PROPERTY OWNERS TO FIGHT WIDENING PLAN

Judge Cox to Hear Evidence on New York Street Suit Monday.

Property owners Monday in circuit court will protest against widening of New York street from Noble street to the Big Four railroad. Judge Earl R. Cox will hear evidence on a petition opposing the project.

More than 40 per cent of the affected property owners are said to have signed the petition. The project was approved by the works board Feb. 15, setting the widening cost at $60,000. Protestors allege the project is not a public necessity, and that the works board had no authority to order the work.

'THIS IS HEADQUARTERS'

Mrs. Anna Peats

The switchboard announcement "police headquarters" came in soft, feminine tones today after the inauguration of a new system by Chief Mike Morrissey.

In order to increase manpower on the streets, Morrissey called in four policewomen from duty and assigned them to the board. It formerly was handled by male members of the force.

The policewomen, including Mrs. Anna Peats, who "manned" the first shift on the board, underwent a training course at the Indiana Bell Telephone Company.

PUBLIC SERVICE BOARD ON JOB

Cry for Utility Rate Cut Renewed as Commission Assumes Duties.

New members of the public service commission, named under the reorganization law, assumed duties today, with the public awaiting for the promised "new deals."

Governor Paul V. McNutt kept his pledge of abolishing the complete personnel of the old commission, but the public clamor continues for reduced rates.

It has been pointed out that only utility rates remain at or near the 1929 price levels.

Those now charged with bringing them down are Perry McCarty, Public Service chairman; Moir Cook, Logansport, commissioner; and Samuel Trabue, Rushville, commissioner.

The latter two, with Sherman Minton, New Albany, as the newly created "people's counsel," were appointed by McNutt when he signed the commission "ripper bill" Thursday.

Commissioners Ralph Young and Howell Ellis were retired. They are Republicans. The new law required one Republican be appointed, so McNutt named Cook. Logansport residents say he was a "McNutt Republican" in the November campaign.

Mrs. Florence C. Winkler Is Appointed Secretary to Kruse.

The office was being conducted by the two assistant district attorneys, Alexander G. Cavins and Telford B. Orison, pending formal appointment of Val Nolan, Evansville, slated for the post.

Mrs. Winkler, whose appointment to the new post was announced in a telegram from Washington today, is the wife of George L. Winkler, former sheriff and former local federal prohibition administrator, now an inspector in the federal alcohol permit service.

WHISKY SALES FOR MEDICINE IN TWO WEEKS

Federal Red Tape to Delay Issuing of Permits by State Doctors.

Signing of the Wright "bone dry" law repeal by Governor Paul V. McNutt started governmental wheels rolling today toward medicinal whisky sales, but federal officials indicated no medicinal whisky would be available here before ten days or two weeks.

The usual governmental "red tape" is involved in obtaining permits. It was explained that druggists seeking permits to dispense medicinal whisky must write to the supervisor of permits in Chicago, obtain and fill out an application blank.

The blank then is sent to Chicago and the applicant investigated by local permit inspectors who report back to the Chicago office. After the permit to sell is obtained, an application to purchase the whisky must be obtained and another permit issued.

Permits Number Unlimited

Physicians wishing to issue whisky permits must make application in the same way, direct to the supervisor at Chicago. The number of permits which may be issued by physicians is unlimited.

Physicians and dentists are permitted to have six quarts of whisky in their offices each year for treating patients.

Permits may be issued to an individual only once in ten days, and must be filled within three days.

No Orders by Mail

Druggists may purchase any amount of medicinal whisky they wish, but if the amount exceeds sixty gallons they must provide bond. They must have been in business two years to obtain a permit.

Wallace Buchanan, postal superintendent of mails, today warned that no advertisement of whisky or order solicitation is permitted by mail, under existing postal regulations. This law has not been changed by congress, he said.
