

REPORTER DONS HELMET, WALKS UNDER WATER

Thrill Given in Journey on Bottom of Broad
Ripple Pool.

periences of his own, while on an expedition last winter in the Bahamas. Equipped with only a diving helmet and in his bathing trunks, he descended more than a hundred feet. The ocean fish darted about him, as he walked along, examining his surroundings for specimens for the museum he was assisting.

"Occasionally, a huge fish would come ripping through the water and look right into my eyes through the helmet," Montgomery said. "It was a queer feeling; I felt that I really should have said something apologetic for my intrusion."

Kick Isn't Difficult

The kick wasn't really so hard. Grasping a small floating board in my hands, and with my face under water, I followed Montgomery's instructions by kicking my feet and legs from my hips.

You mustn't bend your knees, Montgomery explains, that the principle of swimming is to move so that your body offers little resistance to the water. When the knees are bent in kicking, you just do a lot of work and don't get anywhere. And that wouldn't be much fun in this hot weather.

The course opens Monday for readers of The Times. Coupons published in The Times entitle beginners to six lessons in the Broad Ripple pool, under direction of Montgomery, who will be assisted by fourteen qualified instructors.

Certificates to Be Given

Certificates authorized by the Red Cross will be awarded swimmers who complete the course. Admission fee to the pool is to be paid; the lessons are free.

Classes will be held at three periods of the day during the course for adults and children. These will be at 9:30 in the morning, 3:30 in the afternoon and at 7:30 at night. Special diving instruction will be given by Arno Wade.

Chain Gang Abolished

INDEPENDENCE, Mo., July 7.—Jackson county (Kansas City), Mo., has abolished its chain gang to hold prisoners being used for outside labor.

WOMAN QUIZZED IN GEM HOLDUP IS FREE

$500 Bond Is Made by Mrs. Koby,
Held Since July 5.

Mrs. Virginia Koby, 30, of 1701 North Illinois street, is at liberty on $500 bond on a vagrancy charge with her case continued in municipal court four until Tuesday. She was arrested July 5 by detectives in connection with an investigation of a $1,200 diamond holdup June 27 south of Indianapolis.

Mrs. Goldie Fohl, 3653 Boulevard place, and three companions were returning from a bridge party when bandits overhauled them and took two diamond rings from Mrs. Fohl.

TRESTLE FALLS WITH FREIGHT; 2 ARE KILLED

Two Others Are Injured
When Speeding Train
Is Wrecked.

By United Press
TRINIDAD, Tex., July 7.—A speeding Cotton Belt freight train from St. Louis crashed through a trestle and fifteen cars plunged into a creek a mile east of here today killing two men and injuring two others. Approximately forty men were riding the freight. The dead were Lee Hamilton, 20, of Payne Springs, Tex., and Jim Merrell of Corsicana, Tex. Jack Hamilton, a cousin of young Hamilton, and L. L. Whittick of Springfield, Mo., were injured painfully. Neither was expected to succumb, however.

WEAPONS USED BY STONE AGE MAN EXCAVATED

Data on Dwellers in Rhine Valley Is Aim of Search.

By Science Service
BERLIN, July 7.—Lions were among the beasts at which hunters of the Old Stone Age in Germany cast their spears. Evidence to this effect, in the shape of a fine skull of a lion, has been found at what seems to have been a hunting-place of Ice Age date near Walheim in the Rhine region. The discoverer, Professor Otto Schmidt, director of the Mainz museum of natural history, and Dr. Wilhelm Wagner of the Darmstadt Geological Institute, have been conducting a systematic search for evidences of paleolithic populations in the Rhineland. The hunting-place where the lion skull was found seems to have been a water-hole where the animals came to drink, and where consequently their shaggy hunters could lurk among the bushes with fair hopes of spearing a dinner. Tools of both stone and bone were discovered here, the latter a great rarity among Old Stone Age artifacts.
