

EDICT OF KING TEARS MICHAEL FROM MOTHER

10-Year-Old Prince Never
May See Helene Again:
On Way Home.

By United Press
LONDON, Oct. 5.—Ten-year-old Crown Prince Michael of Rumania started home today without knowing if he ever would see his mother again, and without knowing why his father, King Carol, ordered his immediate return to Bucharest.

It was understood that Carol would not allow the 10-year-old boy to return to England, because Michael first learned of his father's love affairs through reading an English language newspaper in Paris. At Dover, Michael boarded the cross-channel steamer for Calais. His mother accompanied him and bid a tearful farewell.

Princess Helene, dressed in black, was accompanied by her sister, Princess Irene. They left the channel steamer, Isle of Thanet, five minutes before sailing.

Helene dabbed at her eyes with a handkerchief. Michael, who was wearing a brown suit with long trousers, peered longingly through the porthole.

WET TREND INDICATED
BY DRY LAME DUCKS

54 of 75 Retiring Members of Congress Have Records for Prohibition.
By Scripps-Howard Newspaper Alliance
WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—Another indication of anti-prohibition strength expected to be manifest in the November elections was given today in a survey of the retiring, and already defeated members of congress, showing that of seventy-five of these "lame ducks," fifty-four have definite dry records.

Most of these lame ducks, who will sit for the last three months of their term in the short session starting in December, were defeated in primaries and conventions. A few retired.

In some cases dry members were succeeded by dry nominees, in some by wets, but in many states such as Kentucky, Maine and Indiana, a trend against prohibition was plain.

The general election is expected to double the number of lame ducks who will sit in the last lame duck session.

Young City Man Bound to U. S. Jury; Home Brew Seized.

Edgar Wheeler, 19, of 3303 North Arlington avenue, was held to the federal grand jury under $1,000 bond by Howard S. Young, United States commissioner, on liquor charges, following a raid Tuesday by dry agents, who said they confiscated more than 100 quarts of home brew.

William McGuire, 60, of 840 Woodlawn avenue, arrested on a charge of transporting four gallons of alcohol, was held to the grand jury under $1,500 bond.

Expect Record Crowd to Hear Socialist Nominee

Maurer, Choice of Party for Vice-President, Will Talk at Tabernacle.

A record crowd is expected at Cadle tabernacle Friday night when James H. Maurer, Socialist candidate for vice-president, on a nation-wide tour in the interest of the Socialist party and Norman Thomas, candidate for President, will speak.

A native of Reading, Pa., Maurer retired from public life in 1928 after rising from a newsboy at the age of 6 to president of the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor, a post he relinquished in 1928 following election to the Reading city council.

He has been prominent in work of the Socialist party for thirty-five years and had run on the party's ticket almost every election year.

He has served in the Pennsylvania house of representatives for three terms as a leader of labor forces, and is credited with passage of the Pennsylvania workmen's compensation law.

In 1917 he was a member of a state committee to study methods of aiding the aged and during the incumency exposed evils of the poor house which resulted in passage of the state's old age pension act in 1923.

He also actively sponsored moves for mothers' pensions, and pensions for the blind.

He has been a student of labor conditions throughout the world, and in 1920 served as a member of the American commission on conditions in Ireland.

In 1927, he was chairman of an unofficial fact-finding labor delegation that visited Russia.

He has lectured in almost every state in the Union, and many foreign countries, and is a frequent contributor to national magazines.

COPS SCANDAL HEARING ENDS AT EVANSVILLE

Mayor Awaits Defense of Suspended Chief and Ex-
Safety President.

By United Press
EVANSVILLE, Ind., Oct. 5.—Mayor Frank W. Griese and city attorney Val Nolan were awaiting written answers today from Emmett Bell, suspended police chief, and Edward Diekmann, former safety board president, before compiling a final report on the public airing of alleged police department scandals during a two-day hearing which ended Tuesday night.

A fight nearly developed during the last hour of the proceedings between Ray St. Clair, head of the police liquor squad, and Richard Whitty, city fire department inspector and father-in-law of Bell.

St. Clair started toward Whitty, who was in the witness chair, after the latter called him a "liar." Police restrained them.

St. Clair previously had startled the court by testifying that Bell had ordered him not to serve warrants for liquor raids, and then had offered him a captaincy in the department to shift the blame on Diekmann.

Harold Jenkins, federal prohibition agent, was one of the final witnesses to be called.

He confirmed a report that department of justice operatives have been in Evansville for some time making a thorough investigation of the police department.

DEFENDS BYRD'S DISABILITY PAY

Legion Commander Hit for Attacking Admiral.

"Retirement pay and disability allowance, such as are received from the government by Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd, are an established policy of the nation, and never have been criticised as extravagant by the American Legion or by any other organization," declared Kenneth L. Ogle, temporary chairman for Indiana of the National Economy League, today in replying to charges made Sunday by a former commander of the department of Indiana, American Legion.

Clarence A. Jackson of Newcastle, former state commander, speaking at the installation of state officers Sunday at legion headquarters, pointed out that while Byrd, head of the economy body, campaigns for reduction in benefits to former soldiers, he is paid by the government for retirement and disability. "Byrd gets disability allowance," Jackson said, "but he was able to fly to both the poles and to Europe." Jackson also charged that several leaders in the league receive from $5,000 to $21,500 a year from the government at Washington.

Ogle, in his reply, stated that "the pay referred to is a part compensation for the definite sacrifices of all opportunities of commercial gain by men in the regular army and navy."

"The National Economy League advocates retention of this pay. It provides a high type of personnel in peace time."

Admiral Byrd will come to Indianapolis next Wednesday to organize the league in Indiana and to give an address on the league's activities.
