3-In-One Sweaters

Any one who goes in for active sports will like the sets of three bright colored, slipover sweaters, each in a different color and worn one over the other. Their crew necks are graduated in degrees of tightness, so the top of each sweater can be seen. The sleeves also vary in length, the under one being wrist length, the next three-quarter length and the top one above the elbow.

Bottled-Ship Lamps

Ships in bottles—beloved of children and marveled at by them—again are making smart ornaments for living rooms. And they have a new use. They're being made into lamps.
