

HIGHWAY PAY CUTS BLOCKED IN HOUSE VOTE

Bill Approved by Senate Advanced to Stage of Engrossment.

matter for the commission to decide. The amendment was lost on a voice vote.

Bill which would place the plant of the Indianapolis Power and Light Company, valued for taxation at $5,000,000, in Perry township, thus ending boundary dispute with Decatur township, was advanced to second reading in the house of representatives.

Tax on Holding Firms Asked

Majority of the committee on the affairs of Indianapolis reported the bill out "without recommendation." However, the report of Representative Bess Robbins (Dem., Indianapolis), that the measure be advanced, was approved.

Taxation of utility holding companies with fines for false value affidavits up to $25,000 is demanded in another measure introduced in the house.

Sponsored by Representatives John R. Jones (Dem., Plymouth) and James V. Kent (Dem., Hillsburg), the measure would require a "true, cash value assessment of the real and personal property of all resident or non-resident holding utility, or service companies."

Proposed fines for false affidavits to assessment officers would range from $5,000 to $25,000, to which might be added a year's imprisonment.

Would Raise Large Sum

The measure, Kent estimates, would raise from two to three million dollars in taxes, as holding companies are not now assessed.

That hardy perennial, a bill for blind relief, was introduced today by Representative Fred Galloway (Dem., Indianapolis). A tax levy of ten-tenths of one mill is provided for a relief fund, with alms solicitors and itinerant beggars prohibited from eligibility.

Relief would be limited to $40 monthly, provided the recipient's income did not exceed $1,000 annually.

The teachers' tenure law again will be permitted to rest quietly when the senate convenes this afternoon.

Amended so that its provisions retain tenure in all schools except those under township trustees, the bill may be allowed to die in the senate while a new bill abolishing tenure in all schools, with possible exception of those in the larger cities, is introduced in the house.

Officials of teachers' associations and others concerned with educational activities have lined up friends to defeat any attempt to wipe out entirely the tenure law, whether in house or senate.

Other Bills Up

Other bills scheduled for third reading and passage in the senate today include one to cut per diem allowances received by field examiners, one to eliminate surveyors in small counties, and one to make public officials pay the premiums on bonds required by law, instead of leaving this expense to taxpayers.

Other new house bills introduced today:

Authorize cities to charge rates for sewage disposal, providing for public hearings on rates; provide three months notice for withdrawal of building and loan funds; repeal the 1929 act releasing motorists' responsibility for injuries to guest passengers; classify canned goods in three grades as to quality; permit taxpayers whose taxes become due this year to work them out on county highways, and protect trademarked goods from price cutting.

BIRTH AID SENT BY HOSPITAL 47 MINUTES LATE

Five Calls Between 6 and 9 Fruitless, Is Charge of Father.

Complaint that medical aid from city hospital arrived forty-seven minutes after birth of a nine-and-a-half-pound son to Mrs. Bonnie Kennedy, 26, 1653 Eugene street, Sunday, was investigated today by hospital officials.

According to Earl Kennedy, father of the baby, an intern from the hospital called at 5 in the afternoon, but left after giving instructions to call the hospital, if necessary.

The hospital was telephoned five times between 6 and 9, the time of the birth, according to Kennedy. The doctor arrived at 9:47, more than half an hour after police had been notified and also had called the hospital.

Medical attention was given Mrs. Kennedy half an hour after the birth when neighbors called Dr. L. D. Bibler, a private physician. Dr. Bibler said today that Mrs. Kennedy and child were doing well.

In discussing the complaint, Dr. David L. Smith, in charge of the hospital's out-patient obstetric service, pointed out that 1,550 babies were delivered by the service staff in 1932.

"That number is nearly double the demand made in earlier years," Dr. Smith declared, "although we have no increase in personnel. The present financial condition of many families has led them to depend on other cases.

us when, in other years, the service of private physicians would have been retained."

Four interns are assigned to the obstetrical service at all times. Dr. Smith said, but the large number of cases makes it difficult to avoid delays.

"Either myself or Dr. John Kelly of the staff call on every mother whose child is delivered by the hospital out-patient obstetric service," Dr. Smith said. "Our visit is made either at the time of birth or shortly after with given chance to check on the work of the intern and to talk with the mother."

Dr. Charles R. Myers, hospital superintendent, said his investigation showed that the calls were received when all internes were out on other cases.

FUNDS OF HOME BANKS SLOW TO REACH OWNERS

Only Fraction of Money to Be Used Is Lent by System.

BY NED BROOKS
Times Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Although the federal home loan bank board has approved credit of $75,000,000 to home mortgage lending institutions, it is unable to say today how much of this actually has reached distressed home owners.

The $75,000,000, which the twelve regional banks have been authorized to lend to building and loan associations, savings banks and other institutions, represents only a fraction of the $1,200,000,000 originally planned for the home loan system.

Critics of the system in congress have charged that member institutions, which have availed themselves of their borrowing power, are using the funds to increase their liquidity rather than passing the money along to burdened home owners, the original purpose of the act.

Chairman Franklin Fort said he believed the money was going out rapidly to relieve distress, but added that the board had no reports from regional banks on which an accurate estimate could be based.

Mortgage lending institutions have been slow in joining the system and to date shock subscriptions total only slightly more than $10,000,000 of the total capitalization of $134,000,000.

Credit is extended to member institutions at approximately ten times the amount of their stock subscription. Loans are made at 40 per cent of the face of mortgages posted as collateral.

The board has undertaken a study of movements in various sections to forestall foreclosures. Should this movement, termed by Fort as an attempt to "make it impossible for holders of mortgages, even where no excuse exists for nonpayment to get their money," the lending of mortgage money will cease, he declared.

"With lenders showing unusual forbearance toward borrowers in arrears, any change in established methods of collecting debts would be wise because it would be certain to stop lending," he said.

IT'S FUN TO BE FOOLED ... IT'S MORE FUN TO KNOW

"The Burning Oven" is an old illusion which has played a leading rôle in cigarette advertising. Its modern name is "Heat Treatment."

EXPLANATION: All cigarette manufacturers use the heat-treating process.

Harsh, raw tobaccos require intensive processing under high temperatures. The more expensive tobaccos, which are naturally mild, call for only a moderate application of heat.

The first Camel cigarette was manufactured under the heat-treating process.

Every one of the billions of Camels produced since has received the necessary heat treatment. But remember that heat treatment never makes cheap, inferior tobacco good.

It is not in heat treatments, but in more costly tobaccos and matchless blending, that Camels find their appealing mildness and flavor.

It is a fact, well known by leaf tobacco experts, that Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand.

You sense this quality in the mildness...the distinctive flavor...of Camels.

More costly tobaccos and a matchless blend tell the story of Camel leadership in public confidence.

Try Camels. Judge them critically. Compare them with others for mildness, for throat-ease, for good taste. Key your taste to quality!

Camels come to you fresh and cool...in the air-tight, welded Humidor Pack that keeps dryness outside and freshness inside.
