

HONOR GUESTS FOR STATE DAY AT FAIR NAMED

Program for 1:30-10 P. M.
Is Scheduled for July 13.

BY MRS. MAURICE MURPHY
Times Staff Writer

CHICAGO, July 5.—Governor and Mrs. Paul V. McNutt, Mrs. Franklin McKinley Hubbard, George Ade, Franklin Booth, John T. McCutcheon and Will Vawter will be honored guests at the evening reception at the Federal building and Indiana galleries from 8:30 to 10 p. m., July 13, at A Century of Progress here.

The state of Indiana and Tri Kappa sorority have issued invitations for the ceremonies. The following program will be carried out for Indiana day at A Century of Progress:

1:30 P. M.—Hoosier state luncheon at Blue Ribbon Casino.
2 to 4:20—Musical program at Court of States by school bands.
3:45—Parade to Court of States building.
4:20—Afternoon ceremonies at Court of States.
8:30 to 10—Evening reception at Federal building and Indiana galleries.

The following groups and persons will participate in the Indiana day music program: Elkhart high school band, John C. Cheney, director; Hammond high school band, W. H. Dierks, director; Hammond Tech band, N. W. Hovey, director; Butler high school band, Mrs. Lida M. Stage, director; Goshen high school band, Reginald Brinklow, director; Columbia City high school band, Lawrence Johnson, director; Frankfort high school orchestra, Marshall Hovenstein, director; Frankfort high school sextet; Hammond high school string ensemble; De Pauw university choir, Dean McCutcheon, director; Berne choir; Arthur Jordan conservatory, Max T. Krone, director; Donald Ratcliff, Crawfordsville, tenor soloist; Jenny Lind Choral Society, Whiting and Bloomington orchestra. Every effort is being made to have the Culver Military Academy band present.

It has been said by Century of Progress officials that no other state has prepared for its state day on as large a scale as has Indiana. Indiana is the first state to use the rostrum of the Federal building and the first state to make the request. Governor McNutt will speak from here.

Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Canine of Terre Haute have been recent visitors to the Indiana building in the Court of States. Byron K. Elliott was a visitor last week. ## HOLIDAY FIRES DAMAGE HOMES

Fireworks Result in Many
Blazes; Rural House Destroyed.

Indianapolis' July 4 celebration this year was a costly one, it was revealed today by fire department records which showed a 7 to 1 ratio increase over the 1932 holiday.

This year, there were twenty runs, one of which was a false alarm at the Sherman hotel, and seven were traceable directly to fireworks. Last year, there were only six runs made with one fireworks blaze in a north side drug store.

Most costly fire Tuesday night was of undetermined origin. It destroyed the home of Roscoe Johnson, R. R. 17, Box 60, near Kessler boulevard and Forty-fourth street, with $3,000 damage.

A pumper truck was sent from Indianapolis, but lack of a sufficient water supply hindered the firemen.

Approximately $1,000 damage was done by fireworks to the home of Francis Frazier, 2129 Shriver avenue, Tuesday, when a sky rocket alighted on the roof. The blaze communicated to the home of Katherine Long, 2125 Shriver avenue, damage $100, and the home of Ben Jameson, 2133 Shriver avenue, damage $50.

Fireworks caused minor damage at the homes of Dr. Byron Kilgore, 116 West Twenty-first street; Newton Thompson, 717 South Warman avenue; H. Sisler, 1796 Arrow avenue, and August Fisher, 632 Sanders street.

Gone, but Not Forgotten

Automobiles reported to police as stolen belong to:
John Cosette, 1122 Hull street, Indiana two-ton truck, from garage at 1122 Hull street.
L. Carson, Greenwood, Ind., Chevrolet coupe, from 125 South Meridian street, Meridian Sales Company, 80 North Meridian street, Chevrolet coach, from 820 North Meridian street.

Stolen automobiles recovered by police belong to:
Harry Barnette, 603 North Capitol avenue, Buick sedan, found at Capitol Avenue and North street.
C. E. Wilkinson, 708 Kahn building, Studebaker sedan, found at Stickney, Ill.
