MUSSOLINI had only to issue

an edict that Rome must pull herself together and show Paris something in the way of smart clothes for all the Roman courtesiers to get busy designing dresses for smart Roman matrons. Americans who visited the liner Rex when she steamed into New York harbor recently had a chance of seeing just how modestly and sedately Il Duce deems a Roman matron should be. For a gown that had passed muster with the dictator were to be seen on board, four of which are sketched above.

At the left is a combination afternoon and dinner costume of black crepe. The jacket has a demure necktie and wide ermine cuffs. The gown beneath is a simple model of crepe.

The formal afternoon ensemble next is of gray velvet trimmed with collar and bands of sable. Strawberry crushed velvet stamped in a gold Renaissance design makes the jacket second from the right which is worn with a dress of heavy crepe of a per-vanche blue shade.

At the right is a hostess gown of black velvet, also stamped in a gold Renaissance pattern—a favorite fabric among Roman dressmakers.

The shoulder seams and sleeve trimmings are outlined with gold braid, entreeux and hundreds of tiny black velvet buttons.

Widow Chosen Sheriff After Day's Campaign

Mrs. Berna Corley

HAMILTON, Mont., Jan. 4.—Out in this rugged section of the western part of Montana—the old west—a woman sheriff holds her office by an unusual last moment election.

She is Mrs. Berna Corley and was elected after only a one-day campaign.

On the Sunday before election her husband, the incumbent sheriff, who sought re-election, died suddenly while attending church service. The Democratic county committee met suddenly. At 2 a. m. the next morning, they named the widow as the candidate.

She campaigned one day, because in Montana it is not possible to campaign on election day.

Despite the late start, she was elected on Tuesday by 100 votes, defeating Jody Stokes, a former sheriff, who three years ago was acquitted of a murder charge after being tried for killing a school teacher while searching for a stolen automobile.

Mrs. Corley, however, already was serving as sheriff, as she had been appointed to fill her husband's unexpired term. But she had no radical changes in the procedure of office.

CHEER CLUB TO CONVEY FRIDAY

WOMAN'S ATHLETIC CLUB PLANS TEA

The Woman's Athletic Club will give a bridge tea at 3 Sunday in its rooms at the Hoosier Athletic Club. Miss Florence Cain, hostess, will be assisted by a large committee.

Misses Frieda Ostermeier and Louise Kerr will pour.

New Members of Last Year to Be Honored

New members of the Indianapolis Woman's Club who have been taken in within the past year will be honor guests at a reception and tea Friday at the Propylaeum. Mrs. James O. Ritchey, chairman of the executive committee, is in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Henry A. O. Speers, president; Mrs. Edward Taggart, vice-president; Mrs. Wendell Sherer, recording secretary; Miss Flora McDonald Ketcham, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Harvey Elam, treasurer, and new members will form the receiving line.

The program scheduled for the afternoon includes "Seeing Is Believing," by Mrs. Josephine Cowgill Jameson and "Verse by Children," by Miss Lucia Ketcham.

Map Year's Plans

Plans for the coming year were formulated at the luncheon and regular monthly business meeting of the Mothers' Club of Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority, held today at the home of Mrs. Elmer Faust, 2131 Park avenue. Mrs. Faust was assisted by Mesdames Joseph Selva, Nettie Turner and Erwin Thompson.

Hostesses to Club

Mrs. Earl C. Herve, assisted by Mrs. J. M. Antrim and Mrs. Charlotte Carter, will be hostess at the 1 o'clock luncheon-bridge of the Avalon Country Club, Thursday, at the clubhouse. Members and guests arriving before 1 will be given a bonus of 250 points.

With Flu Around All Colds Now More Dangerous

Colds Lower Body Resistance and Often Pave the Way For Flu and Its Serious Complications.

EXTRA PRECAUTIONS URGED

With flu increasing in many sections of the country, health authorities urge every one to take extra precautions against colds just now. The safest course to follow is that outlined in Vicks VapoRub Plan for Control of Colds. Briefly, it is this:

To Prevent Many Colds

At that first feeling of stuffiness or nasal irritation, snuffle or sneeze—Nature's usual warning that a cold is coming on—use Vicks VapoRub and Throat Drops, the new aid in preventing colds. Vicks Drops aid Nature in throwing off the infection that threatens. They prevent development of many colds.

To End a Cold Sooner

If a cold has developed, or strikes without warning, vigorous measures are necessary. At bedtime, massage throat and chest well with Vicks VapoRub. It acts two ways at once—to bring relief. By stimulation through the skin, like a poultice or plaster, and by inhalation of its medicated vapors direct to irritated air-passages. During the day—for added comfort and relief—use the convenient Vicks Nose Drops every few hours as needed.

Plan Tested and Proved

In clinical tests among thousands, last winter, Vicks Cold-Control Plan reduced the number and duration of colds by half—cut the costs and dangers of colds more than half. How you can follow the Plan in your home is fully explained in each Vicks package.—Advertisement.

U.S. Women to Observe Thrift Week

Budgeting, Making of Wills to Be Stressed by Federation.

"Budget" and "bequeath" will be the slogans emphasized during Thrift week, Jan. 17-23, by 1,350 business and professional women's clubs throughout the country.

A survey of membership of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, conducted by the national thrift chairman, Mrs. Emile H. Burcham of Spokane, Wash., has revealed that the making of wills and of personal budgets is neglected by most women.

Her investigation shows that while almost 80 per cent of women maintain savings accounts, only 26.2 per cent safeguard disposition of their estates and 13.3 per cent budget their incomes.

Observe Franklin Day

In the program for thrift week the national federation will cooperate with major men's and women's organizations of the country, under the auspices of the national thrift committee. An original phase, however, is observance of Jan. 17, Benjamin Franklin's birthday, as business women's thrift day.

The uniform program is a "thrift dinner," served at depression prices, with addresses by bankers, building and loan executives, and insurance and investment house representatives, on the various methods by which business women can safeguard their incomes and accumulate a surplus. Here will-making and budget-making will be stressed.

During "share with others days," observed Jan. 22, the 60,000 members of the organization will consider particularly the problem of the unemployed white collar woman.

Interesting Data Disclosed

Returns from a thrift survey made during 1932, just tabulated, in which 10 per cent of the membership of the organization participated, disclosed interesting data about the thrift habits of business women. Among thirty-nine states reporting, Maine scores in the matter of individual savings, the highest percentage of its clubs reporting that all members maintain savings accounts.

Indiana carries off high honors in life insurance with a similar record. Arkansas is first in the matter of home ownership and Pennsylvania in investment in securities and also in will-making. Pittsburgh, Williamsport, Scranton, Norwalk, Canton,
