KOLYNOS DENTAL CREAM

Let's Explore Your Mind

BY DR. ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. Sc.

1. DOES THE MODERN GIRL HAVE THE MORAL COURAGE HER GRANDMOTHER HAD?

2. IS IT OPTIMISTIC TO BELIEVE THAT ENVIRONMENT, RATHER THAN HEREDITY, IS THE MAIN INFLUENCE IN MAKING US WHAT WE ARE?

3. ARE HUSBANDS MORE OFTEN RESPONSIBLE THAN WIVES FOR THE LOSS OF ROMANCE AFTER MARRIAGE?

1. No. Courage is chiefly a habit and the modern girl does not have the training in moral courage habits her grandmother had. She is not as willing to go through poverty for her man, wash, iron and patch clothes for him and the children, face ridicule for his social or religious opinions and the like.

2. It is utterly fatalistic and pessimistic. If environment controls, then it means we are the helpless victims of fate, the footballs of chance, the will of the wisps of fortune.

3. Yes. Nearly all women maintain, and in many respects improve, the standards of dress, conduct, personal appearance and charm of pre-nuptial days.

But, also, many husbands take love and romance for granted after the nuptial ceremony and the gentle deference of the love is replaced with a careless gruffness, untidy clothes, and the sloughing off of these personal refinements which alone preserve the aura of romance.

Dr. Wiggam will be glad to answer questions dealing with problems of conduct, morals, beliefs, husband and wife, parent and child—any question in the field of human relationships. Questions of general interest will be answered in this department. If personal reply is desired, please stamp, (3c) self-addressed envelope. Address Dr. Wiggam in care of The Indianapolis Times.

LADIES—Dr. Wiggam will send upon request a specially devised set of questions and answers to be used as "conversation stimulators" at your next party. They create a world of fun and discussion. Don't forget, self-addressed return envelope.

New Version of Handel's 'Messiah' Will Be Sung

Avery Tudor Is Featured in the Floor Show Which Will Open an Engagement Tonight on Indiana Roof.

A NEW version of Handel's "Messiah" will be sung Sunday evening at the Tabernacle Presbyterian church by a choir of fifty voices. Solos, recitatives, a duet and choruses that are an integral part of the "Messiah," but which are usually eliminated due to the length of the work, will constitute the program.

It should be interesting to all lovers of music in as much as the larger part of the program will be sung for the first time in Indianapolis. The solo quartet consists of Mrs. Walter E. Wallace, soprano; Miss Patricia Kennedy, contralto; Perry M. Rush, tenor; Fred Newell Morris, bass and director, and Paul R. Matthews, organist.

NEW FLOOR SHOW OPENS ON THE ROOF

A new floor show and dance orchestra will be introduced on the Indiana Roof tonight.

The floor show, in which Avery Tudor of Ziegfeld Follies fame will be featured, is an Ivan Saranoff production. Incidentally, the first that he has produced since coming to Indianapolis a few months ago.

Saranoff, who has produced for the Publix, R-X-O and the National theaters, offers a variety program in which there will be a Tintype Eccentric by Jesse and Avery; a Jingle Tap by Marlene; a Nautch dance and blues singing by Bobbie Stevens; three chorus routines by the Saranoff Revue, and Tudor and Tudor's internationally famous Frog Run Around.

Dick Snyder and his Detroiters are the Roof's new musical attraction.

Since their last engagement here they have been featured over the NBC network from the Lotus Gardens, Cleveland, and have filled long term engagements in the Marigold Night Club, Rochester, New York, and the De Witt Restaurant, Syracuse, New York.

Their return here on the Roof's weekly waltz night will be timely since Snyder is billed "the waltz prince."

Tonight he will feature waltzes every other group, and on other evenings the waltz numbers will be played every fourth group.

Indianapolis theaters today offer: "Of Thee I Sing" with a splendid cast, afternoon and night at English's; "Whistling in the Dark" at the Palace; "Billion Dollar Scandal" at the Circle, Jim and Walt on the stage and "Face in the Sky" on the screen at the Lyric, Gene and Glenn on the stage and "Tonight Is Ours" on the screen at the Indiana, and "Hot Pepper" at the Apollo.

She wore a pink organdie dress over taffeta, with a long satin sash, a large pink straw hat, and carried a colonial bouquet of pink and white sweet peas and roses.

The bride was attractive in a white crepe dress, fashioned with a short train, and with puffed sleeves to the elbow and tight to the wrist. A tulle veil was caught up with a garland of orange blossoms. She wore a corsage of gardenias and sweet peas, and carried a white kid prayer book.

During the ceremony the church organist played a selection of bridal airs.
