

DEATH CLAIMS OLD SHOWMAN

End Comes to George Hoagland at Franklin After Operation.

By United Press
FRANKLIN, Ind., April 28.—George W. Hoagland, 54, showman and one of the founders of the Hoagland hippodrome, died here Thursday after an operation.

Private funeral services will be held Saturday.

Survivors include the widow, Mrs. Lina Nation Hoagland; three brothers, Edgar and John, of Johnson county, and Henry of Washington, and three sisters.

Family Dies to Avoid Disgrace of Jail for Wife in Foshay Jury Fraud

By United Press
JORDAN, Minn., April 28.—Mrs. Genevieve Clark, 38, whose insistence on acquittal deadlocked the jury in the notorious Foshay mail fraud case, was found dead with her husband, two children, 10 and 7, in their parked automobile near here Thursday night.

Mrs. Clark and her husband apparently had decided to wipe out their family rather than undergo the ignominy of jail for the wife and mother.

A section of garden hose ran from the automobile's exhaust pipe into the sedan in which the bodies were discovered.

MRS. CLARK was sentenced to jail for contempt of court because she won a place as a juror in the Foshay trial without revealing that she was a former employee of the Foshay enterprises.

Her husband, D. D. Clark, went into debt in an attempt to keep her out of jail, but her last appeal had failed.

The suicide of Clarks added another episode to the spectacular rise and fall of the Foshay enterprises.

W. B. Foshay began his promotion with a few thousand dollars shortly after the World war.

THE enterprise was pyramided into a $20,000,000 system stretching from coast to coast. The peak of Foshay's success came just before the terrific market crash of 1929.

in Minneapolis, tallest structure in the city.

The shaft, modeled after the Washington monument, was widely publicized. High Washington officials participated in its dedication in August, 1929.

Two months later, the Foshay enterprise crashed with a loss of millions to investors.

Foshay and half a dozen of his aids were indicted on federal mail fraud charges.

Mrs. Clark was selected as a juror in the first trial. The jury was unable to agree, standing 11 to 1 for conviction, with Mrs. Clark's vote the only one registered for acquittal.

GOVERNMENT prosecutors revealed she had once been employed in a Foshay company.

Her husband had been president of a Foshay-controlled bank. They charged she concealed these facts when chosen for jury duty.

She made the defense that she did not know the information was pertinent.

Further investigation showed her name had not been on the regular panel of juries.

Prosecuted for contempt of court, Mrs. Clark fought the cause to the United States supreme court which turned down her last appeal. She was ordered to report Monday for a six months jail sentence. When she failed to appear, a search began which ended last night.

W. B. Foshay still is at liberty while his attorneys fight his conviction at a second trial.

He is at Colorado Springs, Colo.,

directing a small stone company. Other officers of the firm pleaded guilty.

EYE OPERATION FULL SUCCESS

Effort to Save Child's Life Ordered in Time by Court, Is Report.

By United Press
NEW YORK, April 28.—The operation to save the life of 2-year-old Helen Vasko, center of a bitter legal controversy, was "entirely successful," the Academy of Medicine has announced.

The malignant growth in her eye, which medical authorities said would soon kill her, had not reached the optic nerve prior to the operation, the announcement said.
