

FARM BODIES LEND BACKING FOR INFLATION

Wide Relief Is Required to Stave Off Revolt,
Senators Told.

By United Press.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Two great farm organizations today threw their support behind currency inflation and a wide farm relief program as essential to rehabilitate agriculture and stave off agrarian revolt.

John A. Simpson, president of the Farmers' Union, and Edward A. O'Neal, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, testified before the senate agriculture committee as it opened hearings on the billion dollar domestic allotment farm bill.

They testified the farmer was willing to help himself, but that congress also would have to come to his aid with a federal farm program and monetization of silver or some other means by which the dollar could be cheapened and foreign markets regained for the farmer's crop. Otherwise, O'Neal said, an agrarian revolt within a year would occur.

Grange Head to Appear

Louis J. Taber, master of the National Grange, is expected to testify Thursday. The allotment bill originated in a concerted effort by the three bodies and other farm organizations to draft a comprehensive program for relief of agriculture. It already has passed the house.

Simpson, who described the present measure as affording only "a pittance of relief" split with O'Neal who indorse dits provisions without exception. The former objected that the acreage control feature would be "as great a failure as the farm board" and insisted any price fixing bill must be based on a guarantee to the farmer that he received cost of production of his produce.

Object to Control Provision

Committee members objected to several features of the bill, especially the acreage control provision. Senator Ellison D. Smith (Dem., S. C.), said that bounties under the measure worked in an inverse ratio to the size of the exportable surplus in a given crop, and that consequently the cotton farmer, producing a 40 per cent export commodity, would not receive equal benefits.

O'Neal was asked whether the farm bureau federation approved the present bounty provisions of the bill covering seven crops: wheat, cotton, rice, tobacco, hogs, dairy products and peanuts.

O'Neal said he felt the measure would apply, so long as it "did not destroy its workability" to every crop with an exportable surplus. "As for dairy products, he added, "when the dairymen presented their arguments they converted me."

GLASS IN BUTTERMILK CLAIM: $5,000 ASKED

Pullman Car Maid Sues Local Firm;
Case Being Heard in Court.

Names may not mean anything but in the case of Miss Bechtherton L. Glass of New York, Pullman car maid, the word "glass" may win her $5,000.

She is fighting in superior court two for this amount because she charges she found chips of glass in a quart of buttermilk she purchased at a restaurant here.

She alleges the Banquet Ice Cream and Milk Company, defendant, "negligently permitted the glass to get in a milk can."

Injuries forced her to leave her job as maid on a New York-Indianapolis train, she testified.

Election Law Revision Provided in Senate Bill

Measure Is Introduced to Make State Conform to Lame Duck Act.

Revision of existing laws pertaining to casting of votes by presidential electors is the object of a bill offered in the senate by Senator A. L. Albright (Dem., Cayuga).

Indiana's law on this subject was passed in 1852. Albright explained his bill would make the state law conform to the new lame duck amendment to the Constitution, ratified Monday, and expected to be promulgated within a few days by the federal secretary of state.

W. W. Spencer, member of state board of elections for the last twenty-five years, attended the senate committee hearing today and expressed approval of the measure. Terms of the bill provide presidential electors shall meet to cast votes on the first Wednesday in January following a general election. It also eliminates the system of

The damages are against the Metropolitan Secret Service, Inc., and Fred B. Carson, operative.

The detective agency, according to testimony, was employed by Mrs. Karl Hamilton, 1430 East Thirtieth street, to "shadow" her husband.

The slander suit was based on a written report, which, evidence disclosed, the agency gave Mrs. Hamilton, telling of its operatives seeing Hamilton in the company of Mrs. Wininger. The report also referred to a kiss on a downtown street.

Upon investigation, after a hearing in juvenile court, the evidence showed, Mrs. Hamilton discovered the man whom Mrs. Wininger kissed was her own husband, Lawrence Wininger.

Hamilton and Mrs. Wininger had not recognized each other in juvenile court, testimony revealed, and both declared it was the first time they had met.

'DEBTOR FELONY' BILL PASSED IN STATE SENATE

Removal of Improvements on Mortgaged Real Estate
Made Crime.

Removal of improvements, or parts of improvements, on real estate, which has been mortgaged, will be a crime in Indiana, if a measure passed by the senate today finally is approved by the house and Governor.

It is the first attempt of the legislative session to place a new crime on the statute books.

The bill, approved despite an attempt to block it because "Indiana has enough penal laws," provides for fines from $100 to $2,000 and six months' jail sentence, on conviction. The vote was 27 to 15.

"This is but a skirmish in the big battle here, and throughout the land, of the creditor and the debtor," Senator Chester A. Perkins (Dem., South Bend), declared in opposing passage.

"It will make self-preservation a felony. Its favorable reception merely will show that the creditor class still is in the ascendancy. Such may not always be the case."

"Our job should be to maintain a balance between the creditor and debtor, and now is not the time to enact such laws as this. Let us go slow in creating another crime for the debtor fighting for his very existence."

This view was scoffed at by Senators William P. Dennigan (Dem., Vincennes) and Leo X. Smith (Dem., Indianapolis). The latter introduced the bill and Dennigan's committee approved it, with amendments.

Senator Jesse E. Wade (Dem., Mt. Vernon) took up the Perkins viewpoint and declared:

"There is sufficient remedy in such matters under the civil law. Indiana already has 716 useless crimes and we need add none here. I'm opposed to putting new crimes on the statute books for such petty offenses and railroading to jail those who can not defend themselves."

Under modern sanatorium care, four out of five cases of early or incipient tuberculosis are arrested.

Firing a watch

ILLUSION: The magician smashes a watch right before your eyes... loads the pieces into a pistol... fires at a silk hat... and the watch suddenly appears... intact... on the side of the hat!

IT'S FUN TO BE FOOLED... IT'S MORE FUN TO KNOW!

Here's a magic trick from cigarette advertising called "Cigarettes and Your Throat."

EXPLANATION: A cigarette has to use choice, ripe tobaccos to be easy on your throat.

Cheap, raw tobaccos are harsh and irritating. No "treatment" can do more than mask their rasping effect.

And there is an irritating dust, naturally present to some degree in all tobaccos. Camel removes this peppery dust by a special vacuum cleaning process.

And even more important is Camel's matchless blending and its more costly tobacco.

It is a fact, well known by leaf tobacco experts, that Camels are made from finer, more expensive tobaccos than any other popular brand. Choice tobaccos tell the best story of throat ease!
