

TWO SLAIN IN FEUD RENEWAL; TROOPS CALLED

Foes, Hidden in Kentucky Courthouse, Shoot Down Family Enemies.

By United Press

MANCHESTER, Ky., Sept. 19.—Twenty-five Kentucky national guardsmen patrolled streets here today as authorities continued their investigation into the slaying of two men, one of them a commonwealth attorney, and the wounding of two others in an old Clay county feud.

The dead are: Frank H. Baker, 39, commonwealth attorney, London, Ky., and John Brock, 23, said to be a resident of Cincinnati.

The wounded are: Frank Young, 40, shot in the left hip, and Wiley Baker, uncle of Frank Baker, wounded in the legs.

The alleged slayers, who fired from ambush in the courthouse and then, after having barricaded themselves there for hours, escaped before troops arrived.

Frank Baker had gone to Manchester from London county and stopped at Wiley Baker's home. William C. Lewis, circuit judge, who requested the national guard troops of Governor Ruby Laffoon, said.

When the four men walked out of the house, they were shot down by a barrage of rifle and machine gun fire, apparently directed from the courthouse across the street.

Authorities attribute the slaying to a feud said to have been started before the Civil war.

The outbreak climaxed a series of recent killings in which several have been attributed to the feud.

Underlying cause of the feud never has been determined, but it is known here as the Baker-Howard-White-Bailey-Phillip feud.

BRIGHTER FUTURE FOR FARMER IS VISIONED

Grain Dealers Meet in Annual Parley at French Lick.

By United Press

FRENCH LICK, Ind., Sept. 19.—A brighter future for agriculture was seen at the National Grain Dealers Association convention here today, despite "three years of farm board wreckage."

Both Peter B. Carey, president of the Chicago Board of Trade, and Hugh A. Butler, president of the association, envisioned improved outlooks, but both assailed the farm board and cautioned taxpayers against "equally vicious schemes."

"There still are obstacles to clear up after three years of farm board wreckage," Carey said. "Markets must be unchained, farmers' grain placed into consumptive channels, foreign markets won back and agriculture prosperity restored. If we are to have a farm board of its prototype, we will in time have a farm peasantry, politically controlled."

Chairman John C. Stone of the farm board was characterized by Carey as a "trouble maker."

"Any fair-minded taxpayer would feel that Stone should be removed from office and publicly reprimanded for his misconduct as an agitator and as an exploiter of agriculture," Carey said.

CITY'S JOBLESS COUNCIL SEEKS AID FOR POOR

Clothes, Furniture Fuel and Food Needed, Officials Say in Appeal.

Approach of winter and increased demand on supplies of the Unemployed Council No. 12, 1247 1/2 Oliver avenue, today brought an appeal from officials of the organization for contributions for poor relief.

"Emergency cases have taxed the resources of the council to the limit," the appeal states.

Not only food, but also clothing, furniture and fuel are provided by the council to needy families, many of whom have no other sources of help, the appeal states.

Comforts, quilts and other bed clothing now are being made by women associated with the organization from scraps and remnants donated by contributors.

"Last week our investigators found a family with six children in a starving condition," officials said. "The furniture of the home consisted of two chairs, a table and a small stove. The entire family slept on the bare floor."

Articles which may be used in the home in addition to food and clothing, are needed.

Gasoline to be used in trucks of the council in gathering donations also is requested.

Donations may be sent to headquarters of the council at the Oliver avenue address or by reporting donations to Belmont 0545.

GOLF PRO HELD TO JURORS IN SHOOTING CASE

Garringer Bound Over After Waiving Examination by Judge.

After waiving examination before Municipal Judge William H. Sheaffer, Charles (Chuck) Garringer, professional at the Speedway golf course, today faces grand jury action on a charge of shooting with intent to kill, in connection with the wounding of 16-year-old Edward Olinisky, 735 Concord street, as climax of a "caddy war" at the course.

No bond was fixed by Sheaffer, who released Garringer on his own recognizance.

Olinisky was shot Aug. 16 after Garringer carried out threats to "sting" members of a gang of boys who had been stealing golf balls from players.

The boy was taken to city hospital suffering from numerous pellet wounds in his back, arms and legs.

"I warned them, ordered them off the course, and finally used the shotgun," Garringer told police who investigated the shooting.

Numerous reports had been made to the sheriff's office regarding the activities of the boys, Garringer said. The boys congregated at the sixteenth and seventeenth holes, where the course crosses a creek, and would seize golf balls after they had been driven from tees.

The shooting of the Olinisky boy was not the first time Garringer had fired at boys on the course, police said Garringer told them, although other shots had been directed into the air.

The entire town of Burnhaven, Scotland, with thirty-three buildings and the land on which it stands, is for sale for only $3,000.

Too Much Jail

Because his defense attorney is in jail and can not get out before Sept. 26, and "may be not then," Lawrence Johnson, Terre Haute, convicted of wife murder, wants a stay of execution of his death sentence from Dec. 16, until July 1, 1933.

In a letter to supreme court today Johnson's attorney, Noval K. Harris, said he is serving a year and a day sentence in the penitentiary at Chillicothe, O., for forgery. He will be eligible for parole Sept. 26, but may not get it.

Harris asks the high court to grant the stay so he can perfect the murder appeal for Johnson, who was found guilty of killing his wife with an ax.

FARMERS ARE CALLED READY FOR REVOLT

"They'll Have Relief by Ballots or Violence," Is Warning.

By United Press

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—"Farmers are going to have relief either by ballots or by violence," Howard Y. Williams, national director of the League for Independent Political Action, declared after a two months survey of the middle west.

"Governor Roosevelt is playing with dynamite if he does not have definite legislation in mind to fulfill the vague promises he made to agriculture in his Topeka address," Williams said.

"Many farmers are rebellious. They are ready for social revolt as the methods used in the farmers' strike indicate. These farmers have their back to the wall."

They are considering, it was learned, presenting their case to congress as soon as it meets in December, which is more than a month before the present reduction expires.

RAIL WORKERS FIGHT PAY CUT

Meet Tuesday to Stave Off Another 10 Per Cent.

By Scripps-Howard Newspaper Alliance

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—Their "jaws set against any further pay cuts," the Railway Labor Executives Association, representing more than a million men in the twenty-one standard brotherhoods, will meet here Tuesday to make more definite plans to combat the new proposal of management for a 20 per cent reduction in wages.

At the same meeting, according to unofficial announcements, representatives of the railway management are expected to request the start of informal wage negotiations.

The managers, as well as the labor chiefs, today are here for the resumption of the interstate commerce commission's six-hour day investigation.

The labor officials met here quietly last week, discussed their program for institution by congress of the six-hour day, and had a further discussion of the wage cut proposal.

They made no formal announcements, but have been advised to use every available means to combat the new reductions, which is 10 per cent deeper than the one now in effect.

They are considering, it was learned, presenting their case to congress as soon as it meets in December, which is more than a month before the present reduction expires.
