

Guild Adds New Work to Activity

St. Vincent's Board to Meet Wednesday at President's Home.

New projects continue to be added to the activities of the St. Vincent's hospital guild, whose board will meet Wednesday at the home of the president, Mrs. Ellard B. Duane, 4053 Ruckle street, for a business meeting and luncheon.

Members visited the Polk Sanitary Milk Company today to inspect the plant and hear an educational lecture. The second of a series of Red Cross classes in home nursing and care of sick will open tonight.

Miss Ruth Zinkam, instructor in the nurses' training school, is in charge. Various doctors on the hospital staff will give supplementary lectures. Mrs. Fred Thomas is in charge of organization of classes, which are open to the public.

Three honorary members have been named by the guild. They are the Rt. Rev. Bishop Joseph Chartrand, Sister Roes and Sister Mary Josephine, both of the hospital.

The guild membership now consists of 129 active members, one life member, and the three honorary members.

Y. W. C. A. GROUP

WILL HOLD PARTY

Members of the industrial department of Central Y. M. C. A. will give a St. Patrick's party Friday night in the social hall.

Special musical features will include accordion solos by Miss Leona Bentley and a group of songs by Misses Sylvia Townsley and Lucille Anderson. Juanita McMaster and Rosemetta Divinell, members of the Y. W. C. A. children's dancing classes, taught by Miss Vonda Browne, will give a tap dance.

Music will be furnished by Jimmy Richard's Collegians. Decorations will be in green and white, using the shamrock motif.

Miss Georgia McMaster is general chairman, and will be assisted by the following program committee: Misses Nell Fleener, Juanita McCabe, Bernice Goss, Elizabeth Folger, Helen Anderson, Helen Campbell, Tillie Socher, Rose McAninch, Mickey Hoffman, Dora McMaster, Viola Burgess, Marie Bess, Sylvia Brewer and Mrs. Smith. Contract Bridge

BY W. E. M'KENNEY Secretary American Bridge League

IT was a long journey from St. Petersburg, Fla., to Syracuse, N. Y., to attend the first annual Central New York championship tournament, but it was a splendid tournament and many new bridge stars were discovered during the play.

Frequently the most interesting hands of a tournament are difficult to write about, due to the fact that they do not bring out any particular point or lesson.

However, hand No. 11, played in the final round of the contract pair championship, which was won by Mr. and Mrs. Melville Greene, proved to be the most unusual hand of the tournament.

When the tournament was over every one was arguing as to how the hand should be bid.

The Bidding

South was the dealer and opened the bidding in every case with one spade. What to do with the West hand was a problem.

A great many players doubled. North passed, and in every case where West had doubled, East, his partner, led the double stand.

South opened with one spade. Strough's partner in the West bid two spades. North passed and Strough bid two no trump.

West bid three diamonds, Strough now bid three hearts and West carried the contract to four hearts, which South doubled. Strough proceeded to make an extra trick, doubled for top score on the board.

Without the double by West, perhaps the best bidding on the hand would be for South to open with one spade and West to overcall with three diamonds.

East then would bid three no trump and West would have to show his second suit and bid four hearts, which would become the final contract.

Visitor to City Is Honored at Bridge Party

Mrs. Morris Grammer of Lafayette, who is the house guest of Mrs. Roy Stebbing, 244 West Forty-third street, was honor guest at a bridge party given Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. James P. Martin, at her home, 4715 Kenwood avenue.

Mrs. Martin was assisted by her mother, Mrs. Cora Myers, and her sister, Mrs. Lester Moorman.

Guests included Mesdames John Stewart, Cecil Prater, A. Jack Tison, James Andrus, Vivian Hewlette, John Parr, Frank Tracy, Champ Pritchette, Paul Calvin, Miss Minnie Ellen Peck and Miss Thelma Kinsey.

BRIGHTWOOD CLUB LUNCHEON IS HELD

Members of the Brightwood Literary Club were entertained Wednesday noon with a luncheon at the home of Mrs. William Tyner, 614 West Thirty-first street.

Decorations and favors were green and white and the program included papers read by Mrs. George Newmeyer, Mrs. Herman Withers and Mrs. Laura Moore.

A surprise housewarming was given Mrs. Tyner by the group and a treasure hunt taken. Mrs. Fred Jergensmeier, club president, was in charge of the program.

The April meeting of the club will be held at the home of Mrs. Grover D. Slider, 2211 Station street.
