WOMEN TO PROTEST CONTRACT FOR ART

At a board meeting of the Woman's Department Club, Monday morning, it was voted to send letters protesting the awarding of the contract to paint murals in the Indiana building of the World Fair, depicting history of Indiana, to an artist who is not an Indiana man.

These letters will be sent to Paul McNutt, Governor; Harry G. Leslie, former Governor; and Richard Lieber, chairman of the Indiana World Fair commission.

JANE OGBORN TO LEAVE FOR EAST

Miss Jane Ogborn of Bennington, Vt., formerly of this city, who has been visiting her relatives, Mr. and Mrs. George Quirk, 1522 Broadway, will leave this week-end for New York, where she will spend a few days before returning to her home.

Miss Ogborn was honored at a tea, given by Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Lugar, 5618 Washington boulevard, Sunday afternoon.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy cheeks—sparkling eyes—most women can have. Dr. F. M. Edwards for 20 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave his patients a substitute for calomel made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients, naming them Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets. Know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, causing a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisons in one tablet.

If you have a pale face, sickly look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all the ills of a worn-out body, take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—now and then to keep fit. 15c, 30c and 60c. Advertisement.

Lehr Successfully Puts Over New Vaude Policy

First Week of Stock Variety at the Lyric Finds Patrons Favoring This Form of Weekly Stage Entertainment.

BY WALTER D. HICKMAN

THIS can go down as an entertainment fact—Raynor Lehr and the numerous members of his variety stock company have made a most entertaining start at the Lyric this week.

I am going to admit in cold print that the individual talent of Lehr's company is way above what I expected.

The present idea is to permit Lehr weekly put on a new revue or musical comedy as the headline attraction.

In a curtain talk when I was present, Lehr said that all members of his company would be present next week because the "same faces would be present as it was impossible to change the faces." He made a bid for hospitality. In other words, Lehr and his associates have "sold" themselves for their first week under a new policy. It is planned to surround Lehr with three regular RKO acts which will open the show weekly. Lehr has with him a quartet—I do not know the names of a single member of Lehr's unit—and this organization is a winner. People want real vocal harmony these days and these four men know how to hand it out with just the right amount of comedy. They have voices that blend beautifully. And they made the audience when I was present, go wild.

Then there is a young Negro boy who has magnificent dancing feet. He is a wonder. Then there are two comedy musicians—a violinist and an accordion player. These two used on by Lehr tied up the show. Before they close their turn, they have the services of the colored boy.

Even the solo work of the woman soloist is above the average. The work of the chorus is interesting if not startling. They fit very well in the song numbers, especially the ladder of love number.

Lehr gets into high when he dances any style of dance that the audience desires. His blackout sketches are not too suggestive. He has a good idea in how old fashioned boys and girls of other years made love. The 1939 idea didn't appeal to me as quite so hot. Rather so and so.

But the fact is Lehr has an opening revue which has real talent, scene, melody and color. What more do we want? I don't know.

Three regular vaudeville acts appear before the revue. They are Edwin George, a droll comedian, who nearly juggles; the Six Bedfords, athletes, and Stadler and Rose, dancers.

The movie is Zasu Pitts in "They Just Had to Get Married."

Now at the Lyric.

Other theaters today offer: "The Vinegar Tree," a Civic Theater offering, at the Playhouse; Olsen and Johnson on the stage and "Madame Butterfly" on the screen at the Indiana, "Isle of Lost Souls" at the Circle, "Son-Daughter" at the Palace, "Gonna-Gonna" at the Terminal, and "Second Hand Wife" at the Apollo.

RESIDENT OF CITY FOR FIFTY YEARS IS DEAD

Funeral Services for Mrs. Phoebe A. McFerrin to be held Wednesday.

Funeral services for Mrs. Phoebe A. McFerrin, 89, who died Monday at her home, 2755 North Gale street, after an illness of two weeks, will be conducted by the Rev. F. T. Taylor in the Brightwood M. E. church at 2 Wednesday. Burial will be in Crown Hill cemetery.

Mrs. McFerrin was born in Frankfort county, Kentucky, and lived there during the early part of her life. She had been a resident of Indianapolis fifty years, and was one of the first members of the Brightwood church.

RETIRING PAY OF OFFICERS IN WAR ASSAILED

Reductions of Payments Averaging $900,000 Each Month Are Urged.

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER

United Press Staff Correspondent

(Copyright, 1933, by United Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Reduction of payments now averaging $900,000 a month under the emergency relief act should be continued, advocated by those favoring sharp reductions in the $1,000,000 annual veteran expense as an alternative to higher taxes.

Under this act, which was passed over a Calvin Coolidge veto, World war volunteer officers, who are rated not less than 30 per cent permanently disabled resulting from war service shall be paid for life 75 per cent of their war-time pay.

These payments amount to $11,046,000 a year. Were this pay abolished, the officers would revert to their normal compensation status which would leave a charge estimated by the National Economy League at about $4,000,000 a year, making a net saving of $7,000,000 a year.

It still would leave any volunteer officer injured in war service receiving the same compensation as enlisted men injured under similar circumstances. The veterans bureau estimates the saving at about half this figure.

Get More as Officers

In criticizing these payments, the National Economy League says that many emergency officers 30 per cent disabled receive more pay than enlisted men totally disabled.

"This legislation has resulted in 6,106 men receiving more, because they served as officers, than they would have if they had served as enlisted men," the Economy League asserts.

It says repeal of the legislation would remove from the rolls 4,000 temporary war-time officers receiving an average retirement pay of $139 a month.

Previously, under regular compensation benefits they averaged $51 a month.

This group includes "presumptive disabled" and also a number of men whose disability occurred after the armistice—the war legally continued until the first summer of the Harding administration, when on July 2, 1921, the separate treaty of peace with Germany was concluded.

Saving Is Pointed Out

Director Hines of the veterans' bureau recommends that no retirement pay be allowed for less than six months' service before the armistice, and only to those who actually suffered an injury or contracted a disease directly attributable to war service. Such a bill has passed the house and is pending in the senate.

and Pennsylvania 332. Fifty-eight live outside of the United States, twenty-two of them in France. Many hold regular civilian positions.

The next day after this law became effective, the general council of the veterans' bureau at the time, William Wolff Smith, applied for retirement pay of $187.50 per month, and got it, though he was holding a $9,000 government job.

Until Oct. 29, 1918, he was clerk in the war department at $125 a month, according to data placed in the congressional record. Thirteen days before the armistice he obtained a commission, but never left Washington.

In 1923 he went into the veterans' bureau, and remained until protests in congress forced him out last summer.

30 DEAD, AND SCORES HURT IN SPAIN RIOTING

Government Charges Royalists and Reds Join to Foment Trouble.

BY WILLIAM H. LANDER

United Press Staff Correspondent

MADRID, Jan. 10.—The Young Spanish government of Spain fought today to quell uprisings alleged to have been fomented by two of its most bitter enemies—anarchists and monarchists.

Newspapers close to the government charged that monarchists financed the extremist outbreaks, which have cost approximately thirty lives, and scores of injured.

While authorities took every possible precaution to prevent further disturbances, editors charged monarchists were willing to join Communists in attempts to overthrow the administration.

More than one hundred monarchists were exiled to Villa Cisneros, West Africa, after an unsuccessful attempt at a coup last August. On New Year's eve, while the Villa Cisneros garrison was celebrating, twenty-nine of the exiles escaped, and were reported to have reached French territory in northern Africa.

If the reports of monarchist and anarchist co-operation were true, the Young Republican government faced the most serious opposition of its career.

Sporadic outbreaks continued in widely separated parts of the country, while authorities used troops, civil guards and police to quell the disturbances.

Most of the trouble was in the Mediterranean ports of Valencia and Barcelona, the latter long a center of industrial unrest. Officials charged government enemies sought a reign of terror preliminary to a general railroad strike Jan. 15.

Could Not Sleep at Night. Eczema on Face. Cuticura Healed.

"I had eczema in the worst form, my face being covered with pimples. The skin was sore and red and itched and burned. It irritated it so by scratching I could not sleep at night, and my face was disfigured quite a bit."

"This trouble lasted about a month before I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. A free sample did so much good I purchased more and I used four cakes of Cuticura Soap with the Cuticura Ointment and I was healed." (Signed) Mrs. Anna Smith, 507 E. Austin St., Webb City Mo., Sept. 26, 32.
