

DAVILA QUILTS AS CHILEAN CHIEF; FIGHTING LOOMS

One of Group Who Forced President to Resign Opposes New Regime.

SANTIAGO, Chile, Sept. 14.—Chile's newly-formed provisional government broke into dissension today, and armed opposition was threatened.

General Arturo Merino Benitez, one of the military leaders of the revolt, which had forced resignation of President Carlos G. Davila, expressed himself in opposition to the new provisional government of General Bartolome Blanche. General Novoa started a march on the aviation school at El Bosque, demanding surrender of Benitez.

Davila resigned the provisional presidency after military and naval groups issued a manifesto declaring Davila was not carrying out the projected program for a Socialist government.

He had held office since June when he and his followers ousted President Montoro in a bloodless revolution.

It was announced that a junta consisting of General Bartolome Blanche, Rear Admiral Carlos Joubert, Col. Arturo Merino Benitez, General Luis Otero and General of Carabineros Umberto Ariagada had taken over the reins of government.

An ultimatum demanding surrender of the aviation school, held by rebel forces on threat of military attacks, was dispatched today to General Benitez, rebel leader.

The army leaders, who sent the ultimatum, prepared machine guns, light artillery and anti-aircraft guns to oppose the rebels, who were reported threatening to bombard the city if troops attempted to capture air field.

About 800 government troops surrounded the air field an hour before the expiration of the ultimatum. Conservative elements expressed fear that the threat of fighting would be a signal for a Communist outbreak.

Unconfirmed reports from many parts of the country said "radicals" were organizing for a coup d'etat, and probably were merely awaiting evidences of military support.

REICHSTAG END EDICT BACKED BY HINDENBURG

BERLIN, Sept. 14.—Germany is traversing an amazing constitutional crisis, with the government of Chancellor Franz von Papen and the parliament mutually accusing each other of violating the fundamental laws of the land.

The situation which has arisen as a result of Von Papen's action in dissolving the reichstag, Monday, is so unique that there is no judicial body available to settle the bitter conflict.

President Paul von Hindenburg Tuesday night issued an ultimatum addressed to Hermann Goerring, the Fascist speaker of the reichstag, demanding that he recognize the constitutionality of the dissolution.

The aged president, likewise, warned Goerring to withdraw accusations he has made against Chancellor Von Papen, that he acted unconstitutionally in dissolving parliament.

Assassin of Doumer Is Executed in Paris

Dr. Paul Gorgouloff and wife

PARIS, Sept. 14.—The assassin of the beloved President Paul Doumer paid for his crime at dawn today when the sharp blade of the guillotine chopped off his head.

Dr. Paul Gorgouloff, half-mad Russian, shot down the frail "Pere" Doumer at a benefit bazaar for war veterans on May 7.

The knife of the guillotine fell at 6:03 a. m. The Russian's head clopped into a basket, and his body thumped into a zinc-lined wicker case.

Within five minutes, horses trotted over the cobble stones drawing a closed van that carried the body to a pauper's grave.

"Monsieur Paris," as official guillotine Anatole Deibler is called, officiated in a gray suit and derby hat.

The execution was completed so quickly that even the group of lawyers, officials, and journalists assembled at Sante prison near the guillotine scarcely saw it.

HUNDREDS, including scores from cabarets of Montmartre and Montparnasse, tried to break through police lines.

Immediately after the execution, police washed the blood-stained ground with a powerful hose to prevent morbid sightseers from dipping handkerchiefs in the blood.

Barley half an hour before his execution, according to French law and custom, the assassin was awakened by his guard and lawyer, and told that he must die. He said not a word, but dressed calmly.

Gorgouloff said a prayer in Russian, as he was taken to the prison chapel, repeating the words after a Russian priest.

He then went to be prepared for his final toilet.

As his hands were being manacled and the back of his head shaved to better expose his flesh to the sharp knife, Gorgouloff turned to his guards and said: "I am not a Royalist. I am not a Communist. I commend myself to Russian peasants." He then started to rave about his idea, and shouted to those around him:

"I hope my boy will become a doctor and carry out the principles of my idea." His wife is expecting a child soon.

The Russian died courageously, with the same twisted grin on his face that he often displayed during his trial.

INSIST SCHOOL BUDGET NEEDS DRASTIC SLASH

Demand for Further Cuts to Be Made at Public Hearing Thursday.

Demand for further substantial slashes in the city schools 1932-1933 budget were being prepared today by tax reduction organization representatives to be presented at a public hearing on the school budget Thursday noon.

It was understood joint recommendations would be submitted by the Indiana Taxpayers' Association, Chamber of Commerce civic affairs committee, and Marion County Association for Tax Reduction.

The three organizations were expected to request additional pay slashes for teachers and other school employees, heavy cut in supply and material items and possibly elimination of the less essential activities of the school system.

The school budget, as adopted by the board, totals $6,535,481, a reduction of $857,425 under the budget for the previous year.

New Rate Is Assailed

With a $121,000,000 decrease in assessed valuation and heavily increased tax delinquency, the budget will require a tax levy of $1.087 for the 1932-33 school year, as compared with $1.167 for the last fiscal year.

"The Indianapolis school rate of $1.087 is the end of a trail of inaction ignoring the vital need for economy in government," a statement issued at offices of the Indiana Taxpayers' Association today charges.

"It is the forerunner of the highest total tax rate with which taxpayers of Indianapolis ever have been confronted. It is time for the schools to begin a retrenchment long overdue.

Figures Are Cited

"Increased public welfare costs, lower valuations and reduced revenue from various sources will play a part in causing an increase in this year's tax rate.

"But failure to adopt the logical and prudent policy of reducing other costs to compensate for these larger requirements, has been equally the cause."

The statement cites figures seeking to show that in twenty-six years, with an 89 per cent increase in population, there has been an increase of 673 per cent in the amount of taxes levied for school purposes.

It is pointed out that taxes levied for school purposes have increased from $871,976 in 1906 to $6,746,602 for 1932.

Ping Pong Boy Emperor Takes Annam Throne

American Phonograph and Thousands of Records His Prized Possessions.

HUE, Indo China, Sept. 14.—Wearing the imperial bonnet and with a jade scepter held jauntily in his right hand, Bao Dai, boy emperor of Annam, who has a passion for ping pong and American phonograph music, has ascended his throne to inaugurate his active reign.

Having concluded six years of education in French schools and sport fields, the 19-year-old emperor assumed control of his state in a brilliant ceremonial Tuesday, capped by a dinner of regal magnificence in the imperial palace.

Bao Dai became emperor in 1926, succeeding to the throne of his father, Kai Dink.

In accordance with his father's wishes, he was sent to France for an education while a cousin, Tanf Hat Han Sat, occupied the throne as regent.

In the baggage which he brought back to Annam was a vast amount of tennis equipment, an assortment of western riding breeches and boots, and an American phonograph with thousands of records.

Although in France he always dressed in smart, western clothes, he did not bring back many western suits.

He intends to adhere to the traditions of his house, and effect the silk embroidered blouse of Annam. He has insisted, however, that he be permitted to follow his various sports. He was considered one of the best ping-pong players in Europe.

Annam has a population of more than 5,000,000, mostly rice growers. It is a French protectorate.

PARENTS SEEK $2,999 FOR DEATH OF YOUTH

Value Is Placed on Services Until Boy Would Have Reached Majority.

In a suit filed in superior court four Tuesday, Charles R. Riley of Middletown asks damages of that amount against the railroad because the parents have been deprived of the youth's services until he was legally of age.

MAINE DEFEAT STIRS HOOVER TO SPUR AIDS

G. O. P. Leaders Disappointed Over Party Losses; Strong Efforts Urged.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—Concerned over the Democratic victory in Maine, President Hoover has taken the lead in spurring his Republican lieutenants to greater campaign activity as Governor Roosevelt swings into his transcontinental speaking tour.

"We have a strong case and a right cause," he declared in a personal message to Chairman Everett Sanders of the Republican national committee.

He said Republicans had known all along that owing to the ravages of the world depression, the fight would be a hard one, but that the result in Maine imposed need for stronger efforts to make the issues at stake clear to the people.

At the same time, he declared continuance of reconstruction efforts transcended all personal and partisan considerations. Some of Mr. Hoover's advisers were urging that he expand his speaking program beyond the two or three addresses now planned.

Most Republican leaders made no effort to conceal their disappointment over party losses in Maine. On the contrary, they frankly are using the defeat to stir party workers to more aggressive efforts.

Republicans saved one congressional seat in re-electing Representative Carroll Beedy, a dry, but they lost the other two and the governorship.

Because of the close margin by which the Democrats carried the state this week, Republicans confidently expect that by redoubled efforts they will recapture the state in the presidential election.

LESLIE ASSAILS UPSTATE CHIEFS FOR LOAN CRIES

Governor, Irked, Orders Orr to Lake County for Poor Aid Quiz.

Lake county officials, who are deploring Governor Harry G. Leslie's failure to immediately approve $1,000,000 in federal Reconstruction Finance Corporation funds for poor relief, "probably are disappointed because they didn't get to take a $700 airplane ride," Leslie charged today.

"I understand they had appropriated $700 for a plane to go to Washington and get the money," Leslie said. "I guess they thought all I would need to do is to sign the request and they would fly down there and bring it back in barrels."

Declaring that under the federal law he must assume responsibility for any part of the $30,000 allotted to Indiana communities for poor relief by the R. F. C., Leslie said he would not accede to Lake county demands until he learned more about how the funds are to be spent.

Following a conference with Attorney-General James M. Ogden and Lawrence F. Orr, chief examiner of the state board of accounts, Leslie ordered Orr to go to Lake county and investigate.

"I have been told of a doctor said to have drawn $30,000 in fees for caring for the poor and never performed a major operation," the Governor declared.

"There also are rumors of dentists filling teeth for persons whose addresses would be in Lake Michigan. If I am to be responsible for expenditures, I don't want such items included."

Leslie also said it "didn't seem likely" that a county with one-twelfth of the population was entitled to one-eighth of the total funds allotted.

Just what is "rough cut?"

THE tobacco that is cut best for pipes might be termed "whittle cut" or "rough cut," like Granger.

Then again, it requires a certain type of tobacco for a pipe—different from the leaf tobacco that is used in making chewing tobacco or in making cigarettes. In addition, Granger is made by Wellman's Method.

Granger has a pleasing aroma. It is slow burning and it is cool. Just try it!

Promise 'Jerkless' Rides in Trackless Trolleys

Sudden Lunges of Cars Are Eliminated by Improved Braking Systems.

The new trackless trolleys, which will be put into operation over the South Meridian and Riverside street car lines by the Indianapolis Railways Oct. 1, will be "jerkless," according to company officials.

Foot controls for acceleration and braking, in place of the old hand levers, will mean that even passengers who have to stand will not be discomfited by sudden lunges of the car, the officials claim.

The new control of acceleration, which looks like an ordinary automobile clutch or brake pedal, has eighteen speeds. Present street cars have eight.

The result, engineers say, will be that passengers will be unable to notice the change from one speed to another.

In the present cars, only two positions are possible for the brake lever: on, and off. The new cars will be slowed by a brake which operates like the one in an automobile. The further the pedal is pushed, the greater the air pressure on the brake.

These improvements will be installed in both the new trackless trolleys and the new street cars which the company is buying.
