

LAST FLOOD OF BILLS POURS ON STATE SENATE

School Fund Moratorium
Is Rushed Through,
Given to House.

Taking advantage of the last day to introduce new bills in the senate, unless rules are suspended, members late Tuesday afternoon offered thirty-one bills and one resolution.

One of the new bills, providing for a five-year moratorium on loans of school funds, was rushed through under suspension of the rules and referred to the house within a few minutes after introduction.

It is described as a measure to relieve counties from paying delinquent interest to the state's school fund, but it continues the county obligation to account for both interest and principal following the five-year extension period.

Bill Boosts Drivers' Fees
Bearing the stamp of the McNutt administration, a bill boosting fees for drivers' permits from 25 cents to $1 was introduced by Senator Harold L. Strickland (Dem., Hammond), and Senator Anderson Ketchum (Dem., Greensburg).

This bill, along with another sponsored by Ketchum, diverting half of the auto license fees to the state general fund, is a step in the new McNutt tax program.

Boards of tax adjustment, set up by the $1.50 limit law, will consist of four freeholders and three members of county councils, under terms of a bill introduced by Senator T. W. Druley (Dem., Boston).

Acts for Property Owners
Reinstatement of a former law giving owners one year to redeem property sold under terms of a delinquent mortgage was sponsored by Senator John Bright Webb (Dem., Indianapolis), and Senator Addison Drake (Dem., Fairbanks).

By a vote of 37 to 8, the senate passed a bill providing more stringent regulations for truck owners operating as contract carriers.

The public service commission will have jurisdiction over contract carriers similar to control over common carriers. Already having passed the lower house, this bill now goes to the Governor for approval.

Bills Are Smothered
Acting with a burst of speed, the senate sent two bills to indefinite postponement without a formal vote. One would have created a state chiropractic board and the other would have abolished the state industrial commission.

Reform in presidential ballots was approved by the senate and sent to the Governor for action. Names of the candidates for President and Vice-President would appear on both paper ballots and voting machines instead of the names of presidential electors.

The measure received unanimous vote.
