

COSTIGAN SLAPS PENNY-PINCHING RELIEF STEPS

Opens Hearings on Measure Asking $500,000,000 for Poor Aid.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—Senator Edward P. Costigan (Dem., Colo.) today began the drive for further federal relief activities with a plea for the abandonment of "penny pinching" relief compromises on the part of the nation's industrial and political leaders.

Presiding at a hearing of the senate manufacturers' committee on the $500,000,000 bill sponsored by himself and Senator Robert M. La Follette Jr. (Rep., Wis.), Costigan expressed the hope the hearings would cause congress to enact adequate emergency relief and arouse public opinion to a "more articulate" support.

The legislation would put an end to Reconstruction Finance Corporation distribution of relief money.

Would Create Board Instead it would create a federal emergency board composed of two members from each party appointed by the President, and with the chief of the children's bureau acting as executive officer. The board would receive per diem payments only.

Costigan and La Follette provide that $500,000,000 shall be apportioned to meet relief needs, not as loans but as direct federal aid. They would obtain this money by sale of tax-exempt 4 per cent bonds in small denominations, offered first as a popular loan similar to those of war days.

The first duty of the proposed board would be apportionment of 40 per cent of this money among the states on the basis of population. As fast as states applied for aid, the amount of this allotment would be made available, provided it was not more than two-thirds the amount raised by the state itself through public and private agencies.

Drafts Sales Tax Bill Whenever these amounts of money are not enough to meet relief needs in any state the board is directed to apportion funds from the 60 per cent reserve, provided it is satisfied "that the state or its political subdivisions have made reasonable efforts within their resources to provide for emergency relief expenditures."

A bill designed to "put 2,000,000 men back to work" through public construction financed by a 1 per cent tax on all sales was prepared for introduction in the house today by Representative Kent E. Keller (Dem., Ill.).

Keller's measure also provides for reorganization of federal public works activities, and the issuance of $1,000,000,000 in new currency.

NEW YEAR'S TAKES 200 VIOLENT DEATHS

Half of Fatalities Are Due to Automobiles.

Violence, accompanying the New Year's holiday celebration took close to 200 lives in the United States, a United Press compilation of fatalities showed today.

Half of the violent deaths over the week-end were attributed to the automobile.

Gunplay, breaking out in scattered instances, took more than a score of lives.

Poison liquor took ten victims. Two died in Pennsylvania of freezing. An explosion took a victim in Texas.

Texas had the heaviest violent death toll with twenty-four. Michigan was second with twenty-one.

Chicago had the most motor fatalities with ten, followed by Texas with eight; Michigan, seven; New York City, seven, and California, seven.

TOWN HAS NO TAXES

Wickenburg, Ariz., Property Is Free of Revenue Levy.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 3.—Wickenburg a town fifty-five miles northwest of Phoenix has at least one Utopian quality.

This is the second year that there has been no property tax levy in Wickenburg.

At the beginning of the present fiscal year the city had $2,329, and according to the budget filed with the state tax commission, the town will reap a revenue of about $23,000 from sources other than property taxes this year.

AUTHOR'S NOTE—These answers are given from the scientific point of view. Not all moral questions can be answered with absolute certainty. But no decision as to what is right or wrong or sound morals is possible without science. Science puts the rights of organized society above the rights of individuals.

1. Yes, because the relationship is a profoundly different one although to forgive does always mean to condone or justify. A fault in a woman's husband affects her whole life much more than one in her father.

And it is much more her duty to counsel with and forgive an erring husband than an erring father. A mother often rightly feels she must forgive an erring husband in the larger interests of the family and community, even though the children would not forgive.

2. Like most proverbs, this one is not always true. Familiarity, which means intimate acquaintanceship, gives us the opportunity to appraise more accurately the qualities of another person. If we form an honest unprejudiced judgment

Dr. Wiggam will be glad to answer questions dealing with problems of conduct, morals, beliefs, husband and wife, parent and child—any question in the field of human relationships. Questions of general interest will be answered in this department. If personal reply is desired enclose stamped, (c) self-addressed envelope. Address Dr. Wiggam in care of The Indianapolis Times.

Midgets and Marvenga Reflect Art and Class

Producer of This Revue Has Glorified More Than Fifty Little Men and Women and Also Three Elephants.

BY WALTER D. HICKMAN

Lyric bill. They are Singer's Midgets in a revue that has as much class as a Ziegfeld revue, and like Marvenga, former prima donna of "The Student Prince," and "Naughty Marietta."

The problem that Miss Marvenga has to face is a much more serious one than the midgets. These little people naturally attract thousands of children to the theater. The appeal of the singing of Miss Marvenga is strictly adult because her songs include such worthwhile numbers as "Two Hearts in Waltz Time," "Deep in My Heart," as well as a number from "Naughty Marietta."

This singer has the grand manner of a prima donna. She knows how to sing, to put over the story and above all she knows how to walk as well as use her hands. And she has selected her program in fine taste and understanding. It would be unfair to this fine artist to not record the fact that she is one of the two contributing factors to the success of this bill.

From the standpoint of individual talent, Singer's Midgets have never been surpassed by any other similar organization. The costumes for these little people in the wedding number, the penguin novelty and the striking hunt scene are as elaborate and as beautiful as one would expect and demand in an important Broadway revue.

One of the big punch acts is when one of the midgets puts three well trained elephants (trained along human lines), through their paces. I really wanted to get up and shout because the act is such fine showmanship.

It is safe to say that Singer's Midgets is one of the biggest and most elaborate acts on the variety stage today. It is a wonderful buy. One thing that I noticed yesterday afternoon when I was present—the large number of mothers and fathers who took all their children with them. That is wonderful.

NEW PLAN FOR HOG BOUNTY BEING DRAFTED

Corn Also Will Be Included Under Scheme Proposed in House.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—A new scheme for paying a bounty to hog-raisers and corn growers is being worked out by leaders in the house agriculture committee in their study of the domestic allotment plan of farm relief.

This development was brought about, it is understood, when committee leaders came to the conclusion that no farm plan could be passed in the house unless hogs and corn were included.

After hearings were concluded just before the Christmas recess, it was indicated that wheat and cotton would be involved in the bounty plan, but since then political considerations have changed the outlook.

Chairman Marvin Jones (Dem., Tex.), of the agriculture committee will not discuss the details of the new plan, except to say that the bounty, or excise tax on processing, will be the difference between current market prices and a fair exchange value computed on the basis of pre-war farm prices.

ODD JOBS PLAN IS ADAPTED BY LEISURE CLUBS

Twenty Clubs Offering Free Weekly Programs, City Survey Shows.

TONIGHT Oak Hill Women's Club, afternoon. Compton's hall, 2901 Winter avenue. Olympic, 2290 East Riverside drive.

JAN. 4 Prospect-Sherman, 3102 Prospect street. Brookside Park community house. Rhodius Park community house. J. T. V. Hill community house.

JAN. 5 Oak Hill Women's Club, afternoon. Compton's hall, 2901 Winter avenue.

Unifacial Gardens community house. Oak Hill, Compton's hall, 2901 Winter avenue. School 16. School 22. School 26. School 34. School 67.

Leisure Hour Clubs are engaging in a program of "barter and exchange" of odd jobs this week.

The women of the Oak Hill Club met at 2:30 this afternoon, brought lists of things which they needed done in their homes. In this way they hope to exchange odd jobs and promote a program of helping each other through the club meetings.

Today's meeting was a sewing session, with members bringing articles of clothing needing mending, and exchanging sewing experience and advice.

Another club taking up the idea of the exchange of odd jobs is the Olympic Club, which meets tonight at East Riverside drive and Pruitt street for the first time. The club will build up an exchange of odd jobs, work out a system of listing work and also the names of persons who can pay for work in food and clothing.

Officers of the new club are: President, Herman Olsen; vice-president, Albert Dowden; secretary, Frank Heuser, and treasurer, Arthur Bratlain.

The executive committee has set its chairman Harold Percival, with Lonnie Heighchew and Frank Heuser as assisting members.

An organization meeting will be held tonight in the club's meeting room of the Olive Branch Christian church for a new club which will hold its first regular meeting next week.

The Prospect-Sherman Drive Club, which meets at 3402 Prospect street, will have its program Wednesday night, instead of tonight, as had been planned previously.

The program will include a solo by Francis Croudis, accompanied by Mrs. Ward Taylor on the piano; piano numbers by Robert Hoffmeyer and Claude Tolliver; a jumping exhibition by Cecil Burn, and a quartet under the direction of Lewellyn Booker.

Following the program and short business meeting the Prospect-Sherman Civic Club will hold its regular business meeting.

A check-up of the results of the Leisure Hour movement to date shows twenty-five clubs offering free weekly programs, with ten more centers in prospect for January.

Two clubs in the city are open for every day use, and six more of this nature are being organized. The weekly attendance at the clubs is about eight thousand, with 2,500 in attendance at neighborhood picture shows, under sponsorship of the movement.

The School 34 club, which was formed last year, reports an attendance of 3,000 people since its beginning. More than 75 per cent of these are adults, according to the club reports.

This organization will hold a spelling bee Friday night, at which time five spellers will be chosen to appear in the final spelling match.

Contract Bridge

RETURNING from the national tournament at New York, we stopped off at Buffalo, N. Y., to arrange for the central New York state tournament, and the following interesting hand came up in a rubber game at the Buffalo Athletic Club.

Major D. J. Cadotte, in the following hand, was dealt four deuces. There is no question that four deuces have a definite value in certain games, but bridge players usually consider them insignificant and detrimental, rather than of value to the hand.

U. S. RESTS IN KOKOMO LEGION LIQUOR TRIAL

Hotel Manager Only One to Face Federal Court Here Today.

With three members of the American Legion sitting as jurors, Ernest Davis, manager of a Kokomo hotel, is on trial today in federal court on charges of conspiracy growing out of alleged liquor law violations during the legion state convention last summer. The government rested its case at noon.

Davis is charged with conspiring with Roy King of Kokomo and John Roach of Delphi, and legion officials to maintain a barroom in one of the rooms during the convention.

Roach pleaded guilty to the charge today, but trial of King was delayed because he suffered injuries in an auto crash recently.

Herman Albrecht of Kokomo, legionnaire in charge of hotel arrangements for the convention, testified King and Roach came to his home prior to the event with information as to where stock for the alleged bar could be obtained.

Albrecht, Rochford D. Robbins, Kokomo legionnaire, and James Fardulo of Indianapolis pleaded guilty to similar charges when arraigned before Judge Robert C. Baltzell recently.

Davis sought to show that Davis actively managed the hotel a week before the convention when the concern was placed in hands of a receiver.

Federal agents raided the place July 30, confiscating 872 pints of beer and fifty-eight pints of whisky. Chemists today testified the beer was 5.3 alcoholic content.

EVANGELIST TO TALK ON RUSSIA

Missionary Work Among Soviets to Be Told at Parley.

The Rev. Peter Deyneka, representative of the Christian Evangelistic churches of White Russia, Poland, will present his work in maintaining missionaries in Soviet Russia tonight, at the meeting of the Interdenominational Evangelistic Association at Cadle tabernacle.

Mr. Deyneka is associated with Paul Rader of Chicago, president of the World-Wide Christian Courier. He will show slides of evangelistic work he has done along the Bolshevik border in Russia, where people walked more than 100 miles to attend.

Deyneka is opposed to recognition of the present Russian government by the United States.

"The United States must not recognize Russia until Russia recognizes God," he says.

Lou Hill, described as a reformed gambler, also will speak at tonight's meeting.

'PULPIT BUNK' FLAILED BY INDIANA MINISTER

Emotional Preaching Needed, Clergymen Told at Retreat Here.

"Pulpit bunk" must be eliminated and there must be a revival of emotional preaching as opposed to the current "poker face" variety, the Rev. A. E. Cory, director of the Disciples of Christ pension fund, declared Monday night at the mid-winter retreat of the Indiana Ministerial Association at the Central Christian church.

"We have preached the present so much it has crumbled about us," now is the time to preach the eternal," Mr. Cory warned.

The session will close tonight with addresses by the Rev. E. R. Moon and the Rev. E. W. Cole.

THEY TELL ME

Old Feud—New Angle

NO matter how you look at it, R. Earl Peters, Democratic state chairman, directed his attack on bureaucracy at Frank May Jr., secretary of state, when he made the Wilson day address at Winchester last week.

It was the multiplicity of departments under May which Peters berated as uneconomical and undemocratic, and in the speech the chairman revealed that he can't forgive the secretary for permitting the patronage of the office to be used in the attempt to defeat him for reelection as party chief last May.

It ranks Earl that the secretary quite evidently has ignored his protests against retention of James Carpenter, superintendent of the automobile license department, and leader in the fight last spring.

Declaring that large economies in governmental expenditures can be achieved by shifting divisions, Peters, they tell me, would have the next legislature abolish the automobile license department with its scores of clerks and distributing agencies and delegate that task to the county assessors.

It is proposed by some that the counties keep the proceeds from sales of tags, which would be placed in a general fund and thus aid in reducing local taxes. This plan would mean reduction in revenue of the state highway department.

The plans also suggest that the state police be taken from May and combined in a separate department with the criminal justice department and the state fire marshal's department. A special board composed of incumbent state officials would administer this new department through a director appointed by them.

To complete emancipation of the secretary of state's department, the securities division, which administers the blue sky law, would become a part of the office of the attorney-general.

This would leave the secretary of state with one division only, the corporations department, which receives and files reports of corporations.

Whether this would be more economical or not, inasmuch as only one department will be abolished under this plan and all will be continued in various guises so that the fixed charges necessarily will exist as always.

If the departments were abolished entirely, then and then only, would come a savings.

There is another side to this picture and a new angle to the feud—and that is political.

Peters, they tell me, is pointing toward the nomination for United States senator in 1934.

Quite obviously, then, he would not like to see so large a lump of patronage in the hands of May and his advisors, whom he regards as open enemies.

With so much patronage they would be able to obtain many delegates pledged against his ambition.

In recent years in the United States, diphtheria has maintained a death rate 70 times as high as smallpox, says Dr. Charles Armstrong of the Public Health Service.

HOOVER LASHES OPPOSITION TO REORGANIZATION

'Keep Hands Off Now, or Give New President More Power,' Plea.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—President Herbert Hoover today denounced rising Democratic opposition to his plans for reorganization of governmental activities, and called on congress to "keep its hands off now" or give to his successor "much larger powers of independent action."

President Hoover made his attack on the Democratic opposition at a noon press conference, held after his return from his Florida fishing trip. It was his first press conference since Sept. 13.

"Either congress must keep its hands off now or they must give to my successor much larger power of independent action than given to any President if there is ever to be reorganization," the President said.

"And that authority to be effective should be free of the limitations in the law passed last year, which gives congress the right to veto."

The President charged that unless the changes he recommended were enforced all efforts at reorganization of the government would "again be merely make-believe."

GLASS REALLY A LIQUID

Doesn't Have Crystals Until It's 100 Years Old, Says Expert.

LEIPZIG, Jan. 3.—Here's a liquid you can dare any one to drink. It was recently established by Dr. Peter de Bye, German physicist, that glass is not a solid, but really liquid. He said: "There are no crystals in glass until it is a hundred years or so old. So you see your glass windows actually are liquids, but of a very high viscosity."
