

EIGHT-HOUR DAY FOR WOMEN IS URGED PASSED

Senate Committee Approves Bill: Egan Against Liberalization.

Passage of a bill for an eight-hour basic working day for women in industry will be recommended to the senate today by Judiciary C committee, of which Senator Chester A. Wilson (Dem., Ft. Wayne), is chairman.

This bill was introduced by Senator Fred A. Egan (Dem., Gary), who said he is hopeful that it will be passed by the senate without any liberalization of its provisions. Exceptions in favor of seasonal occupations, Egan said, already have been made, but further exceptions will be resisted.

Compromise on retention of the teacher tenure law is indicated by Senator Walter S. Chambers (Dem., Newcastle), who is prepared to offer an amendment to the pending Schrickler bill limiting tenure to cities having a population of more than 10,000.

Indianapolis and about twenty other cities, if the Chambers amendment is adopted, would retain tenure and all other schools units in Indiana would be exempt. Sharp debate is anticipated when the proposed change is presented.

Receiver Bill Hits Snag

Proposal by Senator J. Francis Lochard (Dem., Milan), to cure receivership evils struck a snag when a senate committee adopted a split report on Lochard's bill. Senators Druley and Dennigan today signed a minority report in favor of the measure and are prepared to argue against the majority report for indefinite postponement.

Lochard's bill applies to all suits for receivership where preferred stock and bonds are outstanding against property. In these cases, the bill provides the receiver shall be named by a majority of the security owners instead of the judge hearing the case.

Boost in fees for county sheriffs, wiping out reductions made at last summer's special session of the assembly, are provided in a bill to be reported favorably by a senate committee today.

For Reduced Pay

Senator George Sands (Dem., South Bend) and Senator Egan are co-authors of the measure under terms of which a sheriff can collect increased mileage for himself and his deputies for transportation of prisoners.

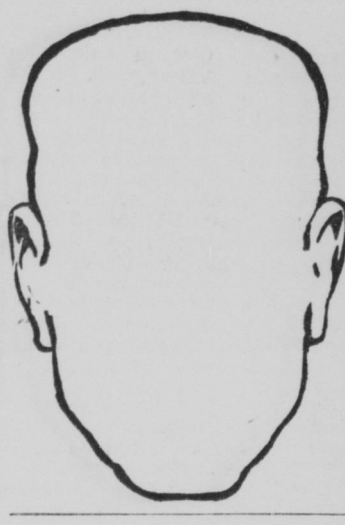

General reductions in salaries of public officials, put into effect last summer by the special session, would be continued until Jan. 1, 1936, by terms of a bill introduced Thursday by Senator Thurman A. Gottschalk (Dem., Berne).

Gottschalk is the senate's leader on the all-powerful budget committee which is drafting the biennial appropriation measure for all state institutions.

Brisk debate is expected today when a bill liberalizing divorces in Indiana is reported out favorably from committee. Residence of only one year, instead of two, as at present, is provided before divorce actions may be filed. Attempt to cut residence period down to only six months is anticipated.

DAYS OF YORE DISCUSSED BY OLD-TIMERS

More Than 300 Members of Kingan & Co. Club Hold Dinner.

Two decades and more of memories were recalled Thursday as more than 300 members of the Old Timers' club of Kingan and Company met at their first annual dinner in the company cafeteria, Maryland and Blackford streets.

Every member of the club had been in the employ of the company twenty years or more. James Sanders headed the list of old timers. He recently finished his sixtieth year with the company. Seven others present had been with the firm more than fifty years. They are: Charles O'Donnell, Chat Bryan, Michael Kinney, Horace Nutt, Mike Neimbo, George Hoffman, and Thomas Kililla.

The Reliable String quartet played old time music during the dinner hour. Members of the group were David Hoffman, Neal Waggoner, Virgil Jones, and Marvin Wells.

Following the meal, music, dancing, and speeches made up the entertainment.

William Moffett executed the old Irish dances, accompanied by Charles O'Donnell on the bagpipes. William B. Robinson, accompanied by Norman Robinson, sang two Irish airs, and Thomas G. Sinclair sang to his own accompaniment.

Other entertainers were Thomas Bruce, harmonica, and Robert Burrows, guitar; a string trio made up of Elmer Dunn, Frank Thomas, and John Darbo; and recitations by John McHugh.

E. F. Burrows, club president, presided. He introduced K. D. Sinclair of Belfast, Ireland; R. S. Sinclair, company president; John R. Kinghan, president of the board of directors; and A. C. Sinclair, vice president of the company.
