

EX-POLICEMAN'S BOND RAISED IN SCANLAN CASE

Action Is Taken as Defense Rests; State Offers Rebuttal Evidence.

Bond of Melvin Lee Hindman, former policeman, defense witness and co-defendant with James C. Scanlan, auto dealer accused of fraudulent sales conspiracy, today was raised from $1,000 to $7,000 in criminal court by Clyde Karrer, special judge.

Karrer raised the bond on the plea of state's attorneys who pointed out that Hindman no longer an Indianapolis resident and now resides in Traverse City, Mich.

The defense rested at noon today and the state in rebuttal offered the testimony of Miss Elmer Taylor employee of the Consolidated Finance Company, which showed Hindman had signed a contract last June 2 with her company and had made payments on it.

Hindman Is Grilled

This evidence was intended to show that Hindman was in the habit of signing contracts for Scanlan as testimony Wednesday showed he signed a contract last June 14 with the Associate Finance Company of South Bend.

Grilled by Floyd Mattice, chief deputy prosecutor, Wednesday afternoon, Hindman testified he never had license plates for the automobile received from Scanlan.

The state contended in its case that Hindman signed a sales contract for purchase of a car from Scanlan, enabling Scanlan to discount the contract with a finance company, but that the car never existed.

Hindman Is Questioned

Hindman, who still was on the stand at adjournment Wednesday, was questioned closely by Mattice regarding the transaction. The witness testified that he signed the contract in blank, and although signing an application for registration, never received a certificate of title or license plates.

The witness testified that license plates on the car, which he used for four months, were dealer's license plates borrowed from another company.

" Didn't you know that it is against the law for a car owner to use dealer plates longer than fifteen days?" Mattice questioned.

No," Hindman replied.

Links Other Officers

Hindman also disclaimed knowledge of the law relating to registration of automobiles.

Other unnamed police officers were linked in the case by testimony of C. H. Spencer, Associates Investment Company employee, who related a conversation which took place when Scanlan was asked regarding the manner in which signatures were obtained on bogus sales contracts.

"I have many friends, especially in the police department, and they signed the contracts," Spencer said Scanlan replied.

The case was expected to go to the jury late today.

POLICE SCHOOL OPENS

35 Members of State Force Start on 3-Day Training Course.

Thirty-five state policemen began a three-day period of intensive training today when the first state police school was opened by Al Feeney, superintendent of the state safety department.

The quota represents half the force, the other half to take similar instruction later, Feeney said. Classes will cover all phases of police work.

HELD FOR GRILLING IN JONES KILLING

Upper—Eddie (Foggy) Dean and Willard Kelly.

Lower—Richard Keller.

Detectives refused Wednesday to state whether Eddie (Foggy) Dean, one of nine men held in connection with the machine-gun murder of Police Sergeant Lester E. Jones, had made a statement in the course of questioning following his incarceration here Tuesday after being returned from Louisville, Ky.

Dean, former local roadhouse proprietor, was arrested at Louisville with Richard Keller and Willard Kelly, both of Indianapolis. Previously six other men had been taken into custody.

Grilled by Floyd Mattice, chief deputy prosecutor, Wednesday afternoon, Hindman testified he never had license plates for the automobile received from Scanlan.

The state contended in its case that Hindman signed a sales contract for purchase of a car from Scanlan, enabling Scanlan to discount the contract with a finance company, but that the car never existed.

Hindman, who still was on the stand at adjournment Wednesday, was questioned closely by Mattice regarding the transaction.

The witness testified that he signed the contract in blank, and although signing an application for registration, never received a certificate of title or license plates.

The witness testified that license plates on the car, which he used for four months, were dealer's license plates borrowed from another company.

" Didn't you know that it is against the law for a car owner to use dealer plates longer than fifteen days?" Mattice questioned.

No," Hindman replied.

Links Other Officers

Hindman also disclaimed knowledge of the law relating to registration of automobiles.

Other unnamed police officers were linked in the case by testimony of C. H. Spencer, Associates Investment Company employee, who related a conversation which took place when Scanlan was asked regarding the manner in which signatures were obtained on bogus sales contracts.

"I have many friends, especially in the police department, and they signed the contracts," Spencer said Scanlan replied.

The case was expected to go to the jury late today.

POLICE SCHOOL OPENS

35 Members of State Force Start on 3-Day Training Course.

MILLIKAN NOT DIRECTOR

Sued By Bank on Accommodation Notes; Story In Error

Frank M. Millikan stated today he was not a director or stockholder of the defunct J. F. Wild & Company state bank as stated in The Times Wednesday. Millikan was sued by the bank's receiver on accommodation notes given prior to the bank's closing.

The quota represents half the force, the other half to take similar instruction later, Feeney said.

Classes will cover all phases of police work.

EFROYMSON'S

918 to 926 SOUTH MERIDIAN STREET

Another Great Purchase!

FRIDAY and SATURDAY
2 DAYS ONLY!

HOSIERY

SALE
3,000 PAIRS

Pure Silk Top to Toe

Full Fashioned

Selected Seconds

(Certified Fresh Silk)

Finest 42 and 45-gauge

sheerest, chiffons and service

weights. Newest colors. Sizes 8 1/2 to 10.

SELECTED SUBSTANDARDS

33¢
Pr.

Certified Fresh Silk

LIMIT 6 PRS. TO ONE CUSTOMER

No matter where you live, come to this sale.

Open Saturday Night
Until 9 o'clock

EFROYMSON'S

918 to 926 South Meridian Street

Ride the New Trackless Trolleys

They Stop in Front of Our Door

NEW TROUBLES FACE PUZZLED ANDERSON

Mellett Names City Attorney in Latest Move.

By Times Special

ANDERSON, Ind., April 27.—Anderson's two-way city administration faced another complication today with appointment of Philip O'Neill as city attorney, by Jesse H. Mellett, who is seeking to regain the mayoralty post.

Mr. O'Neill, who represents Mellett in his legal action to oust Harry R. Baldwin as mayor, is a close friend of Mellett. Many claims that O'Neill is succeeding Harry Neff, who Mellett fired as city attorney.

On another occasion, when Mrs. Roosevelt started out from the White House for tea with Ruth Bryan Owen, minister to Denmark, Meggie darted out in full pursuit.

Mrs. Roosevelt did not want the dog to accompany her, but it took a sizeable contingent of White House policemen to prevent it.

Meggie has shown extreme interest in the statesmen who have visited the White House and cultivates their acquaintance at every opportunity.

With two city attorneys, the city now has two contenders for the mayoralty post as well as two seeking the controller's job and the position of chairman of the city works board.

Like a Hawk

Irish Mary Watches Over Welfare of Cardinal Hayes and Home.

By NEA Service

NEW YORK, April 27.—It was not of herself that old Irish Mary, Cardinal Hayes' competent housekeeper for thirty years, thought as she lay very ill with pneumonia.

Just before they administered sedatives before tapping her lungs, old Mary called in the maid left in charge. "If I should be sicker in the morning," she said, "her rich Irish brogue sunk to a feeble whisper. "I don't forget to make the Cardinal wear his heavy winter overcoat when he goes out. He'll catch cold sure, if he does not."

One of the Cardinal's favorite stories is about old Mary, whose devotion to his welfare is practically an obsession and often affords him much kindly amusement.

On a strict diet at one time, the Cardinal served strawberry shortcake with whipped cream to two priests who were dining with him. He decided that one little piece wouldn't hurt him.

But he reckoned without old Mary. She was just outside the door, peeking. Before he could take a bite, she strode indignantly into the room.

"Now Your Eminence, you know you can't have that," she scolded. And she took his plate right away from him and carried it out into the kitchen.

COUNTY TO GET $17,152

Indiana Railroad System to Pay First Installment of Taxes.

Marion county Monday will receive $17,152.66 in first installment of 1932 taxes from the Indiana Railroad System, which comprises lines of the Indiana Railroad, Public Service Company of Indiana and Indiana Service Corporation. The sum is part of $65,553 to be divided among twenty-two Indiana counties.

Girl Falls From Truck, Killed

By United Press

SPENCER, Ind., April 27.—Carol Lee Slivka, 5, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Slivka, Flora, was killed Wednesday when she fell from a truck driven by her father.

THE INDIANAPOLIS TIMES

62 INDICTED BY FEDERAL GRAND JURY

Former Officer of State Guard Is Charged With Embezzlement.

Lieutenant-Colonel Robert T. Young, former disbursing officer for the Indiana National Guard, was among the sixty-two persons indicted by the federal grand jury Wednesday.

Young, who disappeared from the statehouse when federal auditors came to examine his books, was arrested in Miami, Fla., and brought back to Indianapolis recently. He is charged with embezzlement of government funds. He was not an officer of the regular army.

All defendants indicted by the grand jury now are in jail or at liberty under bond and will be arraigned before Judge Robert C. Baltzell Saturday morning.

Indicted on liquor charges in the Indianapolis division are Paris Ogden, R. R. 5, Box 489; George Lyster, 4238 Madison avenue; George Chittenden, 3320 Madison avenue; George Dion, William F. Kirk, John Sims and Lawrence Sims.

Carlton C. Bennett and Daniel W. Weller, both of Jeffersonville, are among those indicted on charges of counterfeiting. Bennett, according to government agents, was arrested with a large quantity of bogus money in his possession, which Weller, it is charged, helped him make.

Two women, Margaret M. alias Mary Anne Woods, and Katherine Murphy, alias Mabel C. Harris, both of Terre Haute, were indicted on a charge of possessing narcotics. Marion B. Rutherford was charged with forging a government check.

In the Evansville district, Herman Brandenburg and Walter Schrammer were charged with robbery of a postoffice. Clarence Dosch and Leeman Everett were charged with counterfeiting and James and Roy Culver with theft of goods in interstate commerce.

TWO-COLOR JOB

CHICAGO COPS CLUB TEACHERS IN LOOP RIOT

Woman Knocked Down in Street as Crowd Surges Upon Banks.

By United Press

CHICAGO, April 27.—Unpaid policemen clubbed women school teachers to the pavements Wednesday as two desperate "depression armies" met in physical combat when the teachers launched new "raids" on loop banking institutions.

The teachers, on spring vacation, swarmed into the loop by thousands to demand the $30,000,000 due them in back salaries.

Unpaid for months, the teachers were desperate. Hundreds centered their attack on the First National bank and the Chicago Title and Trust Company, chanting "pay you taxes" and "we want food" or "we want our money."

As the wave of angry teachers surged on the banks, the unpaid policemen went into action. Officers began wielding nightsticks. Women screamed. Five teachers fainted. Two fell to the pavement under blows from the clubs.

Regular police claimed later that all the stick-wielding had been done by special bank officers.

HONEY FOUND IN COTTAGE

SWANSEA, Mass., April 27.—When Preston H. Gardner opened his summer home here, he found more than fifty pounds of fresh honey made by bees that had lived in the roof boards.

SNOW HEAVY IN NORTHERN N. Y.

Driving Storm Sweeps Into Buffalo: Streams Are Frozen.

By Times Special

BUFFALO, N. Y., April 27.—Northern New York lay under a blanket of snow today.

A driving snowstorm swept Buffalo Wednesday afternoon. At Niagara Falls and Jamestown the fall was heavy.

Streams were frozen over in the Jamestown area and smaller communities reported sizeable drifts along the highways and in the fields.

I SEE YOU SMOKE CAMELS, TOO—

YES—THEIR MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCO'S TASTE GREAT

CAMEL'S COSTLIER TOBACCO'S DO TASTE BETTER

MILLER-WOHL'S

GIGANTIC 20th

Anniversary Sale

Organdy Blouses

The $1 Kind—Our Gift to You

Many styles in the new summer shades. Short and long bows. A super-gift at

79¢

Fur Fabric Jackets

$2.98

Silver and black only. They're all the rage in Indianapolis now—our gift to you.

Two-Piece Suits

Thrilling Birthday Bargains
Every One Truly a Gift