

BEER NOT TO BE SERVED BY WOMEN CLUBS

More Hope Quenching of Thirst Offered Society Golfers.

BY BASIL GALLAGHER

Beer and skittles will not be substituted generally for pink tea and the softer beverages by Indianapolis club women when brew becomes legal after April 7.

A survey of the bridge and social clubs in town disclosed that a foaming glass of Pilsener or Schlitz has no appeal for women who gather to play contract or discuss social problems.

A single exception to the general feminine tendency to frown upon serving beer in clubs was the sentiment expressed at the Knickerbocker Bridge Club where Mrs. A. R. Coffin, hostess, said:

"We're not dry here. That's one thing sure. We will not serve beer in the club because the cost of the license will be too high. Individual members may bring their own beer if they wish and keep it here."

Sentiment Is Shown

The wet or dry sentiments of some of the other clubs are:

Mrs. R. O. McAlexander, Women's Department Club: "We will not serve beer. We have too many members who still cling to the dry tradition."

Mrs. W. H. Hodgson, Municipal Gardens Club: "No beer served here. There is a general prejudice against it among the sixty members."

Propylaeum Club: "No beer will be served. No desire for it among the 500 members."

The alcoholic traditions of hard-riding horsemen apparently will not be upheld at the Arlington Riding Club, where it was said today that beer probably would not be served at the club house.

At the country clubs prospects looked brighter for the disciples of Sir John Falstaff.

Country Club to Serve

The Indianapolis Country Club not only will serve beer, but will welcome its return with a rousing reception planned tentatively for April 8.

The Avalon Country Club has applied for a license, and will start dispensing as soon as possible. This also is the situation at the Highland Golf Club.

At the Meridian Hills Country Club, A. P. Hitz said: "Our club is known all over the country as a dry club. Not enough interest in the beer question has been shown to even warrant a meeting to decide the question."

The Broadmoor and the Woodstock Clubs are still in the throes of debate on the burning question and will announce their policies later.

NEA

Miss Henrietta Pirrung, above, St. Louis heiress, is charged by Mrs. Helen W. Grogan of New York with stealing the latter's husband, Oscar Grogan, Mrs. Grogan asked $100,000 in an alienation suit.

CHURCH WILL HOLD ANNUAL KITE TOURNEY

Tabernacle Presbyterian to Put on Yearly Event, April 8.

The Tabernacle Presbyterian church will give the robins in the vicinity of the state fairground a thrill at 9 Saturday, April 8, when the annual kite tourney is held.

The tourney is open to any boy who will register two days before the event.

Each kite must be home made. Material can be obtained from J. B. Martin at the Tabernacle church office without cost. There is no age limit or entrance fee.

Ten kite-flying events are scheduled with prizes in each event. The grand prize will go to the kite which cuts down the most opponents in the last hour of the tournament.

Other events are: Kite up first to 500 feet, kite up first to 1,000 feet, most unique kite, smallest, largest and prettiest kites.

FERTILIZER IS READY

Unemployed Men Organized to Do Work by Emergency Committee.

"Indas," the fertilizer produced by the board of sanitary engineers for enriching the soil of yards and gardens, may be obtained by Indianapolis citizens this spring from the emergency work committee, 310 North Meridian street.

Unemployed men, trained in the use of the new fertilizer, have been organized to do the work.

CANDY SHOPS REFUSE AID TO 'APRIL FOOLING'

Soap and Rubber Bon-Bon Offers Not Available at Stores.

Candy shops of Indianapolis refuse to be co-respondents in divorce suits by supplying April Fool's sweets garnished in chocolate and with an underlying layer of soap, cotton, rubber, cayenne pepper and what-nots.

Not a prominent candy caterer in the downtown area is showing April Fool's bon-bons.

One Circle shop promised to fill a special order in "bon-bons only and not chocolates" for Saturday's consumption and hard-feelings.

The plant of the stores is that they do not approve of soap chips masquerading in the guise of gum-drops.

"And we couldn't put the April Fool's candy up in our own boxes, even if we did make up a special order. You know you can't tell how people are going to take it," one shop vouched.

But if the city wits just must have their rubberized and peppered chocolates, they'll find a wide variety of edibles in disguise at two novelty shops.

Rubber pretzels, vulcanized hot-dogs, soapy gum-drops and chocolates can be had at prices ranging from 10 to 25 cents.

Bogus chewing gum, trick cigars, and other gadgets of the snap-and-hit-you-in-the-face variety also are on display.

Government scientists have made weather tests in cotton fields, to show cotton growers how soon cotton bolls should be picked to avoid lowering of the grade from weather effects.

4 FIRE ALARMS COSTLY PRANK

Sirens Scream on North Side: All Over an Inane Trick.

This is of interest to those of you on the north side who were awakened by the scream of police and fire sirens shortly after 3 this morning. The reason was four false alarms in thirty minutes.

The first alarm came from Forty-sixth street and Guilford avenue where two men in a coupe called from a fire box; the second at Park avenue and Thirty-sixth street; the third at Park and Thirty-second street and the last at Illinois and Thirty-third streets.

Screaming of the sirens continued and increased as additional companies answered each of the call boxes. Four squads of police joined the general din.

Two men, halted by fire officials and police at Thirty-fourth street and Central avenue, were released after questioning.

The false alarms cost the city hundreds of dollars.

TREAT CHILD FOR BITE

Wounded by Negro Girl, 12, Said to Be Feeble Minded.

Ida May Decker, 11, Terre Haute, was treated at city hospital Thursday for a wound on the right hand inflicted when she was bitten by a 12-year-old Negro girl, said by her parents to be feeble minded.

The Decker child was injured while at a warehouse where her parents were attending a sale.

WOUNDED MAN STILL MISSING

Hoodlum's Whereabouts Are Unknown: Shot by Two Gunmen.

Art Dampier, Indianapolis hoodlum shot Wednesday night when two unidentified gunmen invaded the Madison lunch, 3259 Madison avenue, still is missing today.

Bartender at the resort, Dampier was shot when he started toward the gunmen in defiance of their command to "stick 'em up." He was taken away by two bystanders before police and deputy sheriffs arrived.

Ralph Hiatt, Frank and Rose Poleni, who were in the lunchroom during the shooting and are charged with vagrancy, were released on bond Thursday. Their cases were continued to April 7 in municipal court.

MECHANIC LATE: TRIES TO STEAL LOCOMOTIVE

Hard-Hearted Detective Thwarts Elmer's Ambition.

ATLANTIC CITY, March 31.—Elmer Goodman, 32, of Philadelphia, was in a hurry to get back to his home town. He was trying to start a locomotive in the Pennsylvania railroad yards at 4:30 a. m. when a railroad detective interrupted.

"Go away," Elmer protested. "I am a mechanic and I know how to start engines. I've got to get to work. I'm not going to be a fool, with ten million people out of work."

He was fined $10 for disorderly conduct. Unable to pay it, he went to jail for five days.
