FLOOD DANGER IS FACED BY STATE AREAS

Traffic in Southern Indiana
Is Slowed by Rivers and Creeks Out of Banks.

Traffic in southern Indiana moved cautiously today through low areas as rivers and creeks overflowed their banks and flood conditions prevailed in many sections.

With waters rising constantly because of heavy rainfall Saturday night and Sunday, peak of the high waters has not yet been reached today at several larger towns along both branches of White river.

The lower Wabash river climbed above its flood stage, pouring water into bottom lands and making travel hazardous because of inundated roads.

At Seymour, White river rose 8.8 feet since Saturday night, to 12 feet, which is two feet above the flood stage. Still further rise was expected today.

Road No. 46 is closed between Bloomington and Nashville as is Road 31 north of Seymour.

Earth slides from a downpour caused temporary closing Sunday of Road 45 four miles south of Logansport, until state highway department trucks cleared away enough earth to permit passage of one-way traffic.

State trucks were being utilized to rescue stranded motorists on Road 69 at Solitude, where more than two feet of water covered the road. At Shoals, White river early today stood 9 feet above the flood stage after rising 13.8 feet since Saturday night. Additional rise of two feet is expected.

J. H. Armstrong, United States meteorologist, said clear and colder weather is expected tonight and Tuesday.

White river near Elliston rose 6.4 feet to 7 feet above flood stage of 19 feet.

David Harum in Ecstasy, and All Over Swap Ads

But The Times' Boys Slap Him Back in Place to Make Things Safe for 'Tradeocracy.'

David Harum, from his novel height atop the bookshelf, was looking over our paper.

David was that fictional character who could out-trade and out-swap a horse thief. He could take Santa Claus' whiskers away from him for shaving cream and turn them into a brush to leather his face.

And as David glanced at the Swap column of The Indianapolis Times he went into overwhelming raptures and with pointing finger said: "There's one after my own heart." A Colt automatic .25-caliber to trade for a portable typewriter. That's the very way to end a depression.

"The guy with the portable writes his last note, trades the typewriter for the automatic, ends it all, and his estate gets the gun and the other guy gets the portable. It's a game of progression. And it makes it open season on husbands and wives."

"Here, don't skip in that Swap column. Look at that one. Wants to give a $52 course in piano playing for fence posts, and this one here," said the avid David as he pointed to a Times swap that offered a hydraulic two-chair barber shop for a good car.

"What a Depression!"

"And that one there," pointed David's finger to:

"Lady's wrist watch for kitchen linoleum, coal or cash."

"Oh, if I had only really lived. What swapping! What a depression! Look down there at that one. Some one's tired of ping-pong and wants to trade a game table for an extension table. And the one below it, that wants to swap a baby buggy for an electric cleaner. Are you listening, Father Stork?" shouted David.

He was becoming over-enthusiastic from his book shelf and had to be put in his place.

"You keep that up, David, and we'll move you out, for here's a fellow in The Times' swap ads that wants to move things for furniture or clothing," he was told.

Into Shelf He Goes

"Move me and around Easter time this fellow here—" David's finger pointed rudely to another ad that begged to be allowed to swap rabbits for chickens.

"Move me when they're giving theater tickets for every swap that's printed and listing your swap for sixty days, free, in the swap-book?"

RECEIVERSHIP EVILS TARGET OF MEASURE

Judges' Powers Would Be Wiped Out by Bill.

Receivership evils in cases involving preferred stock and bond securities would be curtailed sharply under provisions of a bill sponsored in the Indiana senate by Senator J. Francis Lochar (Dem., Milan).

Terms of the proposed law, Lochar explains, would give a majority of security owners the absolute power to name a receiver in court proceedings instead of affording opportunity to a judge to name a friend or some person with whom he had a political affiliation. This would be accomplished through giving the judge a recommendation which he would be bound to follow. "Too long have security owners been the victims of the present vicious system of naming receivers in cases involving real estate against which preferred stock or bonds are outstanding," Lochar said.

"Security owners at present have no determining voice in the selection of a receiver. Consequently, many county courts have used their power to further their own ends by appointing friends or political supporters."

You smoke a Pipe

and we'd like to Talk with you about it...

All races of people since the beginning of time, so far as we have been able to read, have had some kind of a pipe and have smoked something—whether they called it tobacco or what-not.

AND since smoking a pipe is so different from smoking a cigar or a cigarette, we made a most painstaking, scientific study in an effort to make, if we could, a tobacco which was suited to pipes.

We found out, first, that there was a kind of tobacco that grew in the Blue Grass section of Kentucky called "White Burley", and that there was a certain kind of this tobacco which was between the tobacco used for cigarettes and the tobacco used for chewing tobacco. It is this tobacco which is best for pipes.

Having got the right tobacco, we then began to study the method of making it.

We found out that Mr. J. N. Wellman, way back many years ago, in a small factory, made a pipe tobacco which was very popular. But he was not in a position to advertise it, and after he passed away there was nothing more heard about it.

We acquired this Wellman Method of making pipe tobacco—and that is what we use in making GRANGER ROUGH CUT.

The next thing was to cut the tobacco. We knew that fine tobacco burnt hot because it burnt so fast. It kept your pipe hot. You could hardly hold your pipe in your hand, it got so hot at times.

Then we remembered that some folks back yonder used to "whittle" their tobacco. So we made GRANGER just like "whittle" tobacco—"Rough Cut." It smokes cooler and lasts a lot longer. And also, you'll find it never gums the pipe.

So far, so good. Now we wanted to sell this tobacco for 10c. Good tobacco—right process—cut right. It was a question of how to do it for the price.

So we put GRANGER in a sensible soft foil pouch instead of an expensive package, knowing that a man can't smoke a package. We gave smokers this good GRANGER tobacco in a common-sense pouch for 10c.

GRANGER has not been on sale very long, but it has grown to be a popular smoke. And there is this much about it—we have yet to know of a man who started to smoke it, who didn't keep on. Folks seem to like it.
