

BOSTON TABOO ROUTS UNCLAD BRONZE BATHERS

Noted Morals Code Drives Work of Art From Public Garden.

By United Press
BOSTON. May 24.—Nude bathing is taboo in Boston—whether the bathers be flesh and blood, or mere bronze.

This latest interpretation of the traditional Boston code of public morals has been made by park commissioners. William P. Long today through his banning of the fountain group, "Wind and Spray."

Showing five unclothed figures—three girls and two young men dancing in a ring-around-the-rosy fashion in the spray of a fountain this work by Mrs. Anna Coleman Ladd of Boston reposed in a shallow pool in the public garden just for two days.

"Wind and Spray" is one of several of Mrs. Ladd's works on display in the public garden. Critics have pronounced it her best work. The original is said to be in Chicago.

LOWER RATES ON AIR MAIL PLAN PRAISED

Kansan Says Government Can Make More Money Under Scheme.

By Scripps-Howard Newspaper Alliance
WASHINGTON, May 24.—The government can make money by reducing the rates on air mail. Representative W. A. Ayres (Dem., Kan.) declared.

Representative Ayres has introduced a bill to make air mail rates 5 cents for each ounce or fraction thereof. Senator Gerald P. Nye of North Dakota has gathered the same bill in the senate. Response, particularly from the midwest, has been enthusiastic.

"Since air mail is carried on yearly contracts, which everybody acknowledges are subsidies," Representative Ayres said, "it is not going to cost the government any more to reduce the rate. The increased use of air mail, on the other hand, will make this service cost the government less."

Ayres has long been in favor of reduced postage rates.

He was the first to acknowledge the failure of the 3-cent postage rate on regular first class mail as a revenue producer, and introduced the first bill to lower the cost to 2 cents.

The bill recently passed reducing local first class mail to 2 cents and empowering the President to reduce all other rates. If he sees fit means we will soon be back to 2 cents per letter basis, Representative Ayres declares.

HUGE SHELL IS FOUND

Remnant of Ancient Sea Monster Lifted From Pacific.

By Science Service
SAN DIEGO, Cal., May 24.—A huge fossil shell, weighing about 150 pounds, was found recently on Point Loma, the headland that guards the entrance to San Diego harbor, and has been acquired by the San Diego Society of Natural History for its museum in Balboa park.

The shell is of an ammonite, one of a race of huge mollusks related to the modern nautilus and squid, that a million years ago dominated the seas. The find was made by C. V. Robinson of Santa Ana, Cal.

OLD AUTOS FORM JETTY

New Use for "Junkers" Is Discovered in Montana.

By United Press
BROADUS, Mont., May 24.—A new use for junked automobiles has been discovered in Broadus. Engineers are using them to reinforce a jetty being constructed along the Powder river.

The jetty is one of several structures being erected to divert the course of the river through a central channel, and to halt river bank erosion.

BEER LICENSE NOT 'PROPERTY,' COURT RULES

Judge Hands Down Decision
During Receivership Hearing.

There are no property rights in a beer license. Superior Judge William A. Pickens ruled today, the first decision of its kind since legal beer sales began.

However, the decision did not help Pickens solve the problem of disposing of a license which came into the court's possession at a receivership hearing.

"There can't be any property rights in a license to sell beer," Pickens said. "The license is personal and not transferable."

The license to sell 3.2 beer was part of the property of the Barcelona Cafe, 116 East Maryland street, now in receivership.

"Maybe you can sell it with permission of state authorities," Pickens told Jack Tilson, attorney, and receiver for the cafe.

The court dodged possession of

MRS. RALSTON OFFERED POST BY GOV. M'NUTT

New Stir Caused Among Democratic Women Who Got No Jobs.

Confirmation by Governor Paul V. McNutt of the report that he had tendered a prominent position in his administration to Mrs. Samuel M. Ralston today again caused a stir among Democratic women.
They have contended that they didn't draw a fair share in the awards.

R. Earl Peters, Democratic state chairman, now is cast in the role of champion of the women's cause.
Mrs. A. P. Flynn, Logansport, state vice-chairman and leader in the lo-ing patronage fight, conferred with him at the Claypool headquarters Tuesday.

She was scheduled to see the Governor today.

Meanwhile, women critics contend that they already are in the role of Old Mother Hubbard, and that anything they draw now will be from a cupboard that's bare.

Only full-time important state-house commission membership which has not yet been named is the state industrial board. The Governor previously announced that no woman would be placed there, and indicated that he intended to abolish the auxiliary department of women and children, always manned by women.
