

FIX LAST RITES FOR WIDOW OF CITY FINANCIER

Mrs. James E. Roberts to Be Laid to Resting Spot on Wednesday.

Following an illness of a few days, Mrs. Henrietta West Roberts, widow of James E. Roberts, both of whom were widely known in Indianapolis and elsewhere in the state for their contributions to philanthropic movements, died Monday in her apartment at 1321 North Meridian street.

Funeral services will be held at 3:30 Wednesday in the home. Burial will be in Crown Hill cemetery.

Mrs. Roberts was born in Valley Forge, Pa. She had been a resident of Indianapolis thirty-six years. Her father, John G. West, was one of the most famous mechanical engineers of his time. He was the builder of the world's largest pumping engine, propelled by steam.

She married Mr. Roberts in 1905, and together they carried on an interest in various enterprises, both civic and benevolent, until his death. He left a fund which provided for many institutions, all under the direction of the Indianapolis Foundation.

Mrs. Roberts, following his death, maintained an active interest in all the endeavors they had carried on together. She was a member of the Propylaeum, Woodstock Country Club and Civic theater of Indianapolis.

John E. Morrison Taken
Funeral services for John E. Morrison, 54, former president of the Indiana Title Men's Association, were to be held at 2 today in the J. C. Wilson funeral home, 1230 Prospect street. Burial will be in Crown Hill cemetery.

Mr. Morrison who was widely known in real estate circles throughout the state, died Sunday in his home, 5137 Ralston avenue. He was affiliated with the Boyes Seal-Fast Company at the time of his death.

Only survivor is the widow, Mrs. Ethel Morrison. Mr. Morrison was a member of the Masonic order. He had been a resident of Indianapolis twenty years.

Mary A. Steffen Dead
Death came Monday to Miss Mary A. Steffen, 60, daughter of the late Andrew Steffen, pioneer cigar manufacturer of this city, at the home of her brother, Elmer A. Steffen, 3122 Sutherland avenue.

Funeral services will be held at 8:30 Wednesday at the home, and at 9 in the St. Peter and Paul cathedral. Burial will be in Holy Cross cemetery.

Surviving are another brother, Charles Steffen; a sister, Mrs. Carrie B. Rink, and five nieces and nephews.

Kiefer Rites Arranged
Last rites for Charles J. Kiefer, 77, former jeweler and clockmaker, who died June 30, in Lakeland, Fla., after a brief illness, will be conducted by members of Oriental lodge, No. 55, F. and A. M., at 2 today at the grave in Crown Hill cemetery.

Mr. Kiefer was born in Miami, O., and came to Indianapolis at an early age. He was trained in the jewelry and clock-making business, and a firm founded by his father was continued by him and an older brother, Louis A. Kiefer, more than sixty years, until the brothers' retirement a few years ago, when both went to Florida to live.

Surviving Mr. Kiefer is the brother, and a niece, Miss Ruth Patterson, 717 North Alabama street.

Aged City Woman Claimed
Funeral services for Mrs. Madeira Weaver, 72, widow of Samuel P. Weaver, will be held at 2:30 Wednesday in the Dayton Presbyterian church at Dayton, Ind. Burial will be in Dayton cemetery. Friends may view the body today at Shirley Brothers central chapel, 946 North Illinois street.

Noted Swimmer Confides She'll Be Crooner's Wife

Art Jarrett

Eleanor Holm to Be Bride of Art Jarrett, of Radio Fame.

By Times Special
NEW YORK, July 11.—A former choir boy, turned radio crooner, and a former swimming queen, who has transferred part of her affections to the stage, will march to the altar late next month, unless late interventions in the meantime.

It's apparently all settled that Eleanor Holm, 19, famed for her swimming prowess and her stage ability, will become the bride of Art Jarrett, once a church singer and now a candidate for the throne shared by Bing Crosby and Russ Columbo.

Eleanor confided today that she and Art had been very much in each other's company for the last three months in Hollywood and that they finally had decided to make it permanent. Jarrett, late last year, was reported to be engaged to Gilda Gray. It was said that he tried to get a marriage license in Boston, but that Gilda was nowhere in the vicinity when the time came for the rites.

Good Talent Found for City's 'Follies of 1933'

Director Creager Pleased With Showing at First Rehearsal.

"I am very much pleased with the type of applicants who are trying out for the Indianapolis Follies of 1933," Jeff Creager, Broadway director, declared at the conclusion of the first rehearsal Monday night at the Severin hotel ballroom.

"Usually in other cities, on first nights, the young men and women applicants hang back. Either through bashfulness or a desire to have some one else start things, they wait until rehearsals have proceeded several nights before applying," Creager said. "Here we had a large crowd of applicants, willing and anxious for tryouts. The talent they displayed is very satisfactory. Of course, after the first gets more acquainted with their parts, rehearsals will be much easier."

The male applicants for the "Follies" tried out first and a number of pleasing tenors, bass and baritone voices were discovered for the "Follies."

Male talent seems to exceed that of the other sex, consequently Creager has expressed a desire that more girls with ability to sing and dance apply. "If you can walk, I'll teach you to dance," he said. "So don't be bashful. Just come on down to the rehearsal hall in the Severin hotel ballroom and tell the director you want a part in the show. Rehearsal time is 7 o'clock."

Several announcements will be made by Creager regarding his more talented applicants. He also has issued an invitation for girl applicants to bring their mothers or sisters to rehearsals as chaperons. The "Indianapolis Follies of 1933" opens a three-day engagement at the Granada theater, starting Sunday, July 16, matinee and night. On the screen with the "Follies" is the Paramount thriller, "The Eagle and the Hawk," starring Fredric March, Cary Grant and Jack Oakie. There will be no advance in prices for this double stage and screen show.

VICTIM, 14, FOILS BIG, BAD BANDIT, 13

Knife Wielding Negro Boy Is Held by Police.

A 13-year-old Negro is in the Marion county juvenile detention home today because he picked out a 14-year-old hold-up victim who wasn't afraid of a vegetable knife held at his throat.

The knife wielder stationed himself at a newspaper substation at Fifteenth street and Capitol avenue and as newsboys returned with their receipts, he demanded, "Your money or your life."

William Chapman, 10, Negro, 541½ West Fifteenth street, looked at the blade at his throat and gave up 2 cents.

However, Edward Phillips, 14, Negro, of 524 West Twelfth street, decided 15 cents was too much to surrender, and grabbed at the knife. His assailant missed with a knife thrust and they grappled.

Edward got hold of the robber's shirt and yelled lustily. As help arrived, his assailant fled. Police picked up a shirtless, knife-bearing Negro lad a few minutes later and took him to the detention home.

3.2 DRINKING NO DEFENSE IN ACCIDENT CASE

Woman, 'Learning to Drive Again,' Is Fined for Drunkenness.

Three bottles of 3.2 beer and a plea that she was "brushing up" on driving an automobile, failed as defense today for Mrs. Lillian Rose, 40, who gave police two addresses, 19 South Hawthorne lane and 3953 English avenue.

She was convicted on a drunken driving charge by Municipal Judge Dewey E. Meyers, fined $25 and costs and given a sixty-day term, the latter suspended. On a drunkenness conviction, she was fined $25.

James Crogan, 57, of the English avenue address, who was with Mrs. Rose on June 23 when an automobile they occupied struck two other cars, was fined $25 and costs and a thirty-day term was suspended.

After the car twice struck the automobile of Raymond C. Davis, 2438 East Washington street, Crogan took the wheel from Mrs. Rose.

The other car struck was that of Henry V. Jackson, 44, of 811 North Jefferson avenue, a mute since he was 2. His testimony was given with the aid of a sign language interpreter.

"I won't drive any more," Mrs. Rose declared after sentence was imposed.

"I'm sure you won't," the court said. "Give me your driver's license." Crogan's driving license also was revoked.

Mrs. Rose said she had not driven a car since February, until the date of the accident, and was "learning to drive again."

Works Board Rescinds Resolution for Sidewalk Improvement.

Indications that four contractors bidding on a new sidewalk on East Michigan street from Highland avenue to Pogue's Run bridge had entered into an agreement caused the board of works Monday to rescind a resolution for the improvement.

The board advertised and received bids four separate times, and each time indications of collusion were apparent, charged E. Kirk McKinney, board president.

FOUR HORSES PERISH IN BLAZE AT FARM

$8,000 Damage Estimated; Thousands See Flames.

Fire which destroyed a two-story frame barn on the farm of T. S. Askren, R. 11, about a mile and a half east of Emerson avenue on Twenty-first street, Monday night, resulted in the death of four horses and several litters of pigs.

Lack of water hampered the work of firemen and a pumper and crew of the Indianapolis fire department were forced to stand idly by while the flames did damage estimated at more than $8,000. Firemen damped walls of nearby buildings to prevent spread of the fire.
