

FEDERAL TAX LAW REVISION SEEN CERTAIN

Next Session to Bring On Necessary Action, Says
Senator.

BY LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 20.—Wholesale revision of federal tax laws to equalize the burden among the millions of contributors to the federal treasury was proposed today by Senator William H. King (Dem., Utah), chairman of the Senate finance subcommittee charged with investigation of the revenue laws.

King told the United Press that while he called "leaks" such as were revealed by investigation of the J. P. Morgan & Co. partners, none of whom paid income taxes in 1931 and 1932, had demonstrated the necessity for general revision of the tax laws.

A hodge-podge of emergency tax legislation is on the statute books. Congress spent months last year in an effort to balance the budget with a combination of special sales taxes and income tax increases.

Revision Is Looming

The treasury continued to spend more than was collected, and the session just ended extended so-called nuisance taxes for another year and devised new emergency levies to amortize the administration's $3,300,000,000 public works program.

King's committee will undertake to lay the foundation for more equitable taxation. His colleagues are Senators La Follette (Rep., Wis.); Reed (Rep., Pa.); Barkley (Dem., Ky.), and Byrd (Dem., Va.). King said congress can not escape general revision of the revenue law next session.

He said it might not be possible to obtain a meeting of the full subcommittee, but that he would proceed alone within the next fortnight to get the inquiry under way.

"It is my hope that we will be able to get rid of most of the nuisance taxes enacted in the emergency revenue act of 1932," he said. "That could be done either by increasing income taxes, or by means of a general sales tax."

Likes Sales Tax Best

"Personally, I don't want to increase the normal rate on income taxes. The men and women earning from $4,000 to $6,000 are the backbone of the country, and in my judgment, they are paying enough."

"But there is pressure both for increased normal rates and for a general sales tax. The sales tax problem is complicated by the fact that many states recently have resorted to that source of revenue and if the federal government enacted a sales tax law we simply would be adding to the duplication which already exists between federal and state taxation."

"In my judgment, however, a sales tax would permit reduction in the income taxes."

AIR WEATHER TESTS FIRST MADE IN 1784

Observations During Early Balloon
Hops Foundation for Today's Service
By Science Service

CHICAGO, June 20.—Weather service for fliers, now one of the most actively pursued of the applied sciences, is no new thing under the sun. It had at least the germs of a beginning in the earliest balloon ascensions. Willis R. Gregg of the United States weather bureau told fellow meteorologists at a joint meeting with the American Physical Society here today.

In 1784, an American physician named Jeffries took meteorological observations during the course of a balloon ascension, and other observers, especially in France, soon followed his example.

Nearly three generations later, with a carefully planned series of observations made by a sergeant of the army signal corps during a balloon flight made especially for the purpose, the foundation was laid for the use of balloons, especially of small unmanned balloons carrying recording instruments.

Methodist Minister Is Dead

ELKHART, June 20.—The Rev. Charles E. White, 80, retired Methodist minister, died here today. He was a native of Crawfordville and a graduate of De Pauw university. He taught school at Edinburg before he entered the ministry at Elwood in 1880. Survivors include his widow and two daughters.

in Gas Blast

O. L. Bodenhamer

SHREVEPORT, La., June 20.—O. L. Bodenhamer, 41, former national commander of the American Legion, died Monday night of burns incurred in an explosion near Henderson, Tex., while he was inspecting an oil lease.

A match was struck to light a cigarette ignited accumulated gas in a ravine. Bodenhamer was a major of infantry in the World war. He was elected national commander of the legion in 1929.

He ran for United States senator in the last Arkansas primary, but was defeated by Mrs. Hattie Caraway.

DEATH ENDS CAREER OF FAMOUS CANTOR

American Synagog Tenor Is Taken in Jerusalem.

By United Press
JERUSALEM, June 20.—Joseph Rosenblatt, 51, famous American synagog cantor, died suddenly Monday. He was to have appeared in concert Thursday for the aid of starving Russian Jews.

Cantor Josef (Yossele) Rosenblatt was one of the world's most famous synagog singers. He had appeared in concert work all over the United States and Europe. He was gifted with a golden, vibrant tenor voice, which once was described by the late Enrico Caruso as "a voice of pure gold."

He was born in Biala-Clerkiew, Russia, in 1882, one of eleven children.

AUTOISTS IN PROTEST

Railroad Crossing "Terrible," Is Wall to Board of Works.

Improvement of the railroad crossing at Oriental street and Southeastern avenue was demanded today by a group of automobile drivers who told the works board conditions there are "terrible."

One motorist informed the board he narrowly escaped serious injury recently when the wheels of his car "dropped in a hole with a train approaching."

Ernest Frick, works board secretary, ordered A. H. Moore, city engineer, and Wilbur Winship, street commissioner, to inspect the crossing immediately and make any necessary repairs.
