

GERMANS ASK RIGHT TO ARM 'FOR DEFENSE'

Equality Is Demanded If
Rest of Europe
Keeps Guns.

all-round scaling down of their fighting forces and war implements. Instead of reducing arms, the Germans argue, Europe now is weaker in military strength than before 1914, with the principal nations pouring out their people's money at the rate of two billion dollars a year for the purchase of war material and the maintenance of armed forces.

Held Expenditures Needless
According to German statisticians, these two billion dollars are divided up, partly as follows:
Great Britain (mainly for navy) $555,521,000
France 475,000,000
Italy 237,345,000

These figures, based on the army, navy and air force estimates the powers for 1930-1931, show that Germany's expenditure of slightly more than $120,000,000 is overshadowed by the military budgets of her neighbors.
"The German case is that all this expenditure, which can only be a precursor to a general armament race, is needless.

Germany, unarmed, deprived of a navy above certain limits, without military aircraft, without tanks, with a restricted army, is a menace to no one.

Why Not Equal Rights
Why, then, not grant Germany equal rights with other nations and then proceed to a general whittling to the bone of armaments?
Official spokesmen of the German government with whom I talked were emphatic in declaring that if equality of disarmament in Europe were agreed upon Germany would be content and would abide by the conventions under which this would be reached.

The attitude throughout the reich seems to be that although Germany at the present moment has not the necessary arms to enable her to rearm, even if she wished to defy the clauses of the Versailles treaty, the time may not be long delayed when her treasury once again will be sufficiently filled to enable her to pay for tanks, machine guns and fighting planes.

Straining at the Leash
If the other nations of Europe do not bring their armaments down to Germany's level, then the German will remember that when the time of her economic and financial revival comes.
A tour through Germany quickly convinces that the nation, through its government leaders, is straining at the leash against the Versailles treaty to aid in striving to find allies to aid in bringing about revision of what the reich regards as a dagger at its heart.

In recent months, German diplomacy has made strides toward bringing Great Britain to her way of thinking.
Ramsay MacDonald, the British premier, has been reported on more than one occasion to have pledged himself to support Germany's claim for equality of armaments.

Treaty Revision Sought
There is no doubt that, if Germany's armament claims are accepted and she obtains satisfaction on the "principle" of armaments equality, she will proceed to agitate for revision of the Versailles treaty, especially insofar as concerns the Polish corridor.

The informed opinion in Germany already speaks freely of the time when the Versailles signatories will be called together to agree to revision of the treaty.
A powerful argument with the Germans is the sole survivor of the signatories of the treaty, David Lloyd George, war-time prime minister of England, definitely has declared that the idea in the minds of the framers of the treaty was that it should lead to early general disarmament.

Federal Agents Seize Cab; May Even Pat It to Use Soon.

Federal dry agents, in the near future, may sally forth, in their search for liquor violators, disguised as taxi drivers, as result of seizure of a taxicab over the week-end.

Thomas M. Moore, 2806 Brookside avenue, taxi driver and owner, arrested on a charge of transporting a gallon of alcohol in his cab, was held to the federal grand jury today under $1,000 bond by Howard S. Young, United States commissioner. The taxicab is being held by the prohibition department.

LOSES WALLET, $315 IN CASH

Police Trace Auto License,
Question Woman Driver;
Clew Futile.

Some Indianapolis person is $315 richer today because of carelessness of somebody else.

En route to an east side bank to make a deposit, Ward Sexton, 742 Parkway avenue, brother of a coal yard operator at 2120 Hoyt avenue, arrived at the bank to find his wallet missing.

After twice retracing his steps, Sexton found the wallet, but its contents had been emptied. Checks worth $146 had been scattered on the street by the finder.

Later, residents of the vicinity reported to police of seeing a woman and a boy halt their car at the spot where the wallet lay, emerge, pick up something from the street, remove its contents, and drive away.

Tracing a license number provided by a witness, the police questioned women who had been driving with her son.

She said she had purchased gas and was returning home when a bill which she had received in change blew from the car. She stopped the car to recover the bill, she told police.

TAXI RATES MAY BE INCREASED IN CITY

Proposed Ordinance Sponsored by Cab Drivers.

Taxicab rate in Indianapolis may be increased if an ordinance introduced Monday night before the city council is passed.

The proposed measure, said to be sponsored by more than 400 taxi drivers, provides a minimum of 15 cents and a maximum of 25 cents for the first one-third mile or less. Rates for each succeeding one-third mile would be not less than 10 nor more than 15 cents.

The proposed ordinance is aimed at "cut throat" competition, the council was told. The council refused two years ago to establish minimum and maximum rates for taxi fares, holding that such action was an attempt to control business.

The council passed, under suspension of the rules, an ordinance allowing the safety board to pay second grade substitute fireman from the fund in the budget appropriating money for first grade substitutes.

The move was forced by the 5 percent cut made by the Marion county board of tax adjustment in the "services personnel" item in the fire department budget.

EDITOR TO TALK HERE

David Lawrence to Speak at Butler Founders' Day, Feb. 25.

David Lawrence, editor of the United States Daily, will be the principal speaker Feb. 25 at the forenoon ceremonies of Founders' day at Butler university, Dr. Walter Scott Athearn, president, announced today.

The celebration is the first appearance of the senior class of June in caps and gowns. The day will end with the annual banquet in the Claypool at night.

Indigestion, Jaundice

"I suffered from indigestion, never felt like eating and when I did eat, my food appeared to sour. Every little effort sapped my strength and I felt tired and depressed, constant headaches did their share, too, toward making me miserable. I had yellow jaundice," remarked Mrs. Mary C. Cook of 322 Penn Ave., Jacksonville, Ill. "I had always known of Dr. Pierce's medicine, as my mother, who was a physician, used these medicines in her practice. I took Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and I gained in weight, my appetite returned, the stomach complaint disappeared and my complexion cleared up fine." All drug lists.—Advertisement.

NEEDY OFTEN WORSE OFF BY GETTING JOB

Assail Policy of Forcing
Exhausting of Credit
Before Aid Is Given.

BY RUTH FINNEY
Times Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The problem of what to do about debts, already engaging the attention of most of the committees of congress, has intruded itself into the discussion of federal relief before the senate manufactures committee.

The prevailing policy of requiring needy families to exhaust their credit with the landlord and grocer before they are given aid by public and private agencies was assailed.

This policy has brought about a condition in which families are better off staying permanently on relief than attempting to go to work again, the committee has been told by Miss Margaret Rich of the Family Welfare Association of America.

Miss Rich told of a man with a wife and several children, who succeeded in obtaining a $15-a-week job after some time of relief.

Tells of Humiliation
At the end of his third day at work he came to the welfare agency and asked desperately what he was to do, since word had gotten around that he had a job, and the grocer and landlord were both demanding payment of long-overdue bills. He could receive no relief while working, and he could not live on what was left him after making the payments demanded.

Miss Rich read the committee answers from questionnaires filled in by unemployed men in which one after the other described the bitter humiliation of having to ask for relief, after many self-supporting years.

One man wrote that he was convinced it took more nerve to ask relief than to steal. He considered stealing, but decided the disgrace to his family might be greater if he was caught.

Study German Methods
Miss Rich made a study of relief methods in Cologne, Germany, a few months ago, and told the committee she found a different attitude there on the part of relief agencies, and those receiving help. The agencies there are giving each family cash with which to buy for its own needs instead of a monotonous food dole, because the government considers "these people are the backbone of our country, and we can't afford to let them deteriorate."

But in this country Miss Rich is finding an increasing feeling of rebellion in all large communities, "not anarchy, but a sense of discontent," born of uncertainty as to how long relief can continue, inadequacy of relief, and the fact that families are deprived of the right to plan and spend for themselves.

Blood Pressure Is Now Normal
Fat Women Often Have High Blood Pressure.

If you are fat and have high blood pressure, read this letter from Mrs. E. S. B. of Dodge City, Kansas—then use your own judgment—it was written January 1, 1932.

"The reason I am taking Kruschen Salts is, I was overweight, I naturally was sluggish in every way. I had high blood pressure and was so nervous I did not enjoy myself. I could not sleep and day after day I spent in bed with headaches. I had tried everything I ever heard of to remove fat from my body and nothing did me any good.

"I read so much in the papers about Kruschen Salts, but to myself it was like all the rest, but I finally decided to try it. And Sept. 20, 1931, I started taking Kruschen and dieting. You suggested.

"I have lost 30 lbs. and I can honestly say I never felt better in all my life. I sleep fine and my blood pressure is normal. My nerves are also better. I have recommended Kruschen Salts to lots of people and I know several are taking them with good results."

One of Kruschen Salts that costs but a trifling last a week and can be obtained at any drug store in the world.—Advertisement.

A COLD PASSES THRU 3 STAGES!

It is Twice as Easily Stopped in the First as in the Second or Third Stages!

A cold passes through three stages—The Dry Stage, the first 24 hours; the Watery Secretion Stage, from 1 to 3 days; and the Mucous Secretion Stage. Once it gets beyond the Dry Stage it is far more difficult to relieve. Therefore, treat a cold promptly.

The best thing you can take is Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine, because it does the four things necessary. It relieves the bowels. Kills the germs and fever in the system. Relieves the headache and grippy feeling. Tones the entire system and fortifies against further attack.

This is the relief you want—complete, thorough and decisive! Trust to nothing less.

Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine contains nothing harmful. May be safely taken by young and old and whether you stay indoors or go out. There is absolutely no penalty attached to its use. For more than 40 years it has been the standard cold and grippy tablet of the world, the formula keeping pace with Modern Medicine. Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine now comes in two sizes—30c and 50c. As a measure of preparedness, get yourself a package today. Accept no substitute on any pretext.

NOTE: During Epidemics a tablet or two of Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine every morning and night will do much to keep your system immune.—Advertisement.

$200 for Best Answers on 'Cheating' in Marriage

Two Cash Prizes Offered,
With Theater Tickets as Added Contest Lure.

How many times have you sat in a theater and laughed at the antics of a philandering husband or wife? How many times have you grinned as you read of the situations which have arisen from infidelity?

Would you still laugh if it was your own mate locked in the clothes closet for the night to escape detection? Would your sense of humor support you through a crisis of this type in your own home? Would you, Mr. Husband? And yours, Mrs. Wife?

Infidelity long has been a big question in marital life. It has to be met at one time or another in many persons' lives. It is this question which Ronald Colman and Kay Francis face in "Cynara," current attraction at Loew's Palace theater.

Loew's theaters throughout the country are interested to know how you would react in a situation similar to the one in "Cynara." So interested are they, in fact, that they will pay $200 to the writers of the best letters on the subject—$100 for the best letter written by a husband and a like sum for the best written by a wife. These letters must answer the question: "Should the wife in 'Cynara' forgive the husband?"

In addition to the cash prizes, The Indianapolis Times is offering twenty-five pairs of guest tickets to Loew's Palace, good for the attraction following "Cynara," for the best twenty-five letters written.

First see "Cynara." Then write a letter of not more than 100 words to the Cynara Editor, care of The Times, telling whether you would emulate Kay Francis, and why the wife should or should not forgive the husband.

Winners of the local prizes of guest tickets will be considered in the national selections for the money prizes. See the picture and get your answers in as soon as possible.

"Cynara" closes its engagement at the Palace Thursday night.

HINES ACTS TO SLICE DEEP IN VETERAN COSTS

Drastic Economy Program
Is Announced Under New Policies.

BY NED BROOKS
Times Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Without waiting for congress to act, the veterans' administration has undertaken a program by which it hopes to pare millions from the billion-dollar-a-year cost of 'veterans' benefits.

The economy move is directed against the disability allowance benefits which, since passage of the act in 1930, have cost the government more than $105,000,000.

Two new policies have been put in effect by General Frank T. Hines, veterans' administrator:

1. He has ordered a review of all cases, now numbering between 400,000 and 500,000, with a view to eliminating those of less than 25 percent disability, and reducing other cases to lower disability brackets, if medical evidence warrants.

2. He has tightened the restrictions of examining boards which pass on new claims, with the idea of barring such border-line cases as were granted benefits in the avalanche of claims, which followed passage of the act.

President Hoover, who has recommended a reduction of $127,000,000 in veterans' expenses, was said to have influenced the tightening of regulations.

Orders for the review of all cases have gone out to the fifty-four regional boards.

The order thus gives the examining board the power to discontinue benefits of any veteran, without further physical examination on the evidence already in possession of the bureau.

Cases of ex-service men who are employees of the veterans' administration are to be reviewed first. Each regional office is expected to review fifty cases a day.

Of the 407,584 veterans now receiving disability allowance benefits, 68 per cent are listed as 25 per cent disabled, according to testimony furnished by General Hines to the joint committee investigating veterans' affairs.
