

DISTRESS CALL BRINGS HOOVER ON STATE TRIP

Wires to Washington Have Been Kept Hot by Pleas to President.

BY WALKER STONE, Times Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Distress signals sent up by the Republican high command were responsible for President Hoover's sudden decision to swing into Indiana for a speech in Indianapolis Friday night.

Starting about two weeks ago, and continuing until Tuesday, the long-distance wires between Indiana and Washington were kept hot by repeated pleas of Hoover Republicans for a personal appearance in Indiana by the President.

Although Hoover was assured that a speech in Indiana was all that was needed to place the state in the Republican column, party strategists believe chances of carrying Indiana are strongly against him.

Want a Fighting Chance

So far as Indiana is concerned, the only thing that they believe the Hoover trip may accomplish is to inject new life into the Republican campaign. For several weeks Washington has been hearing of the lackadaisical and defeatist attitude of Indiana Republicans.

It is hoped here that the Hoover visit will prove to be the hypodermic necessary to make the Republicans of Indiana go to work again, and at least give Hoover a fighting chance to capture the state's fourteen electoral votes.

Chief among the long-distance alarm sounders have been Senator James E. Watson and Ivan C. Morgan, G. O. P. state committeeman, speaking directly with the White House.

Watson's Aids Insist

And also plugging in through the medium is former Postmaster-General Harry New. The Indians in Indiana have been told that if he lost Indiana by failure to deliver a major speech in the state, it would be his fault.

Watson's friends here, likewise, have been insisting on the Indiana visit. They have heard that the many Republican workers in the state actually are "winning" the senator. They want Hoover to sound the battle cry for party solidarity, and personally appeal to Indiana voters to return Watson to the senate.

This is an unusual situation in view of the feeling a few months ago that Hoover would prove a liability to Watson, and Watson's assurance to friends that he didn't intend "to carry Hoover on my back."

Rushville Is Stop

By scheduling Rushville for a five-minute stop Friday afternoon, Hoover indicated that he intended to say a good word for Watson. If he does so, he will break a precedent of his for this campaign.

When he spoke in Des Moines, President Hoover did not mention the name of Henry Field, Iowa Republican nominee for the senate.

When he spoke in Cleveland, he made a passing reference to the "high standard" of the Republican state ticket in Ohio, but did not mention the candidates' names.

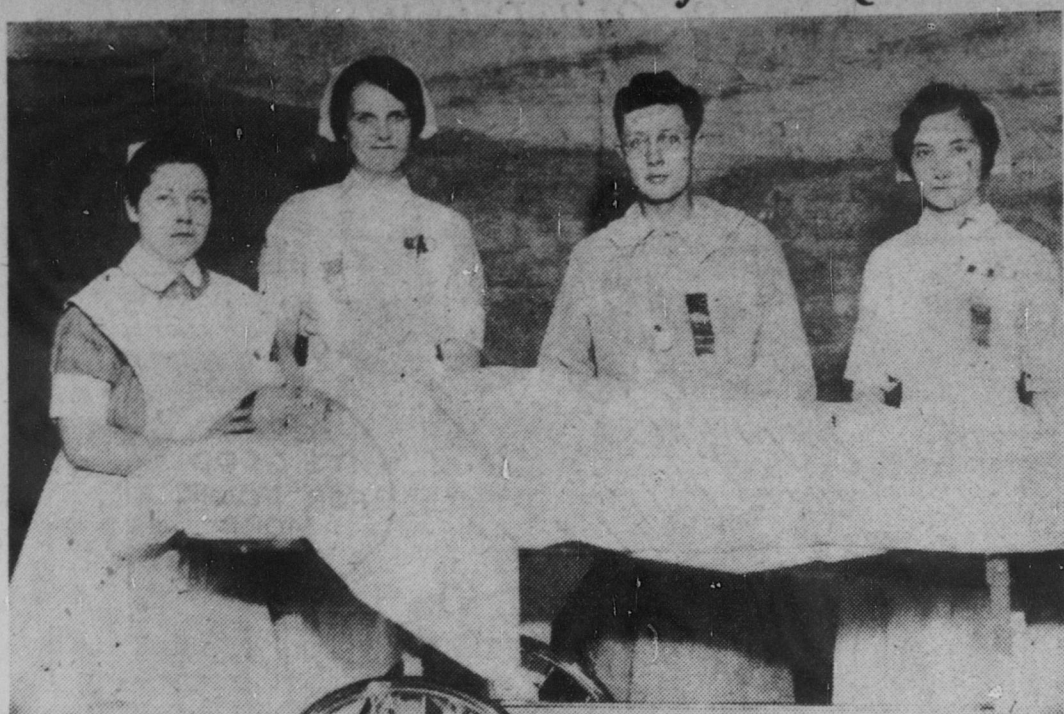

Tariff to be Topic

Hoover, it is known, has no personal affection for Watson. He is said to believe that Watson will lead the ticket, and a Watson defeat also would mean Hoover defeat in Indiana.

Just as Watson has been stressing the tariff, it is believed that the Hoover speech in Indianapolis will center on the tariff.

By conferring with John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers Tuesday, Hoover gave rise to belief that he also would discuss the coal mining situation.

Medical Attention Fit for a Queen

LOVE WEATHERS MANY STORMS

Young Father Saved From Prison by Judge.

Love can weather a lot of storms, including even hardships of jail. Russell Miller, 24, of 609 East Tenth street, asserted Wednesday as he pleaded guilty to wife and child desertion in criminal court.

"I still love my wife and child, although she had me imprisoned, because I could not support her as she desired," Miller told Thomas E. Garvin, judge pro tem.

"The thought I ought to make $50 a week and left me. I would take her back right now, if she would come."

Although he was forced to sentence Miller to the state reformatory for one to three years on his plea of guilty, Garvin suspended the sentence, and a $1 fine.

Miller was ordered to pay $2.50 a week for support of his wife, Florence, of 1621 North New Jersey street, and his daughter Marilyn, 3. Miller wept when he promised to "pay as much as possible for their support," declaring:

"I would like to be a father to my daughter, but I guess it can't be that way. My wife's parents won't have anything to do with me."

$200,000 LOSS IN FIRE

Mr. Vernon Corn Products Plant Swept by Blaze.

By United Press
MT. VERNON, Ind., Oct. 27.—Fire that broke out in a conveyor swept the Mt. Vernon Milling Company here today, causing damage estimated at $200,000. The milling company, manufacturers of corn products, was leveled.

At the height of the spectacular fire, an oil tank exploded, shattering windows within a radius of nearly a block.

PROTESTS LIFT RED CROSS BAN ON STRIKER AID

Relieve Needy Regardless of Distress Cause, Say New Orders.

By Scripps-Howard Newspaper Alliance

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Protests from Oklahoma that destitute striking miners have been denied Red Cross food and clothing made from government wheat and cotton have brought orders from Washington headquarters to relieve the needy, regardless of the cause of their distress.

The protest was conveyed to Robert E. Bondy, director of disaster relief, through the office of Senator Elmer Thomas.

Assurance has been given that the material will be distributed to the strikers and their families. Allegations were made to Thomas that after union workers at Pittsburg, Okla., furnished trucks, gas and men, to transport thirty-five sacks of flour from McAlester to Pittsburg, they were prevented from receiving the relief by T. H. Jarvis, Red Cross distributor for the district and secretary of the Coal Operators' Association of Pittsburg.

Thomas was wired by George L. Hill, an attorney, who claimed the miners and their dependents were being discriminated against because of the labor troubles, which had resulted in their unemployment.

The policy announced by the Red Cross officials here is that relief is to be administered on the basis of need, irrespective of cause and instructions have been issued through the St. Louis regional headquarters to see that the unemployed strikers share in the federal aid.

WABASH, Ind., Oct. 27.—As a reward for having abstained from nicotine and alcohol, Myron Templin, Somerset, who became 21 today, received $10,000 left in trust by his father 14 years ago.

Under provisions of a will left by the elder Templin when he died in 1918, the son was bequeathed the money in government bonds if he avoided tobacco and alcoholic beverages.

BANDITS TAKE $215 IN CASH

Hold Up Three Persons in East Side Store.

Holding three persons at bay with revolvers in the Armet pharmacy, 2801 East Tenth street, two bandits Wednesday night obtained $215 in cash, a watch and two Masonic lodge pins.

One of the robbers remained near the front of the store, while his companion, after forcing the three to the rear, obtained the loot. Of the loot, $200 was receipts of the store, according to Leroy Brown, 30, of 5826 East Washington street, a clerk.

From Brown, the robbers took $14 and a gold wrist watch. Frank Pitts, 33, of 908 North Rural street, a patron of the store, was robbed of $1. The Masonic pins, both of gold, and one set with a small diamond, were taken from the store safe.

SOCIAL HEALTH IS THREATENED BY DEPRESSION

How Nation's Moral Life Is Menaced Is Told to Hygiene Group.

By Science Service

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Six ways in which the economic depression and widespread unemployment threatens the social health of the people have been listed by the American Social Hygiene Association, which opens a conference here today.

The unrest and uncertainty of the present times threatens the stability of ordinarily normal persons, making character-building and character education more than ever important.

Family relationships are endangered because many heads of families must leave home to get work, many children are left without a mother's guidance when the women go out to work.

Disease and vice thrive when persons are massed in employment camps and other concentration areas without adequate supervision.

Many persons infected with venereal disease are no longer able to pay physicians or "pay clinics" for their necessary treatments, while the free clinics are so crowded that many patients turn away in discouragement. Without medical supervisions, these men and women constitute a grave menace to the public health. Pressure of unemployment is forcing many girls into prostitution. When the easily influenced young boy or girl is without the safeguard of work, as at present, delinquency is greater.

Dividends Paid Depositors

By United Press
BLUFFTON, Ind., Oct. 27.—An additional 5 per cent dividend has been paid by the Union Savings and Trust Company here, bringing to 70 per cent the total distribution to depositors. Total payments now amount to $11,000.

Digestion out of order?

EAT YEAST advises the famous DR. JANUSCHKE of Vienna

YOU know the symptoms. "Sourness." Gas. That "bad taste" in the morning. You know these are signs of a digestion that's out of order. And you know it's not just the food you eat that is wrong.

To get rid of indigestion, you must get rid of its cause. And in most cases this is simply... failure of the body to eliminate its waste!

To find out what doctors recommend in such cases we went to the celebrated Dr. Hans Januschke, of Vienna, author of "The Treatment of Constipation." He said:—

"Cathartics and laxative drugs... are not successful in correcting constipation—they almost always disturb the whole digestive process."

What Dr. Januschke says

"Eating fresh yeast," he explained, "corrects constipation in a natural way by... softening the food residues and strengthening the intestinal muscles."

"For stubborn digestive troubles," he added, "fresh yeast is my first thought."

If you want a better digestion—a trouble-free system—health and energy to spare—take the advice of noted medical experts. Eat three cakes of Fleischmann's fresh Yeast every day!

Eat it just plain, or dissolved in a third of a glass of water—before meals, or between meals and when you go to bed.

Then note, after a few weeks, how much better you feel.

Your tongue should be cleaner, your breath sweeter, your complexion clearer. You should tire less quickly... have fewer colds and headaches than before.

And remember—Fleischmann's Yeast is the richest known food in three vitamins essential to good digestion—vitamins B, G and the "sunshine" vitamin D.

Isn't it worth trying? Why not go to your grocer, or to a soda fountain or restaurant and get a supply of Fleischmann's Yeast today?

DR. HANS JANUSCHKE, of Vienna, Austria, is one of Europe's foremost authorities on stomach disorders. He says: "For stubborn digestive troubles fresh yeast is my first thought." Why not try Fleischmann's Yeast today?

Fleischmann's fresh Yeast is a Remarkable Health Food thousands eat—3 Cakes a Day!
