

'BIGOTRY, DECEIT STILL RULE G. O. P.,' ROARS AL SMITH; BRANDS HOOVER DRY LEADER

'Happy Warrior,' in Fighting Mood, Parades Through 8-Mile Lane of Fire and Lights in Old-Fashioned Political Rally.

EXCITEMENT IS FATAL TO ONE

Mabel Walker Willebrandt Incident Cited in Detail for Newark Throng as Former Governor Assails Republicans.

By United Press

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 25.—Alfred E. Smith bases his fight to win the Catholic-wet-industrial east to the Roosevelt cause on his own 1928 charges that the Republican party still is "the party of bigotry, deceit, and hypocrisy" with Herbert Hoover "a leader of the drys."

The former Governor paraded through an eight-mile lane of red fire and green lights in an old-fashioned political rally here Monday night to revive the 1928 issues.

He charged, grinning, fighting, sarcastic as he proceeded, that:

Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant attorney-general in 1928, appealed for votes of politically minded Methodists and Ku-Klux Klansmen by direction of the Republican campaign board of strategy.

That Colonel William J. Donovan, Republican candidate for Governor of New York reported making inroads into the Democratic Catholic vote there, "sat with" that board of strategy.

Charges G. O. P. "Paid" Mabel

The Republicans "paid off" Mabel with a $20,000,000 farm board loan to the Fruit Industries, Inc., of California, for whom she also convinced the department of justice to vote there, "sat with" that board of strategy.

That the Republican prohibition plank meant no tax was to be bound by any party platform declaration on the subject if it conflicted with his private views.

And he saved any mention of Franklin D. Roosevelt, the man who defeated him for the presidential nomination at Chicago, for the very last of his address when he declared "the best way to bring back prosperity is by the election of Roosevelt and Garner, and the entire Democratic ticket."

Fighting Mood

It was "Al," the "happy warrior," in a fighting mood, who addressed a wildly cheering audience of 15,000 with 35,000 more listening to amplifiers outside the One hundred thousand infantry armory.

The crowd cheered hysterically as Smith stood on the center of the platform, waving aloft his famous "I'm dry" derby. The hall was jammed. Seven persons had been injured in the crush. William Spray had a heart attack as he was in the ovation.

Meeting finally ceased, then spray spatters were cut short by "We want 'Al'." Boos from President Hoover followed. Finally, Smith strode to the front of the rostrum only to release a new burst of chin.

Touches Off Demonstrations

Then he launched into an attack on the Republican party for its prosperity slogans of 1928, the "chicken in every pot," silk stockings, two automobiles for workers and abolition of poverty.

"That was four years ago, and we are forty years wiser," he said.

"And," continued Smith, "the last straw, the very last straw that broke the camel's back, was when the candidate for President claimed for the Republican party credit for the increased number of children in public schools. I could not let him get away with that. Down in Baltimore I said, 'Wait a minute, now. Go easy on that. The Democrats are pretty good themselves.'

Then as the cheering ceased, he observed:

"Incidentally, I reminded him that I made my full contribution." That touched off another demonstration.

Plays G. O. P. Bosses

Smith worked rapidly toward the prohibition issue.

"I desire to have a little to say about the career of Mabel Walker Willebrandt," he said. "Do you remember the time that she appeared before a Methodist conference in Ohio and urged the Methodist ministers to go out and preach to their people to bring about my defeat? That was on the theory that I had spoken against the eighteenth amendment.

"We know why it was."

"Well, what happened? When the campaign was all over, Mabel was being put on the shelf. So she wrote a little book and here is what she said in the book, speaking about the speech:

"I made it at the request of the Republican national committee, and not as a free lance. In fact, I wired the committee asking twice to be excused from making the speech. But I was urged by the Republican national committee in two telegrams which I still have in my files."

Conscience Hurt Her

"So the real fact is, that she did not sit so well on Mabel's conscience."

"She beat it for herself while the going was good and she got herself a cute little position as chief counsel of the Fruit Industries, Inc., of California."

"Now this group of fruit growers dug up a great engineer some place who was able to devise a brick of concentrated grapes, so after it received a certain amount of treatment it just poured out effervescent like the old-time vintage that had the 100 per cent kick."

Compares Liquor Planks

Smith then took up Mrs. Willebrandt's action in getting a $20,000,000 loan from the farm board for the fruit growers. "She did something else for them, too. She convinced the department of justice that this 12 per cent wine was not intoxicating. That is some stunt."

"So when all is said and done, Mabel collected a beautiful big fee

WIDOW OF SLAIN LOCAL BUSINESS MAN COLLAPSES

Mrs. Cummins Is in Care of Doctor, Court Told; Hearing Delayed.

Mrs. Ethel Cummins, 44, of 4166 Washington boulevard, whose husband, Lawrence G. Cummins, was wounded fatally Saturday night in a struggle with her for possession of a revolver, today was declared to be in a state of collapse.

She is scheduled for a hearing next Monday on a vagrancy charge before Municipal Judge William H. Shaeffer. Mrs. Cummins had intended to kill herself with the gun, she asserted.

The case was called Monday, but a continuance granted for a week when the court was informed that Mrs. Cummins was under the care of a physician.

Cummins died Sunday night at St. Vincent's hospital of a wound in the abdomen. He and his wife quarreled after he refused to permit her to accompany him on a trip to Martinsville. He absolved his wife of blame in a deathbed statement, according to Dr. W. E. Aruckle, coroner.

It is understood the vagrancy charge will be dismissed. Mrs. Cummins is at liberty under $5,000 bond.

Funeral services for Cummins will be held at 8 Wednesday morning at the home and at 8:30 at St. Joan of Arc church. Pallbearers will be Louis Schwitzer, partner of the dead man in the Schwitzer-Cummins Company; Thomas M. Quinn, Walter Shiel, Carl Winkler, Raymond C. Fox and Harry Bennett. Burial will be in Holy Cross cemetery.

WALES TO GET ARMED GUARD

Ireland Will Give Prince Utmost Protection.

By United Press

LONDON, Oct. 25.—The prince of Wales will be given the largest armed bodyguard he ever has had when he visits Belfast next month, when he visits Belfast next month, the Daily Herald said today.

According to the Herald's Belfast correspondent, Belfast authorities ordered all police leaves canceled during the prince's visit.

They are arranging the utmost precautions to insure the prince's safety when he opens the new northern Ireland Parliament building.

The Sinn Fein standing committee at Dublin already has protested the prince's visit as the latest "English act of defiance of the rights and liberties of the Irish people in a further attempt to stabilize the partition of Ireland."

Unlike the native forces of England or the dominions, Ulster police carry revolvers as part of their regular equipment.

Meetings will be held each Monday night until the course closes. A similar course will be given after Christmas.

STATION WKBF SALE DENIED BY MANAGER

Negotiations, However, Now Being

Carried on by Chicago Group.

Rumors that radio station WKBF had been sold to an unnamed Chicago buyer were denied today by Jim Carpenter, manager.

At a meeting of Curtis Radio-Casting, Inc., in Evansville Monday the directors voted to permit an option being given on the station with indications of a probable sale in the future.

Negotiations now are being carried on with a Chicago group, said to be close to NBC affairs, which in event of a sale, probably will mean an Indianapolis outlet for NBC network programs. Henry B. Walker, acting vice-president of Curtis Radio-Casting, is handling arrangements for WKBF, member of the Curtis chain.

At Central avenue and Sixty-fourth street the driver halted the bus. The "bandit" car did likewise. Then the four youths left their car and began creeping stealthily toward the bus. Thompson leaped into the street, brandishing a revolver.

When the youths failed to halt, Thompson fired. The youths halted and obeyed a command to return to the bus.

When questioned, they said they intended to attack an empty oil drum to the rear of the bus. Thompson released them.

RUTH BRYAN OWEN AND DOLLY GANN IN CITY

Two Rival Political Stars Speak to Indianapolis Women.

Rival attractions were to vie for the spotlight in women's politics today, with Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, daughter of William Jennings Bryan, and Mrs. Dolly Gann, sister of Vice-President Charles Curtis, speaking in Indianapolis this afternoon.

Mrs. Owen was to address a meeting of the Warren Township Women's Democratic Club at the home of Mrs. Grace J. Clark, 115 South Audubon road.

Amplifiers have been installed to take care of an overflow crowd on the grounds.

Mrs. Owen is the guest of Mrs. Samuel Ralston while in Indianapolis and will leave later this afternoon for Bloomington, for an address tonight.

Mrs. Gann was to address a general meeting of Republican women at 2:30 in the Claypool Riley room, and is scheduled for addresses at Gary, South Bend, Terre Haute and Ft. Wayne while in Indiana.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for Calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 20 years, and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, just a healing, soothing vegetable laxative safe and pleasant.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They help cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth" —bad breath—a dull, tired feeling-sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you should find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets.

Thousands take them every night to keep right. Try them. 15c, 60c.—Advertisement.

IT PAYS TO WATCH YOUR KIDNEYS

Mr. Edward A. Miller, Credit Manager, Peoples Outfitting Co., Indianapolis, is grateful to the druggist who recommended that he take DIUREX PILLS. Has found in these pills more than he expected.

DIUREX PILLS are a diuretic stimulant for the kidneys. TRY THEM AND PROVE IT TO YOURSELF.

Mr. Miller is a man of his word. DIUREX PILLS are being used locally and among people. The first package is sold under a guarantee.
