

Wives of Three Former Governors at Assembly Women's Club Luncheon

Mrs. Paul V. McNutt Is Seated at Speaker's Table; Affair Is Traditional Event of Legislature Openings.

Wives of three former Indiana Governors were present Wednesday at the luncheon of the State Assembly Woman's Club, held in the Chateau room of the Claypool. They were Mrs. Ed Jackson, Mrs. Emmett Branch, and Mrs. Samuel Ralston.

Mrs. Paul V. McNutt, wife of the recently elected Governor, was seated at the speaker's table. She was dressed in a smart black and white ensemble, with hat to match, and wore a shoulder corsage of orchids.

Seated at the table with Mrs. McNutt were Mrs. I. N. Trent, first vice-president of the club; Mrs. Fred Schortemier, corresponding secretary; Mrs. C. J. Buchanan, president emeritus; Mrs. Fred Byers, president of the Indianapolis branch; Mrs. J. C. Travis, chairman of the program committee, and Mrs. A. F. Walsman, chairman of the ticket committee.

Event Is Traditional

The speakers' table had as centerpiece a lighted replica of the statehouse, which has been used at the opening luncheons of the club for several years. At each side of this were vases of Aaron Ward roses. Silver candelabras with dull gold candles were used at both ends of the table. The candles were tied with purple tulle.

Individual tables in the dining room were decorated with crystal candleholders, with dull gold candles which were tied with purple tulle.

Program placards in the shape of the state were in the club colors, purple and gold.

The luncheon is a traditional event, and marks the opening of the social season for members of the club. The members are wives of present and former state elective officers and senators.

Musical Program Given

During the assembly no regular club meetings are held. The members of the club are entertained during this period by the different state institutions, where they make tours in inspection and by social events among the membership.

Invitations are being received now for these events. One which will be attended during this assembly session will be a visit to the Indiana school for the deaf, with Mrs. O. M. Pittenger as hostess.

A musical program was presented following the luncheon. It included numbers by a trio, composed of Mr. and Mrs. Saul Bernat and Mrs. Lucille Wagner; violin solos by Mr. Bernat and readings by Mrs. Glen Sheptaugh.

PROGRAM WILL BE GIVEN AT PRISON

The Social Adventure club of Third Christian church will present a program at the Woman's Prison Sunday, when leaders will be Miss Cynthia Pearl Mau and Miss Elaine Elliott.

The program will include a brief talk by the Rev. William E. Rothberger. Entertainment will be provided by Jessie Hall, whistler; Merle Calvert, pianist; Harry Limpus, guitar player, and Miss Thelma and Mabel Krentler, Paul Shaw and Byron Stroh, quartet.

Miss Irene Bishop is chairman of arrangements. Robert Pogue, president, will preside.

DANCE TO BE HELD

AT HOOSIER A. C.

Hosts and hostesses for the Saturday night dance of the Hoosier Athletic club will be Dr. and Mrs. K. R. Brooks, Dr. and Mrs. John F. Kelly, Messrs. and Mesdames Marshall Raber, Walter E. Jackson and Alfred S. Cantwell.

Music will be provided by Bill Eckstein and his orchestra.

LUNCHEON HELD BY TRI-O-DICE CLUB

Mrs. Fred B. Hite, 2133 English avenue, entertained the Tri-O-Dice club with a luncheon Wednesday. At a business meeting, Mrs. Hite was elected president; Mrs. D. C. Clore, secretary, and Mrs. Gladys Wheat, treasurer.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Austin Nutt, 4937 Young avenue.

Mrs. Brewer Hostess

Mrs. Don Brewer, 3361 Park avenue, entertained members of the Wilson college alumnae club at a luncheon today.

NO OTHER SUDS WILL DO

See how much one box did for Mrs. Willis Swan of Milwaukee

I ALWAYS wanted to know just how much work could be done with one big box of Rinsso, so I kept track of what I did with the last box just to satisfy my curiosity. I did the dishes six times, the floors once and all this laundry work:

2 doilies	5 table-cloths	6 pairs pajamas
2 bedspreads	18 towels	4 aprons
5 bureau scarfs	15 dish towels	8 pairs socks
10 face cloths	24 handkerchiefs	5 pieces underwear
12 napkins	6 rag rugs	8 shirts
6 pillow cases	1 cotton blouse
6 sheets	4 house-dresses

Rinsso is marvelous in tub or washer. Its thick suds soak out dirt save scrubbing, boiling. Even in hardest water, a little Rinsso gives a lot of creamy suds. Great for dishes. Get the BIG box.

Rinsso

The biggest selling package soap in America

Red Cross Group Sews for Needy

Manners and Morals

BY JANE JORDAN

Jane Jordan is your personal adviser. Come to her when you are caught in a jam and have no other place to turn.

Dear Jane Jordan—My husband and I have been married several years and have two children. He tells me that he doesn't love me and talks like he wants to divorce me. I love him and have been a true wife to him.

He said that he is looking for happiness some place else, as he is strange around here. He filed suit for a divorce before, but came back on account of the children.

I am young, but I would not be happy with some one else, as I love my husband. Would you make over him and tell him that you love him, after knowing that he doesn't care about you? How can I win him back? I've tried everything, but he just pushes me away from him. How long would you give him a chance to be different?

LONELY AND BLUE.
Dear Lonely and Blue—Let your husband alone. Nothing is more unbecoming than expressions of affection when they are not returned. If you've tried a vacation from each other and that did not revive your love, there is little else you can do.

There is no happiness to be found in holding a man to his post against his will. Unfortunately, love can not be forced, and when it is dead it is the deadliest thing in the world. I have no recipe for bringing dead love back to life.

Your cue is to fill your life so full of other things that they crowd out your unhappiness. You are wrong when you say that you could not be happy with some one else. Hundreds of women have said this when suffering from unsatisfied love, only to find themselves gloriously wrong in later life.

Don't center so fiercely on your husband. Let him go. A loveless home is no advantage to your children. If he is willing to support them, divorce is your solution. Then make a new start.

Dear Jane Jordan—I'm 17 years old and have been going with a boy for a year and four months. He can't find me and I can't find him. My mother doesn't want me to go with him. She's a widow and likes company herself, but doesn't want her daughter to have any. He's a nice boy. Would you advise me keeping company with him?

TRROUBLED ONE.
Dear Troubled One—How have you managed to go with him for a year and four months without your mother's consent? In my opinion, she can't stop you, no matter how hard she tries. A love affair which has withstood parental opposition all this time is not apt to give up all of a sudden.

Since I have heard only your side of the case, I do not know whether your mother is right or wrong. It may be that she has sound objections to the young man, and it may be that she only is selfish. If I were you, I would make a sincere effort to understand her viewpoint. Make her give you concrete reasons for her objections. Tell me what they are and I can advise you more wisely.

Dear Jane Jordan—The other evening I was at a party of young people and one of the girls brought up the subject of her old beau. She can't understand why he has tired of her and why he rarely comes to see her and never calls up. I could have told her then, but to be more polite, I will take this means of getting my message to her.

This girl and fellow had intimate relations for more than a year. She yielded to his every desire and whim. They would take week-end trips to other cities. She no doubt is in love, but man is a funny sort of human being and soon tires of something easy to get. He exists by his conquests of the opposite sex. Easy marks bore him. He would rather hear a girl say "No" than cater to his every whim.

When a man knows all about a girl, every little intimate secret, how can she expect to hold him unless she is married to him? Even then she runs a risk of his becoming interested in another woman. Man always is interested as long as there is something about a woman he hasn't explored.

If a girl wants to hold her man, she should keep something from him and not tell him everything. Above all, she should not tell him how much she loves him until the proper time comes. This scares more young men than anything else. She should keep an air of mystery and not give in.

YOUNG MAN OF TODAY.
Dear Young Man of Today—I hope the young lady reads your message in this column. I agree with most of what you say, but I must add that some men are worn to a frazzle with the idea that there is anything mysterious about women. The mystery pose has been blown up in some circles. Men want straightforward comrades, who understand them and whom they can understand. It annoys them to make love to a sphinx.

Dear Jane Jordan—I'm 17 years old and have been going with a boy for a year and four months. He can't find me and I can't find him. My mother doesn't want me to go with him. She's a widow and likes company herself, but doesn't want her daughter to have any. He's a nice boy. Would you advise me keeping company with him?

TRROUBLED ONE.
Dear Troubled One—How have you managed to go with him for a year and four months without your mother's consent? In my opinion, she can't stop you, no matter how hard she tries. A love affair which has withstood parental opposition all this time is not apt to give up all of a sudden.

Since I have heard only your side of the case, I do not know whether your mother is right or wrong. It may be that she has sound objections to the young man, and it may

Psi Iota Xi Sorority to Hold Party

Alumnae Chapter to Be Hostess at Annual Session Here.

Delta Beta Alumnae chapter of Psi Iota Xi sorority will be hostess at the annual state midwinter convention, which will be held Saturday and Sunday in the Marott. Delegates from forty-eight chapters will be present.

The council, composed of state officers, will meet preceding the luncheon at 12:30, when a program will be given. The entertainment is being arranged by Mrs. Anne Deumling of Ft. Wayne, state president.

Miss Gladys Robb, president of the hostess group, is general chairman of the luncheon, assisted by Mrs. Marie McBeth, Mrs. Faye McGaw and Miss Florence Gaddis.

A bridge party will follow the luncheon. Decorations are in charge of Mrs. Alma Appel and Miss Lois Klepinger. The luncheon tables will be arranged with bowls of the sorority flower, Johanna Hill roses, and lighted with turquoise blue tapers.

State officers to attend besides Mrs. Deumling will be Mrs. Marguerite Oliver, Muncie, vice-president; Mrs. Elizabeth Colvin, Princeton, secretary; Miss Margaret Lovelace, Thorntown, treasurer; Miss Thelma Sines, Logansport, adviser; Miss Margaret Crowe, Petersburg, editor; Mrs. Margaret Rainier, Seymour, conductor; Mrs. Wanita Frederick Hughes, Kokomo, charity chairman; Miss Eloise Lewton, Decatur, north province chairman; Miss Margaret Fields, Lebanon, central province chairman, and Mrs. Christine Miller, Seymour, southern province chairman.

Officers to attend besides Mrs. Deumling will be Mrs. Marguerite Oliver, Muncie, vice-president; Mrs. Elizabeth Colvin, Princeton, secretary; Miss Margaret Lovelace, Thorntown, treasurer; Miss Thelma Sines, Logansport, adviser; Miss Margaret Crowe, Petersburg, editor; Mrs. Margaret Rainier, Seymour, conductor; Mrs. Wanita Frederick Hughes, Kokomo, charity chairman; Miss Eloise Lewton, Decatur, north province chairman; Miss Margaret Fields, Lebanon, central province chairman, and Mrs. Christine Miller, Seymour, southern province chairman.

Upper Left—Mrs. Frederic M. Ayres of Crow's Nest, on duty at the information and telephone desk at the workroom of the Marion county chapter of the American Red Cross, 110 South Meridian street. Mrs. Ayres receives the calls from units sewing for the needy and orders from welfare agencies desiring clothing.

Upper Right—The war against poverty and need is the new battle front on which Mrs. George F. Kirkhoff (left) and Mrs. Catherine Benz are serving. Mrs. Kirkhoff and Mrs. Benz, war mothers, sewed for the boys "over there" during the World war.

Lower Left—Inspecting garments received from the 300 units serving for the Red Cross is Mrs. Ayres, on duty at the workroom of the Marion county chapter of the American Red Cross, 110 South Meridian street.

Lower Center—Pattern cutting is the aid Mrs. Romney Willson of Golden Hill is giving as a volunteer worker at the Red Cross street.

Lower Right—Will E. Johnson, one of the army of the unemployed keeps busy serving as shipping clerk and packer at the work room. No clothing is given out at the work room. It is assembled and packed and upon orders sent to welfare agencies and to the impoverished.

MAGAZINE CLUB TO ELECT NEW HEADS

The Magazine Club will hold election of officers at the luncheon meeting Saturday at the home of Mrs. H. W. Drago, 4520 North Meridian street.

Assisting the hostess and in charge of arrangements will be Mesdames G. W. Titus, L. H. Fisher, S. H. Rosenbrock, A. W. Stockton, Roy Thurman, Rudolph Grokopf, R. A. Nowlin, John F. Kelly, E. Balch and August Henley.

Lower Left—Inspecting garments received from the 300 units serving for the Red Cross is Mrs. Ayres, on duty at the workroom of the Marion county chapter of the American Red Cross, 110 South Meridian street.

Lower Center—Pattern cutting is the aid Mrs. Romney Willson of Golden Hill is giving as a volunteer worker at the Red Cross street.

Lower Right—Will E. Johnson, one of the army of the unemployed keeps busy serving as shipping clerk and packer at the work room. No clothing is given out at the work room. It is assembled and packed and upon orders sent to welfare agencies and to the impoverished.

Other guests were the bride's mother, Mrs. Clarence Perkins and Mesdames Russell Adams, Lawrence Schepke, Louis Cochran, Howard Deisher, Lawrence Falter, Clarence Bittley and Misses Edith Barnhill, Betty Burr, Kathleen Iuppenatz, Peg Viles, Sally Cannon, Dena McMickell, Dorothy Rogers, Ella Lewis, Helen Crooke, Dorothy Burl, Esther Howe, and Helen Carroll.

BRIDE IS HONORED AT SHOWER PARTY

Mrs. Frederic Hill Surface, who was Miss Faye Wendling before her recent marriage, was a guest at the luncheon given in her honor by Miss Izola Rogers, 5129 East Washington street.

Other guests were the bride's mother, Mrs. Clarence Perkins and Mesdames Russell Adams, Lawrence Schepke, Louis Cochran, Howard Deisher, Lawrence Falter, Clarence Bittley and Misses Edith Barnhill, Betty Burr, Kathleen Iuppenatz, Peg Viles, Sally Cannon, Dena McMickell, Dorothy Rogers, Ella Lewis, Helen Crooke, Dorothy Burl, Esther Howe, and Helen Carroll.

Lower Left—Inspecting garments received from the 300 units serving for the Red Cross is Mrs. Ayres, on duty at the workroom of the Marion county chapter of the American Red Cross, 110 South Meridian street.

Lower Center—Pattern cutting is the aid Mrs. Romney Willson of Golden Hill is giving as a volunteer worker at the Red Cross street.

Lower Right—Will E. Johnson, one of the army of the unemployed keeps busy serving as shipping clerk and packer at the work room. No clothing is given out at the work room. It is assembled and packed and upon orders sent to welfare agencies and to the impoverished.

Other guests were the bride's mother, Mrs. Clarence Perkins and Mesdames Russell Adams, Lawrence Schepke, Louis Cochran, Howard Deisher, Lawrence Falter, Clarence Bittley and Misses Edith Barnhill, Betty Burr, Kathleen Iuppenatz, Peg Viles, Sally Cannon, Dena McMickell, Dorothy Rogers, Ella Lewis, Helen Crooke, Dorothy Burl, Esther Howe, and Helen Carroll.

Lower Left—Inspecting garments received from the 300 units serving for the Red Cross is Mrs. Ayres, on duty at the workroom of the Marion county chapter of the American Red Cross, 110 South Meridian street.

Lower Center—Pattern cutting is the aid Mrs. Romney Willson of Golden Hill is giving as a volunteer worker at the Red Cross street.

Lower Right—Will E. Johnson, one of the army of the unemployed keeps busy serving as shipping clerk and packer at the work room. No clothing is given out at the work room. It is assembled and packed and upon orders sent to welfare agencies and to the impoverished.

Other guests were the bride's mother, Mrs. Clarence Perkins and Mesdames Russell Adams, Lawrence Schepke, Louis Cochran, Howard Deisher, Lawrence Falter, Clarence Bittley and Misses Edith Barnhill, Betty Burr, Kathleen Iuppenatz, Peg Viles, Sally Cannon, Dena McMickell, Dorothy Rogers, Ella Lewis, Helen Crooke, Dorothy Burl, Esther Howe, and Helen Carroll.

Lower Left—Inspecting garments received from the 300 units serving for the Red Cross is Mrs. Ayres, on duty at the workroom of the Marion county chapter of the American Red Cross, 110 South Meridian street.

Lower Center—Pattern cutting is the aid Mrs. Romney Willson of Golden Hill is giving as a volunteer worker at the Red Cross street.

Lower Right—Will E. Johnson, one of the army of the unemployed keeps busy serving as shipping clerk and packer at the work room. No clothing is given out at the work room. It is assembled and packed