse of approximately $3,000 goes to the winner of this event. The Indiana 2-year-old and a 2:22 pace were other races on today's bill.

Spencer McElwyn, Raider and Senator McKillop won Tuesday's feature events.

Senator McKillop turned in the best performance of the day, the former Indianapolis trotter establishing a new record of 2:02 in the second heat of the 2:14 trot. Arthur Mower captured the first mile in 2:03½, but Senator McKillop came back with a 2:03 performance in the third and deciding mile to win.

A cold wind hampered the runners in all events Tuesday, and with ideal conditions, the victor might have turned in a performance of near 2:01 in the second mile.

Raider Battles Rip Hanover
Raider, driven by Egan, and Rip Hanover, who won the 1931 Fox stake under the name of Calumet Cheater, waged a brilliant battle in the Horseman pace for 3-year-olds.

The Hanover star, driven by Berry, finished fast to nose out Raider in the first mile in 2:04½. Rip led most of the second heat, but Egan brought his star up in a sensational finish to get the edge. Raider won easily in the final heat with a 2:03 performance.

Wins 2-Year-Old Race
The Horseman Futurity for 2-year-old trotters went to Spencer McElwyn, who won the second and third heats after Brown Berry had walked from the field in the first mile. Brown Berry broke on the turn in the second heat, but came back to set the lead until McElwyn spurred ahead to win by two lengths.

The victor won all the way in the final heat.

Sammy Volo, a son of the Great Volo, proved his class by capturing the 2-year-old Indiana pace in two straight heats. Jerry Dale finished second in both miles, both covered in 2:07½.

Doris Guy won three straight heats in the 2:20 trot for half miles horses, with the Senator gelding, De Witt Clinton, finishing second in each heat.

Central Title Series Starts
By Times Special
DAYTON, O., Sept. 7.—The Ft. Wayne Chiefs and Dayton Ducks of the Central League will begin their playoff series for the circuit championship here tonight. Ft. Wayne won the second half pennant, and Dayton topped the first half race.

First two tilts will be played here and the next two in Ft. Wayne. The first and sixth games, if necessary, will be staged in Dayton, and if the series goes to seven games, the place will be determined by the toss of a coin.

By Times Special
The Saints are off of the A. A. cellar for the first time this season. The champions of 1931 started the campaign in last place and remained there until Tuesday.

The exit was made when the Apaches beat Kansas City in twelve innings and Louisville fell before Columbus under the lights in Derbytown. The Colonels now occupy the league dungeon.

Kansas City knocked the St. Paul franchise by scoring five runs in the ninth and chalked up one more victory. The Apaches, who only have a homer by Hopkins of St. Paul left to beat them, will be off with a triple. Two Apaches were passed off with a triple. Two Apaches were passed off with a triple. Two Apaches were passed off with a triple.

WHITEHEAD was the big noise for Columbus Tuesday night when he drove out four hits, including a double and triple. He batted in four runs as the Birds trimmed the Colonels, 9 to 3. Whittle also pilfered two sacks. Louisville committed four errors and fell into eighth place.

In the deal that sent outfielder Nick Cullop to the Rochester Internationals, Columbus received shortstop Tom Carey from Boston of the Texas League. The three clubs involved are controlled by the St. Louis Cardinals. The Cullop transfer at first was denied by Larry MacPhail, Columbus president, but it seems as though Branch Rickey, St. Louis Cardinal business manager, is the "head man" in the chain and his moves seldom are questioned.

With the New York Yankees boasting of a no-shoutout big league record, the Kansas City Blues take pleasure in calling the attention of the baseball world to the minor league mark established by the Kansas several years ago. From 1921 to 1923 the Blues played through 236 consecutive games without being held scoreless.

ALVA BRADLEY, president of the Cleveland Indians, announced today the manager for the Cleveland club next year will not be appointed until after the current race ends. This announcement spread more rumors to the effect that Roger Peckinpaugh is slated for the tinware, and as a result some Cleveland sport observers have a hunch that Owain Bush, Minneapolis pilot, will be employed.

Bush was mentioned prominently as the successor to Stanley Harris at Detroit, but when Peckinpaugh got tangled up in a row with Wes Ferrell, star pitcher, several baseball writers switched opinion and predicted Bush will land with Cleveland.

Whatever happens, it seems to be a foregone conclusion that Indianapolis' Owain Bush will be back in the majors in 1933.

The Newark Bears are making big preparations for the start of the "little world's series" late this month. The Bears clinched their pennant recently and are expected to land with Cleveland.

Telephone news in the semi-final game of the Indianapolis Amateur Baseball Association's city title series at Perry stadium at 1:30 p. m.

Norman Perry, owner of the Indianapolis American Association club, has donated the use of the stadium, and the Tribe reserves will play Riverside Olympics, already qualified in the city series finals, in a second game Saturday. Admission will be 25 cents, with all proceeds being used to help defray expenses of the city title winner to the national tournament.

A. B. C.s in Two Tilts
Two games are on the program for Jim Taylor's A. B. C.s, local Negro club. They battled Eastern All-Stars at Perry stadium today.

Thursday, they take on Indianapolis American Association club Reserves at 8:15 p. m. Walter Holke will be in charge of the Tribe Reserves, who hold two one-run, extra-inning decisions over the Taylor club. Steve Bolen and Jack Kroner have been added to the Reserve lineup, and Bill Burwell will do the hurling.

LOCAL SHOOTERS WIN
Indianapolis Skeet Club Captures Midwest Team Title.
Indianapolis Skeet Club team won the team championship at the Midwest at Cleveland on Labor day, with a 226 score in 250 targets.

Phil Free, with 97 out of 100, topped the field. F. Sully, C. Stumph, Ollie Mays and Albert Smith were other members of the squad.

HAGEN TO ARGENTINE
DETROIT, Sept. 7.—Walter Hagen, veteran Detroit professional links star, will play a series of exhibitions with Jose Jurado, South American champion, in Argentine this winter. Jurado, who has been playing in this country several months, will sail Sept. 17, followed by Hagen in December.

CARS WASHED
We feature the depression car wash. This is a fast wash—cleaning the body and windows. This does not include a vacuum cleaning, nor a soap and brush cleaning of the wheels. We wash the wheels and chassis with high-pressure guns.
