

ORDERS ISSUED IN PAPAL BULL FOR HOLY YEAR

Head of Church Urges Man-kind to Make Peace
With God.

By United Press

VATICAN CITY, Jan. 16.—While the bells of Rome's 600 churches rang Sunday morning, a papal bull was read from the four main basilicas of the Holy City announcing the promulgation of the Holy Year beginning Palm Sunday, to commemorate the nineteenth century of the death of Christ.

A procession of prelates of the papal court, headed by Monsignor Enrico Dante, chief ceremonial officer, passed through the Vatican halls to St. Peter's central portal, where a pulpit was erected.

The pope, in delivering the bull to be read from the portals of the four basilicas, pointed out that the impending Holy Year was more important than any ordinary celebrating, exhorting men to make peace with God, "which is greater and more precious than anything."

Ceremonies Are Listed

The bull contained the list of ceremonies for the Holy Year, and rules governing the grant of indulgences, limited to pilgrims visiting Rome, Lourdes and Palestine.

"We now fulfill the promise made on Christmas eve, proclaiming an extraordinary holy year in connection with the nineteenth century of the redemption of humanity," the bulletin stated. "Let men lift up their thoughts, a while from earthly things, from the sad conditions of our times, to that happiness to which the Savior called us."

"Let us collect our thoughts from the uproar of our daily life during the holy year. Let us to prayer and penitence for sins committed for mankind is torn by so many disorders and afflicted by troubles."

Urged to See Relics

Bishops were instructed to urge the faithful to take frequent sacraments, meditate upon Christ's passion and visit places where relics of Christ's passion are preserved.

The bulletin announced special indulgences which may be obtained "by all the faithful of both sexes, who have confessed twice on visits on the same or different days in the basilicas of St. John Lateran, St. Peter, St. Paul's and St. Mary's Major."

"Indulgence will be granted for all sins which are confessed and pardoned," the bulletin continued. "Let no one rashly contradict the promulgation of the bulletin under the pain of wrath of God and the apostles Peter and Paul."

TRACE RECORDS OF 'BIG-WEDDING' PAIR

Hearing Held Over Until Jan. 23;
More Charges Are Pending.

Police records in many eastern cities were being checked today as detectives sought additional information regarding activities of James H. Hughes, alias Kirkland, and Mrs. Arlene Kirkland, alias Bishop, who were arrested Friday after making plans to stage an elaborate fake wedding.

Hearing on vagrancy charges against both was deferred Saturday by Municipal Judge William H. Sheaffer until Jan. 23, when, detectives say, additional charges will be preferred.

After cashing an alleged worthless check for $30, the couple was arrested while leaving a hotel. Arrangements had been made by Mrs. Kirkland to purchase $5,000 worth of flowers and lease the dining room of an exclusive club for the wedding breakfast, detectives said.

Even a Brass Monkey Must Be Protected From Cold

Under the 'Spell' of Blackstone a Buzz-Saw Saws a Woman Into 'Two Pieces' on Indiana Stage.

BY WALTER D. HICKMAN

MAYBE you do not know it but even a brass monkey must be protected in cold weather.

I will not explain that one but you will get a great horse laugh when Leslie Howard pulls that one before Myrna Loy and her ritzy society friend in "The Animal Kingdom."

When the emotional temperature in the Tom Collier household starts to get chilly and the weather outside becomes snowy and cold, Leslie's heart goes out to the brass monkey.

In other words, I am trying to do the smart brilliancy of lines and situations when Hollywood started to make a movie out of a mighty intoxicating bit of stage fun, called "The Animal Kingdom."

If the Hollywood producers would do half as well with other stage plays when they become movies as they have done with "The Animal Kingdom," I would have no complaint. But "The Animal Kingdom" is blessed with a wise and sensible director and a cast that has original "legitimate brains." Here is a nifty that will make you forget the depression and the prohibition. And you probably will raise Cain with me for not telling you that Ann Harding is the woman of importance, both bedroom and mental, in the life of a rather foolish author, played by Leslie Howard in his best English-American fashion. Ann is not so much in evidence but her work is so skillful that you understand why Tom leaves his modern Cleopatra of a wife, pays her off and goes to the sensible and interesting Ann as his wife.

Enough of the story. Watch the "souse" work of William Gargan. Know his name? Well, here is a comedy sense artist that is a genius. He plays the role of a "butting" prize fighter who becomes a sort of a house maid. And that is another laugh in the hands of Myrna Loy, Howard and Gargan.

Watch the scene for brilliant fun near the end of the picture when Howard discovers that his wife in the story (Loy) is just a Fifth Avenue harlot.

Here is some of the smartest satire and fun the screen has given us for many moons.

It is my favorite movie of the week.

Now at the Apollo.

BLACKSTONE USES A BUZZ-SAW THIS TIME

Here is a magician who has glorified the rather old illusion idea of sawing a woman into two parts.

Am speaking of Blackstone. From a standpoint of apparatus or equipment (as the late Rolfe Easton so often told me), this man Blackstone has a "show." With the modern idea of the sensational in a magic show, he has "glorified" this stunt of "sawing a woman" into half. With a spinning and singing buzz saw, the "body" of the woman "passes through" the said buzz-saw. It "saws off" a part of a board under her and the little lady lives on until the next performance.

Here is melodrama in magic that is a darb. Here is theatrical magic that is magnificent. It is perfect deceit and what more do you want from a magician. Blackstone is carrying the heaviest as well as the most numerous apparatus that I have ever encountered in his shows.

If this man could cultivate the spoken word approach of comradeship and fun that is the gift of Thurston, he would be a marvel with this equipment. And at that he is improving in that line. He should study that approach more and more. I would like to see him do card

ARMED FORCES OF FRANCE ARE BEST IN WORLD

Yet Spirit of Peace Reigns in Thoughts of People,
Says Writer.

equipped with up-to-date machinery enabling them to compete with Germany.

In the Saar, France has been exploiting what were once German coalfields, and she will continue to do so until the plebiscite under the League of Nations auspices in 1935. Throughout Europe, French influence in politics is more potent than at any time since Napoleon. France has reason to be satisfied.

The spirit of peace reigns in the thoughts of the people, but the powder factories, the steel works, the dockyards clang and rattle as tanks, guns, aircraft, war vessels are hammered into shape and ranged up in readiness for action.

The very reasons which give France cause for satisfaction make her uneasy and determined to be prepared.

Lives Among Envious Neighbors

France's position in Europe today is much like that of a rich man living amongst poor, envious neighbors. France is anxious to gain, but much to lose by a new war.

The French viewpoint, is that the instigators of strife in Europe now are not the French people, but the nations defeated in 1918.

"Germany," says the French, "secretly is preparing to attack us in order to wrest back the territory she lost, to rejoin her dismembered East Prussia to the homeland by abolition of the Polish corridor and to fly once more the German flag on the high seas."

Efforts by American and British statesmen and even by Germans themselves to disabuse the French mind of this persistent nightmare have failed. The argument put to the French has been this:

"It was the armaments race before 1914 which was the direct cause of the World War. If France remains as powerfully armed as she is today an armaments race can be the only result."

"You can not expect your neighbor to be forever deprived of what you call defensive weapons so long as you remain with guns and tanks and bombers."

"She who has neighbors against whom she might want to defend herself."

The French reply to this is unwavering. "We admit," they say, "we have been spending $450,000,000 yearly on our armed forces, that our new fortifications on the frontiers are costing us $240,000,000; that they will be the most efficient and most heavily armed in existence, that we have 500,000 men under arms."

Measures of Protection

"But we already have made arms sacrifices. We have cut down our conscript army from three years' service to a year and our metropolitan forces soon will be less than half a million."

"We can not move our fortifications in order to attack another nation, therefore, they are purely defensive; in the present state of Europe we can not dispense with any more bayonets and we need our navy to protect our colonies."

Briefly stated, that is the French attitude. The only means of security France can think of at the moment is her army, navy, air force and land fortification. No Frenchman, except of the extreme left wing, would abandon a single one of these unless compensating assurances of safety were forthcoming.

Security Is Demanded

"We are ready to go further in disarmament if you give us security," is the persistent French cry.

The answer to this is that the Locarno treaty in which France is assured of assistance of assistance in the event of attack by an aggressor exists, and that there is the Kellogg-Briand pact. France holds that these are not enough.

The other nations reply they can give no more.

There is the deadlock.

What will be the way out of the deadlock? The solution remains with France. It remains to be seen whether sufficient pressure can be brought to bear on her to give way.

Civic Club Chiefs to Meet

Meeting of the executive board of the Indianapolis Federation of Community Civic Clubs will be held at 8 Tuesday night at 1214 Circle Tower. Presidents of civic clubs constitute the board.

Kay Francis

as far as I am concerned, just another movie. As to Kay Francis, she has her very best man. Her bedroom scene with friend husband is "stunningly" good. Her performance in the regulation Colman manner. Later, she is seen in a scene in which she is "stunningly" good. Her performance in the regulation Colman manner. Later, she is seen in a scene in which she is "stunningly" good.

He does many, many things in this show. But I wager you that you will have many a merry discussion concerning Blackstone and his "buzz-saw."

The movie feature is "Lawyer Man," with William Powell and Joan Blondell. I did not care for the picture or the story. It just doesn't ring true to the right form of the movie theater.

Powell is cast as a brilliant and honest attorney who goes "nuts" over a blonde dame in a heart-balm suit. Then because he was dumb, the lawyer goes "shyster." Then reforms for a happy ending. Powell is miscast, and Blondell is too mechanical. Be your own judge. I don't like it.

But see Blackstone and his "buzz-saw."

Now at the Indiana.

FRENCH FLIERS TRY SOUTH ATLANTIC HOP

Mermoz and Four Companions on Way to Brazil.

By United Press

SAN LUIS, SENEGAL, Jan. 16.—Jean Mermoz, veteran French air mail pilot, was over the South Atlantic today on an attempted flight to Natal, Brazil, en route from Marseilles to Buenos Aires.

Mermoz and his four companions left here at 4:45 a. m. in the airplane Rainbow. They were delayed for two days by rain.

Mermoz originally hoped to fly from Marseilles to Buenos Aires and return in a week, but abandoned this schedule.

The south Atlantic crossing from Senegal to northern Brazil is approximately 2,000 miles. Mermoz is familiar with the route, over which he has flown the air mail, with the aid of fueling ships.

"I wanted a clear skin— I got it... and a happy home, too"

If you long for a better skin pause and reason

A CLEAR, healthy skin is an evidence of good health. Ample red-blood-cells, filled with hemoglobin (skin and tissue purifier), are necessary for good health and a clear skin.

When the hemoglobin is right you feel it... your looks show it. But when sickness, colds or the "flu," tear down this vital substance, or you neglect your diet, you get weak, tire easily, lose your appetite. Your resistance is lowered—and your complexion usually shows it.

And here is the reason: When the hemoglobin is reduced, the billions of tiny cells in the body are not getting sufficient oxygen, because it is the hemoglobin that takes the oxygen, breathed into the lungs, to all parts of the body—even to the skin. Also, it throws off the poisonous carbon dioxide.

To clear your skin of pimples and get back that old-time vigor with color in your cheeks, take S.S.S. Tonic just before meals. No need to change your diet... S.S.S. will not interfere with any other medicine you may be taking. You will be happy with the beneficial results obtained.

S.S.S. is a proven Tonic... by experience for over 100 years... and by modern medical research. Start taking it today. At all drug stores in two convenient sizes. The larger size is more economical.

HOOVER TAKES FILIPINO FIGHT BEFORE PUBLIC

Bares Letters From Cabinet
Members, Urging Against Liberty Bill.

BY HARRY W. FRANTZ

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—President Herbert Hoover, threatened with a signal defeat in congress, has carried to the public his fight against the Philippines independence bill.

Only a two-thirds vote of the senate now is required to make the measure a law. The house overrode the President's veto Friday.

The White House Sunday made public letters from Secretaries Stimson, Hurley, Chapin, and Hyde, all critical of the pending bill, which apparently guided him in his veto of the bill.

At least fifty-five senators are reported ready to follow the lead of the house in over-riding the veto, and enough others were classed as "doubtful" to assure a very close vote.

State Secretary Henry L. Stimson, in the letter published Sunday, declared the United States' presence in the Philippines has contributed to the development of a new base of political equilibrium throughout the area of the western Pacific and eastern Asia.

Commerce Secretary Ray O. Chapin drew a negative picture of the trade and fiscal effects in the Philippines of the proposed bill.

Degradation of land values and adverse effects on Philippine railway finances were predicted.

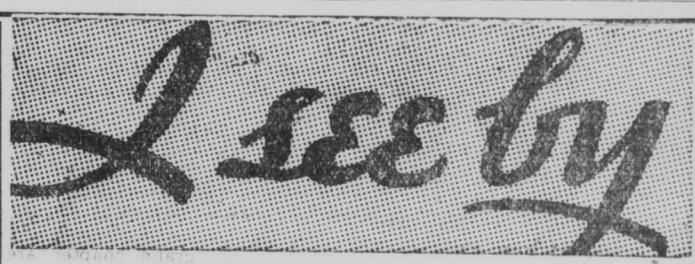

Agriculture Secretary Arthur M. Hyde discredited the benefits of the bill to American agriculture because of delays in the application of the quota limitations, and because the tariff-exempt quotas are larger than imports in 1928.

War Secretary Patrick Hurley held the bill would destroy the progress made toward self-government by the Filipino people.
