

RECORD CROWD FORECAST FOR OLD GOLD DAY

Alumni Will Join De Pauw
Students in Celebration
Oct. 22.

GREENCASTLE, Ind., Oct. 14.—Plans for Old Gold day, De Pauw university's annual home-coming celebration, which will be observed Saturday, Oct. 22, rapidly are taking form. Alumni are indicating unusual interest in the celebration this year and a record attendance is expected.

The student body at De Pauw will begin its observance of the holiday on Thursday. A pep-chapel is planned for that day and tryouts for year well leaders will be held. On Friday the initial performance of the Old Gold day play, "The Mischief Lady," will be given in the Little theater. The traditional bonfire and student mass meeting will be held on McKean field at 8 o'clock. Pep talks will be given by representative men from the faculty and coaching staff.

Early Saturday morning the Old Gold day extra, edited by the De Pauw chapter of Theta Sigma Phi, will go on sale. The Old Gold day chapel will be held in Meharry hall this year instead of in Bowman gymnasium and the speaker will be Dr. Thomas Nadal, a graduate of De Pauw with the class of 1898, and now president of Drury college, Springfield, Mo. Chapel is at 9:30 a. m. this year instead of 10.

Scrap to Be Staged
Following the chapel, the annual freshman-sophomore class scrap will be staged on McKean field. Kappa Tau Kappa, interfraternity council, is in charge and is planning for new features. An effort is being made to secure a big pushball, such as the army uses for mass athletics. The old "flag rush" was abandoned several weeks ago, as being dangerous.

In the afternoon the De Pauw university football team will play Ohio Wesleyan on Blackstock field. This is probably the strongest team on De Pauw's schedule. It is Don Wheaton's last home-coming game, and a record crowd is anticipated. In the evening the final performance of the Old Gold day play will be staged.

Dr. Charles A. Beard, a classmate of Dr. Nadal, the chapel speaker, will be on the campus for home-coming. Dr. Beard is recognized as one of the greatest historians of our day. He is a native of Indiana, born at Knightstown. He is on the program for the state teachers' meeting in Indianapolis. A dinner is to be given Dr. Beard here Saturday night.

Luncheon Is Scheduled
To interest De Pauw alumni who will be attending the state teachers' meeting, a De Pauw luncheon is to be given in the Claypool hotel Friday noon. President Oxman and Dr. Henry B. Longden, vice-president of De Pauw, are to be on the program. About 200 are expected at the luncheon, which is an annual affair.

The home-coming celebration will close Sunday with the regular university vesper services, at which President Oxman will deliver the third of his series on "Personalities of Power." He will discuss Sun Yat Sen, the man who is credited with having laid the foundation for the new China.

Pursuing its program of economy for the year, De Pauw's student affairs committee has voted to abandon presentation of a silver loving cup for the best decorated fraternity and sorority house.

In the past, this competition has resulted in many original and beautifully decorated houses on the campus. This year decoration is optional.

She's Speeder

Although Miss Ruth Deroy, above, is only 16, she won the championship in the amateur Class A for outboard speedboats in her first "big time" regatta. Ruth weighs only 90 pounds, but she handled her motor and boat like a veteran when she flashed ahead at the finish of the Bay City, Mich., races.

TRAIN FOILS HOLDUP

Bandits Hop Freight, Victim's Hands Still in Air.

Timely intrusion of a freight train Thursday night frustrated attempt of two bandits to rob Hugh Singer, 60, of 337 North Holmes avenue, crossing watchman at Tibbs avenue and the Big Four track, police were informed today.

Singer reported that he was accosted by the thugs near the crossing shanty. Both drew revolvers and demanded money, he said.

At that point a freight train rounded a turn nearby.

The bandits hopped the freight as it passed, leaving Singer with his hands above his head.

HOOVER TRIES TO FILL EMPTY G. O. P. COFFER

Actively Interests Self in Replenishing of Till for Campaign Expense.

By Scripps-Howard Newspaper Alliance
WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Hoover actively has interested himself in the problem of raising campaign funds for an almost empty party treasury.

The White House has enlisted as a result of appeals from Chicago headquarters and various state organizations which, according to reports, have so little money that they can not finance speakers' trips to distant points.

Many of the cabinet members and government officials now on the stump are understood to be paying their own expenses, but the less wealthy public servants, now being drafted, can not dig down into their own pockets.

Finances Are Low

A recent visitor to the White House was importuned directly by the President, although he understood he had been summoned to the capital to discuss various welfare problems in which he had been interested.

The visitor came from Pennsylvania, and closely is associated with coal-mining interests in that state, West Virginia and Illinois. Various groups which furnished large contributions in 1928 have declined to give anything this year, partly because their own finances are in a low state, and partly because they are opposed to Hoover's re-election.

Democrats Funds Better

Three elements which are estimated to have given several million dollars four years ago have not raised $100,000 this year.

They are automobile manufacturers, the grain trade's leaders in Minneapolis and Kansas City, and the brokers, whose losses have piled up since Hoover entered the White House.

Although the Democrats also are pleading poverty, they seem better equipped on the score of funds than the Republicans.

'RADIO TRUST' SUIT MAY NOT COME TO TRIAL

Plans Virtually Complete for Ending Patent Pacts, Causing Action.

By Scripps-Howard Newspaper Alliance
WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—Although the government's anti-trust suit against Radio Corporation of America and other companies again is set for trial Nov. 15, arrangements may be made this month for terminating it by a consent decree.

Plans virtually are complete, it was learned today, to end the patent agreements which caused the government to charge combination in restraint of trade so far as they affect General Motors Radio Corporation, United Fruit Company and American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

This leaves as defendants only General Electric and its subsidiary R. C. A., and Westinghouse Electric with its subsidiaries. Attempts are being made now to work out a new agreement between them, which the government will approve.

Since the suit was filed in 1930, General Motors Radio Corporation has been dissolved, and General Motors Corporation has resumed control over its own patents, once held in the radio group.

General Electric has regained patent rights once held by United Fruit.

Although the terms of the settlement with the telephone company have not been made public, it is understood is has entered into a new contract with Radio Corporation of America for non-exclusive rather than exclusive patent licensing upon terms which are satisfactory to the government.

If this is the case it will be eliminated from the suit.

If a similar arrangement finally is made between Westinghouse and General Electric, the purposes of the government's suit to a large extent will have been accomplished.

Non-exclusive contracts would open the way for use of valuable radio patents by the owner, and by as many licensees as wish to purchase the right to use them.

If a consent decree is demanded by the department of justice, an attempt may be made otherwise to safeguard the right to purchase licenses upon reasonable terms, and violation of the decree would leave the way open for quick retaliatory action by the department.

The radio suit was begun in May, 1930, when the government filed charges in the Delaware federal court against the large companies of the radio industry.

Last March, after negotiations for formation of an open patent pool had failed, a new and extended complaint was filed.
