

LID OF COFFIN FALLS; REIGN OF DRYS ENDS

Repeal Parley Delegates Go Through Motions of Burying Prohibition.

Legislative halls that once echoed to prohibition's victory pean heard its swan song Monday at the statehouse, when the Indiana constitutional convention went through the ceremonious formality of concurring in repeal of the eighteenth amendment.

Instead of the drys' jubilant shouts, there was a full-throated yell from 1,000 liberals as John W. Egge-man of Ft. Wayne, permanent president of the convention, announced the vote was as expected, 246 to 83 for ratification of the twenty-first amendment, which repeals the eighteenth.

There was another burst of applause when Egge-man announced: "I sign this enrolled resolution with the same pen which Governor McNutt used in signing repeal of the Wright bone dry law."

Aside from these demonstrations, a thunderous ovation given Egge-man when he took the chair, and some heckling of a dry delegate who insisted on being heard, the convention was a very commonplace affair.

Most of the interest attached to the convention was over the political footwork displayed by the Governor in the morning.

Oscar G. Foellinger, Republican publisher of Ft. Wayne, came to Indianapolis with a resolution demanding that the convention go on record for draught beer. So did Harold Van Orman, Evansville, former Lieutenant-Governor, and the Lake and Vigo county delegations.

The Governor doesn't care to hear any more about draught beer at present, and he could point out logically that draught beer has no place on the program of a constitutional convention.

McNutt had passed the word along that he wanted his friend, Thomas McCullough, Anderson newspaper executive, for convention president. The permanent organization committee listened and picked McCullough.

Repeal leaders wanted Egge-man, high ranking Democrat and veteran foe of prohibition, for the president honor. So the draught beer enthusiasts were called off and the committee went back into session and picked Egge-man for president.

McCullough and Henry W. Marshall, Republican publisher of Lafayette, were chosen vice-presidents, and Mrs. Meredith Nicholson Jr., Indianapolis, was made permanent secretary.

Most of the draught beer adherents were placated rapidly enough by the Egge-man victory, but Van Orman, always hard to down, threatened to the last to drag in draught beer by the ears.

SEEK SLAYERS IN LAKE AREA

Hunt Bank Cashier Killers in Northern Indiana Summer Resorts.

By United Press
LA CROSSE, Ind., June 27.—Terming the killing of William E. Tennell, 45, La Crosse bank cashier, "the most brutal murder ever committed in Indiana," state police today pushed forward a systematic search of northern Indiana lake resorts for the slayers.

Tennell was shot by two bandits who robbed cash drawers of the La Crosse State bank of approximately $500 after forcing Miss Lillian Youngreen, assistant cashier, to lie on the floor beside their victim's body.

"It surpasses any crime I have come in contact with in eleven years of police work," Captain Matt Leach of the state police said today.

"Tennell was raising his hands when he was shot down. He had explained that the vault was protected with a time lock and was standing there in compliance with the robbers' orders when one of them cut loose. There was no excuse for the shooting."

W. F. C. Golt, Noted City Banker, Dies at Hospital

Former Fletcher American Officer Passes After Brief Illness.

W. F. C. Golt

W. F. C. Golt, 80, one of the outstanding figures in Indianapolis banking circles and social life of former years, died Monday at the Methodist hospital, following a weeks illness. Mr. Golt had been a semi-invalid more than two years.

Private funeral services will be held at 10:30 Wednesday at the home, 5020 North Illinois street, with burial in Crown Hill cemetery.

Mrs. Golt died nine years ago. Survivors are a stepdaughter, Mrs. George Morris, and her three children, Margaret Morris, Walter Golt Morris, and Virginia Street Morris.

Mr. Golt was born in Smyrna, Pa., and came to Indianapolis shortly after he was graduated from Delaware university. At that time he was cashier of the old Columbia National bank. After leaving that position he became one of the vice-presidents of the Fletcher American bank, where he served for thirty years.

He was treasurer of the University Club twenty years, and was a member of the Columbia Club, Art Association, Chamber of Commerce, Board of Trade and Kiwanis clubs. He was one of the organizers of the old "Sixteen Cotillion" Club, one of the outstanding social organizations of the city's early days, and gained prominence as a leader of cotillions.

Shortly after his marriage he lived in the old Victoria apartments. Sixteen years ago he moved to 406 East Thirteenth street, where he lived until a year ago.

HOSPITAL-BORN BABIES FETED

Children Awarded Prizes at Methodist Institution Home-Coming.

More than 600 babies, born at Methodist hospital in the last year and a half, were guests of the hospital at the annual home-coming held Monday on the lawn of the nurses' home.

With judging based on photographs, prizes were awarded winners in various groups. Prize list was read by Mrs. Harry W. Krause, general home-coming chairman, as follows:

Babies 18 Months Old—James Thomas Black, Greenfield, and Barbara Jean Lamb, 2934 North Talbot street.

Six Months Old—John Miles Kellum, 420 North Oakland avenue.

Twins—Barbara Jean and Robert Louis Kempfner, 1022 St. Paul street, and Helen Barbara and Margaret Weaver, 2806 North Gale street.

Special Awards—Barbara Ann Lemar, 1308 East Ohio street, and Jackie Nolan Burnett, 3060 North Meridian street.

Musical program was presented by the Perry Stadium band, directed by Herman Rinne, and Mrs. Edgar Kiser, Mrs. Will Hitz and Mrs. Fred Appel.

In Sizzling Hot Weather It's a Comfort to Know that

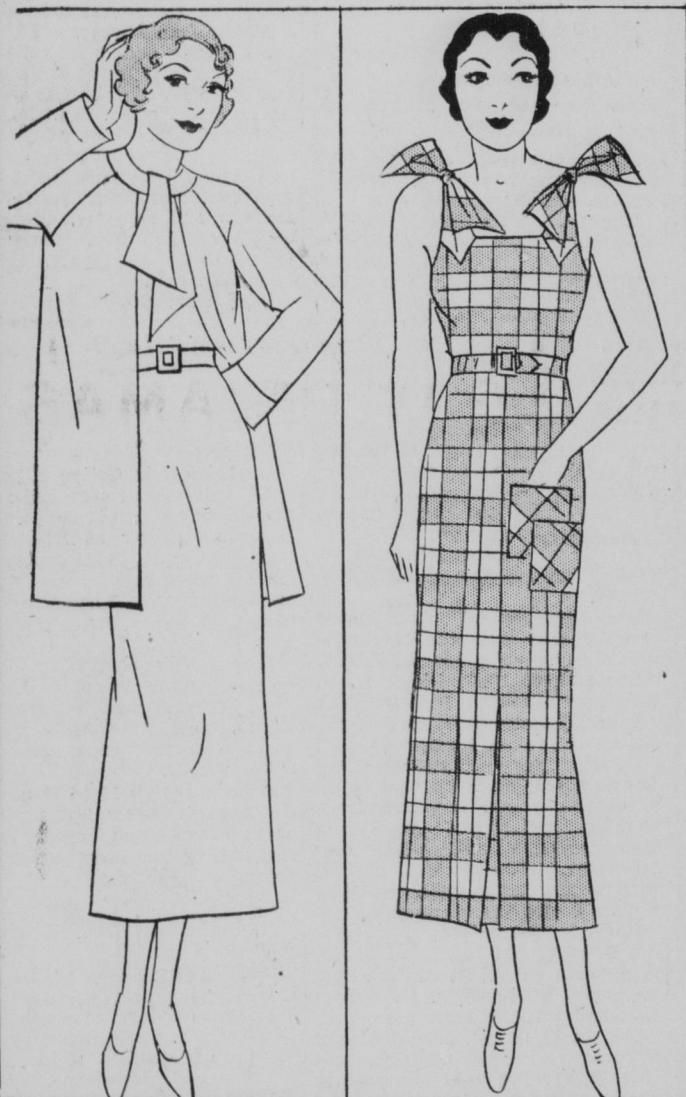

There Is ONE Store in Indianapolis Where You Can Shop in COOL Comfort

Downstairs at AYRES

to Ayres Downstairs Tomorrow for ...

An Exciting Special Selling of 500 BRAND NEW SUMMER FROCKS

Dozens of Dainty, Cool-Looking Fashions! Dependable Quality!

$2.00

- Plaid Gingham
- Striped Dimity
- Dotted Voile
- Figured Voile
- Flowered Voile
- Cool Seersucker
- White Broadcloth
- Eyelet Batiste
- New Knitted Twine
- Lacy Cotton Knit
- Cool White Pique
- Printed Rayon Crepe

The Weather Man, heartless wretch, will give no promise as to when we will be taken out of Summer's frying pan—in fact we may be dumped unceremoniously into the fire! But tomorrow Ayres' Downstairs offers definite relief! Perhaps the biggest assortment of the coolest cotton frocks in town is ready for your choosing. The baker's dozen pictured here gives but a brief idea of what you get for only TWO DOLLARS! Voile jacket frocks—cotton knitted swagger ensembles—plenty of suntan backs—tie shoulders—brief puff sleeves! Come early and stay a long while—you'll adore shopping in our delightful Frosted Air! SIZES FOR MISSES AND WOMEN.

Also 400 "Almost New" Frocks Reduced 1/3—to $2.00

—Downstairs at Ayres.

AYRES ★ DOWNSTAIRS ★ STORE